LONDON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The British admiralty tonight pressed convoys for merchant shipping into service after it was authoritatively disclosed that enemy craft have sunk 21 British ships, involving a tonnage of 122,843, during the first two weeks of the war.

The use of convoys was not instituted by the British in the last war until 1917.

While swift cruisers and racing destroyers roved and struck on the shipping lanes, planes of the royal aircraft patrolled the skies around the United Kingdom in redoubled efforts to halt the persistent shipping losses due to U-boats or mines.

Despite the casualties naval quarters expressed optimism about the situation at sea.

Increasing patrol activity and the admiralty's cautious announcement that a number of U-boats have been destroyed was taken by naval authorities to tell a story of far greater successes than the guarded statement indicated.

Britain placed responsibility on Germany for the sinking of the 8,000-ton Belgian motorship Alex Van Opstal last night in the channel off Weymouth, charging she was sunk by mine [illegible] international law.

(In Brussels Belgian authorities refrained from lodging a protest pending a report from the master of the vessel as to whether she was sunk by torpedo or mine.)

A British communique said there were no British mines in the neighborhood that Germany had sent no notification of German mines there.

FORMER KAISER'S GRANDSON KILLED

Prince Oskar, Jr., Of Prussia Falls Honorably In German-Polish War

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—(AP)—A grandson of former Kaiser Wilhelm—Prince Oskar, Jr. of Prussia—was listed today as "killed in action," the first Hohenzollern victim of the German-Polish war.

The family received word yesterday that Oskar fell honorably "somewhere in Poland" while leading an attack by his company. A lieutenant, Oskar was 24 years old. He was a member of the 51st infantry regiment.

Oskar's mother, the former Countess Ina Bassewitz, is seriously ill in a hospital in Mecklenburg.

His father, Prince Oskar, the fifth son of the former kaiser, is in charge of a reserve regiment with the rank of colonel.

The young prince's brother, Prince Burchard, is a member of the ninth infantry regiment, also on the Polish front.

A Hohenzollern spokesman said eight princes of the family were in active service, but declined to give their names or locations.

From reliable sources, however, it was learned that the eight were: One son of the kaiser—Oskar, and seven grandsons. Of the latter, three are sons of former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm, one a son of Prince Adalbert, one of the late Prince Joachim, and the two sons of Oskar.

Of the former crown prince's sons, all three of whom are lieutenants, Wilhelm is on the Polish front with the first infantry regiment, Louis Ferdinand is with the Hindenburg bombing squadron, and Hubertus is

MESSER CONVICTED IN MURDER CASE

VILLE PLATTE, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Theophilius Messer, 58, Meridian, La., was convicted of murder today in the shotgun slaying of Leroy Barmore, lumber company foreman, who officials said was the innocent victim of a "grudge" dating back 28 years.

For more than a quarter of a century, officials contended, Messer had been in litigation with the Crowell Spencer Lumber company over tracts of land he claimed.

Barmore, according to District Attorney E. H. Guillory, was shot twice in the back while on land Messer claimed.

Collection Teller At Central Bank Charged With Taking $15,000

W. W. "Red" Washburn, collection teller at the Central Savings Bank and Trust company, yesterday was in the Ouachita parish jail on a charge of embezzling $15,000 of the bank's funds.

Washburn's bond was set at $5,000 but Sheriff Milton Coverdale said late yesterday afternoon that he had made no attempt to make bail.

Travis Oliver, president of the bank, said the loss was fully insured.

"A bond of more than three times the amount involved covered the loss," Mr. Oliver said, "and the bank will suffer no loss whatever."

Washburn, according to the warrant, started his alleged embezzlement on July 1, 1938, and he continued to misappropriate bank funds until September [illegible], 1939. The warrant charges he took approximately $15,000, but informed sources said yesterday that the amount may be more than that.

Washburn had been employed at the Central bank for 13 years and was considered a most trusted employe, it was said. He formerly was a bookkeeper at the bank but was promoted to his present position about three years ago.

It was said that the shortage was discovered after a check of Washburn's department and that he was confronted with the evidence Friday afternoon. Washburn then went to his home, where he was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Frank Cline and Clyde Mitchell late Friday.

Mr. Oliver said Washburn apparently had delayed remitting for large drafts collected by him until other drafts of similar size had been collected later, and then remittance for funds he had misused were made, and remittance for drafts he had used for "cover-up" purposes in turn was delayed.

Washburn is married but has no children. His wife has been ill in a sanatorium for the past three years.

C. ALSTON PROPHIT HEADS CHEST DRIVE

Announcement was made yesterday by the Twin City Community Chest that C. Alston Prophit, district manager here of United Gas corporation, had been elected general director of the agency's financial campaign, which is scheduled to start about the middle of October.

Mr. Prophit, since accepting the appointment, has been giving considerable time to formulating plans for the approaching Community Chest campaign, the second for Monroe and West Monroe. He hopes to make it a greater success than the first, which far exceeded expectations.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Community Chest, scheduled for 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, will be devoted to outlining plans for the campaign.

The board is composed of A. B. Clarkson, president; Mr. Prophit, vice-president; Dean Selig, treasurer; H. G. Frazer, W. R. Hatchell, J. L. Ewing, L. P. Landry, Bob Burns, R. C. Stokes, E. H. Miller, H. A. McDonald, Joe Marx, Sr., Mrs. W. L. Traver, Mrs. J. B. Kugler and Rev. W. C. Scott.

RUSSIA PLEASED AT NEW POSITION

Thinks Both Frontiers Safe After Agreements With Japan And Germany

MOSCOW, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Soviet Russia, having made "peace" first with Germany and then Japan, cautiously watched the war in Europe tonight convinced that her position strategically was greatly improved.

The Russian-Japanese armistice pact that called for the end today to four months of intermittent battling along the disputed 1,000-mile frontier between Soviet Outer Mongolia and Japanese-dominated Manchukuo was viewed in Soviet circles as making both the Soviet frontiers safe.

Failure of Japanese Ambassador Shigenori Togo to make an expected call today on Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff was taken to indicate all details for the cessation of hostilities had been worked out.

Diplomatic sources speculated whether the next step would be a Russian-Japanese nonaggression pact like the one Russia and Germany signed August 24.

Some observers in Moscow said such a pact would be a blow to the British position in eastern Asia and possibly to the interests there of the United States.

(Opinion was expressed in London that whatever Russia's intentions, she had freed her hand in the east to take a more dominant position in Europe's troubled affairs. There was no comment from British government circles.)

Soviet sources did not expect action on a possible pact at once. It was pointed out several points remained to be settled—including disputes over fishing rights in eastern waters and Soviet aid to China.

There was the feeling, however, that

Mrs. Ruby B. Pearce, registrar, said 2,013 students entered the fall semester, an increase of 229 over last fall.

This year's number includes 1,113 men and 900 women. The following figures show the school's enrollment growth:

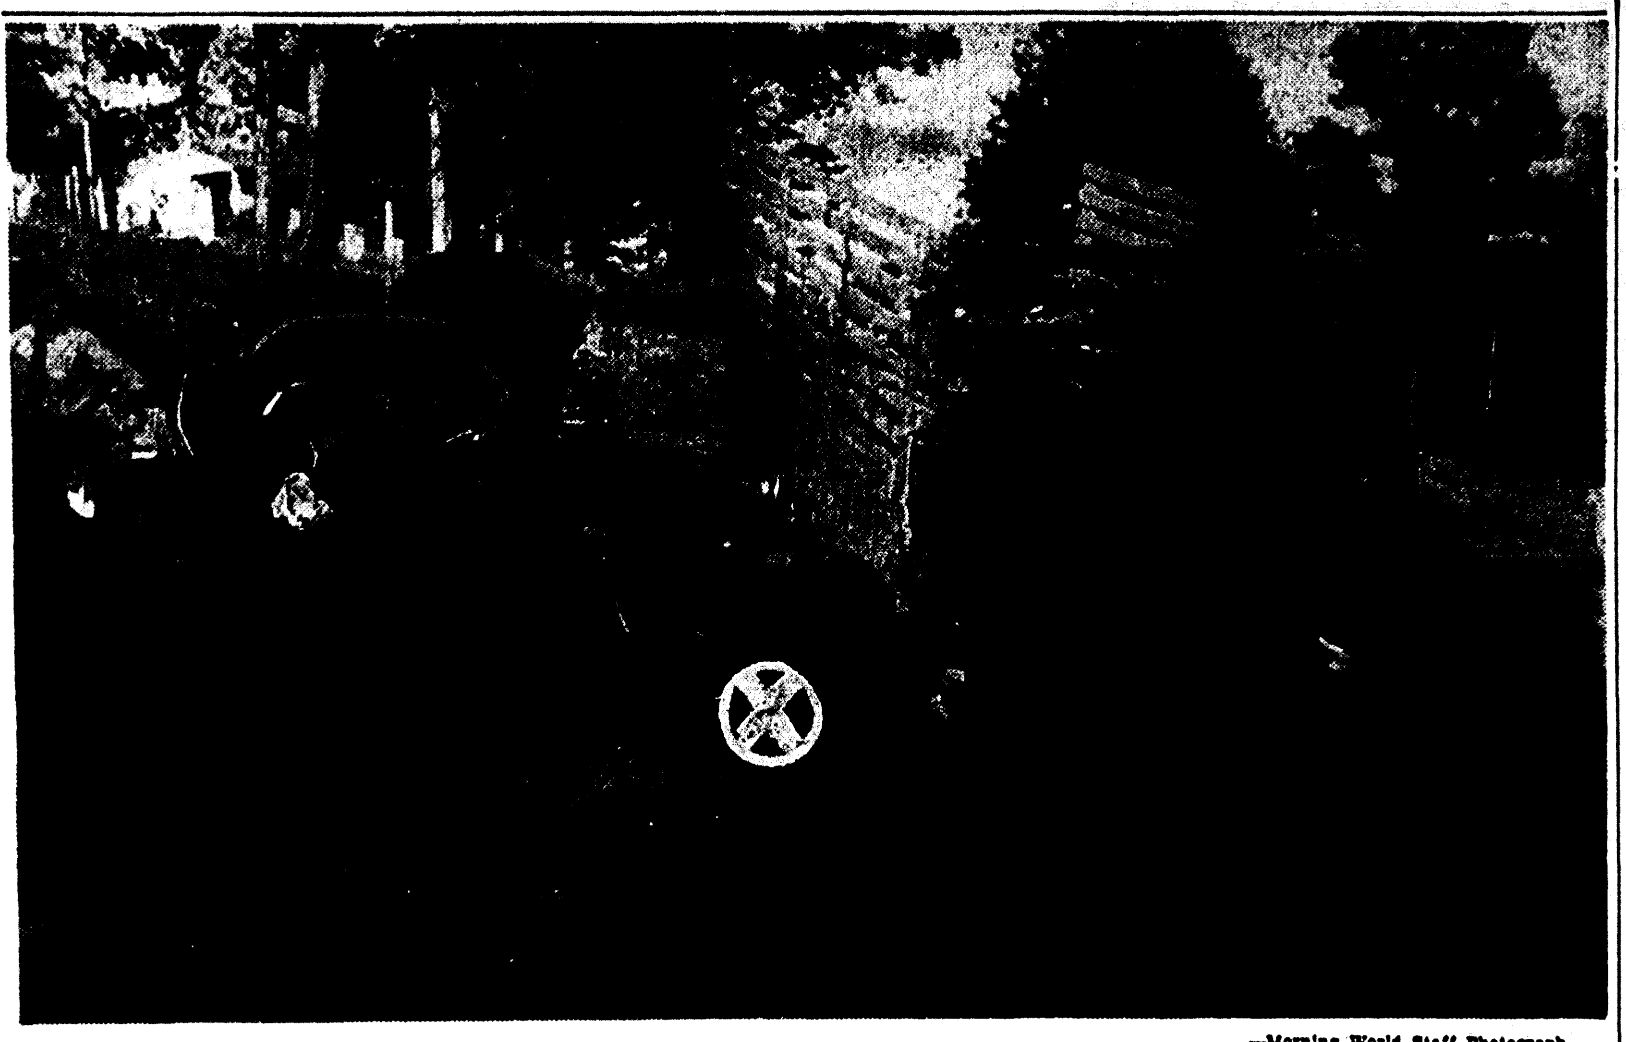
WHERE BASTROP MAN MET INSTANT DEATH IN TERRIFIC CRASH



—Morning World Staff Photograph

The terrific force with which an automobile and a truck crashed on the Monroe-Calhoun highway yesterday afternoon is clearly shown in this picture. The body of Don Evans, of Bastrop, the only fatality of the accident, was hurled from the coupe to a point between the two machines indicated by the "X." Both the truck and the car are headed south. The coupe was traveling toward Monroe while the truck was going toward Calhoun. Hundreds of persons gathered at the scene soon after the accident, and State Highway Officer Roy Byrd had considerable difficulty in keeping traffic moving safely.

POLISH HEADS ON RUMANIAN BORDER

Authorities Announce Contact Re-Established With Beleaguered Armies

CERNAUTI, Rumania, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Polish authorities declared tonight contact had been re-established among their different beleaguered armies, fighting against Germany on widely separated fronts.

The Poles said their government, now across the border from this frontier city in the little town of Zaleszczyski, was being informed again of the armies' defense efforts in the various war zones. However, reports from the front were becoming increasingly infrequent here and no complete picture of the war's progress was available.

Hotel accommodations in Cernauti were at a premium as 37 foreign missions struggled to establish some sort of temporary headquarters while seeking to maintain contact with the Polish government.

United States Ambassador Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., has established himself here after a hazardous trek with his wife and staff from Warsaw. He returned to Poland by car today to make a fresh survey of the situation.

The refugee diplomats received a report that Zaleszczyki, where they made their last stand on the Polish side of the Rumanian border, was bombed today at 7:30 a. m. (12:30 a. m., central standard time). No details of the casualties or damage were given.

It was reported French Ambassador Leon Noel conferred in Poland with Polish Foreign Minister Josef Beck, at a point not far from the Rumanian frontier.

6,077 STUDENTS ENROLL AT L. S. U.

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—A total of 6,077 students had registered at Louisiana State university at the close of the first week's registration tonight, it was announced by Ms. W. H. Gates, registrar. This is an increase of about 100 over enrollment at the corresponding time last year.

Classes are to begin Monday morning and a registration fee becomes effective that day. Final date for registration for credit is October 7.

The increase in enrollment bears out the statement made some weeks ago by university authorities that there would be a normal increase in enrollment at the university this year.

Last year's aggregate enrollment for the first semester was 8,077, apportioned as follows: Main campus in Baton Rouge, 7,135; medical center, New Orleans, 396; Northeast Junior college, Monroe, 423; school of nursing education, Charity hospital, New Orleans, 93. The Lake Charles Junior college, established a little more than a year ago, is in operation this year for the first time.

Enrollment figures for the other three centers had not been reported to the university tonight.

HARVEY FIELDS' SON IS CHARGED

U. S. Attorney Says Old Count Revived Following Threats Against Him

MINDEN, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—United States District Attorney Harvey G. Fields, in a statement today said his son, Harvey G. Fields, Jr., had surrendered to the Webster parish sheriff on a revived charge of criminal attack involving an 18-year-old girl last November.

Fields said the charge, which his son denied, was withdrawn and then revived after he had been warned through a friend in New Orleans August 27 that the charge would be pressed unless he "slowed up in some of his official acts."

"Three days after this," Fields' statement said, "the affidavit was filed and the boy delivered himself to Sheriff Haynes on learning the affidavit had been filed."

Fields charged that "a certain angle" in this case grew out of the Fifth congressional district contest" and charged a plot to kidnap him and keep him from voting as chairman of the Fifth District Democratic committee in an election contest but he said the alleged plot was frustrated.

Fields declared that he had ignored "scurrilous and slanderous circulars" and that "we have been continuously hounded but I shall continually do my duty regardless of what happens."

The criminal assault charge was filed by Herman Jones of Shreveport, an uncle of the alleged victim. District Attorney F. Kennon said the parish grand jury which meets Monday would consider the case with its docket. Young Fields is in jail at Minden.

Jones stated that his niece, who is also a niece of Louis Jones, warden of the Louisiana penitentiary, was ex-

AUTO CRASH FATAL TO ORLEANS WOMAN

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Miss Louise E. Wood, 40, New Orleans, was killed and three other persons were injured today in an automobile-truck collision four miles north of Purvis.

Injured were Mrs. Alice T. Wood, 72, mother of Miss Wood, fractured leg; Herbert Bolin, Purvis, broken arm, and Morris Jones, Purvis, body lacerations.

State Patrolman J. Leon Fuller said a front tire on the car driven by Miss Wood apparently had blown out, sending the machine into the approaching truck driven by Bolin.

Mrs. Wood, brought to the Methodist hospital here, said she and her daughter had purchased the automobile this week and were en route to Chicago when the accident occurred.

Car Carrying Three Bastrop Men Collides With Truck Driven By Negro

One man was instantly killed and three others were seriously injured in a crash between an automobile and a truck seven miles west of here on the Dixie Overland highway shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A. D. (Don) Evans, about 30, of Bastrop, was killed and two companions, Woodrow Wilson Brewer, about 26, and Homer Hughes, 36, both of Bastrop, were in a critical condition at Riverside sanitarium here last night.

Arnold Williams, 23-year-old Minden negro, driver of the truck, suffered internal injuries. He was a patient at St. Francis sanitarium here.

Evans, who was believed to have been driving the coupe, died instantly of a crushed head, chest and abdomen, Dr. Irving J. Wolff, parish coroner, stated.

Brewer suffered a fractured jaw, concussion of the brain and general

AIR STUDENTS TO REGISTER MONDAY

Application Blanks May Be Had From Northeast College Dean

Registration of aviation students under the nation-wide program of the Civil Aeronautics authority for the training of pilots will start at Northeast Junior college of L. S. U. tomorrow morning, Dr. C. C. Colvert, dean of the school, announced yesterday.

Dean Colvert said that application blanks would be available at his office. Applicants must have passed their 18th birthday and not yet have reached their 25th.

Being a registered student at Northeast Junior college is not necessarily a prerequisite for participation in the training, the dean said. He announced that $40 would be the fee charged for the training.

Dean Colvert expected to know tomorrow the number of students the college would be permitted to register. He said he had informed the CAA it could handle between 20 and 40.

He had not yet received authority from Louisiana State university yesterday to offer the training, Dean Colvert revealed, but he anticipated receiving permission to do so by tomorrow.

BOAT WARNING ISSUED

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The United States weather bureau office here issued a small craft warning for the Texas coast, effective at daybreak. The advisory, timed 8:30 p.m., said a squally condition about 200-250 miles off the Texas coast and moving eastward would cause fresh east and northeast winds and thundersqualls late tonight and Sunday.

MELTON CLAIMS NOE PAID BRIBES

Former Conservation Agent Replies To Charge Of 'Shakedowns'

In a signed statement in reply to Senator James A. Noe's charge that his payments to him and to Doug Dark were "shakedowns," Lee J. Melton, recently indicted with Dark for accepting bribes in connection with gas field violations, reiterated that Noe's company paid them bribes.

In his statement, Melton cites several wells where violations were reported and concerning which, he claims, Noe's company paid the former conservation agents to "overlook" violations.

Melton's statement is as follows:

"In Senator Noe's statement appearing in all the newspapers on September 10, he again reminds the people that he was in the last World war. Everybody knows he was there because he has told them so on many other occasions. Everybody knows that he is not afraid of anything because he has told them that also on many other occasions.

"As one veteran to another, Jimmy, you know a good soldier does not shout from every political platform and advertise in the papers that he was in the war. He lets people who want to know that find it out from other sources.

"It is quite evident that Senator Noe learned one thing in the war and that was how to throw out a smoke screen, because in his statement of last Sunday he avoids the main issue when he refers only to the acidizing of his wells. He does not mention anything about using only two strings of casing in his wells or the pulling of gas without it being properly metered.

"The main issue is not who was or was not in the last World war, but whether or not Jimmy was on the

MORE INDICTMENTS MAY COME MONDAY

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—A possibility that more federal indictments will be returned here Monday was reported in federal court circles today as members of the district attorney's office spent hours preparing documents.

The federal grand jury Friday heard reports of government investigators assigned to various phases of the state inquiries, but there was no hint of the nature of the indictments under consideration.

Assistant Attorney General O. John Rogge, who is in Galveston visiting his family, was expected to return tonight and resume charge of the investigations until Wednesday, when he will go to Washington for a short business trip.

Only other major federal court activity scheduled for next week is the three-judge hearing Monday in which George E. Lilly, Texas oil man, is attacking constitutionality of certain proration orders issued by the state department of conservation for the Eola field, under which Lilly claims he was subjected to discrimination.

The first general battle of the western front—described as "the battle of the Saar"—developed yesterday between hundreds of thousands of French and German troops.

The French general staff reported the Germans were driven to retreat and stated they were destroying villages behind them.

"Heavy activity" of both artilleries was reported along the entire front, which extended 40 miles southeastward from the Moselle valley to Saarbruecken.

Military experts estimated that 18 German divisions, or from 150,000 to 225,000 men, were opposing an equal or larger number of Frenchmen.

As the battle progressed, the French said, the Germans "constantly" brought up reinforcements.

Swiss advices said the German high command, abruptly changing its defense tactics, had launched a series of violent attacks in four main sectors of the western front.

On the eastern front the German army gave the Warsaw populace 12 hours to leave the city under threat of bombardment at an ultimatum expiration, believed to be 2 a.m. Sunday, or 8 p.m. Saturday, central standard time.

MOSCOW, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Soviet Russia, having made "peace" first with Germany and then Japan, cautiously watched the war in Europe tonight convinced that her position strategically was greatly improved.

The Russian-Japanese armistice pact that called for the end today to four months of intermittent battling along the disputed 1,000-mile frontier between Soviet Outer Mongolia and Japanese-dominated Manchoukuo was viewed in Soviet circles as making both the Soviet frontiers safe.

Failure of Japanese Ambassador Shigenori Togo to make an expected call today on Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff was taken to indicate all details for the cessation of hostilities had been worked out.

Diplomatic sources speculated whether the next step would be a Russian-Japanese nonaggression pact like the one Russia and Germany signed August 24.

Some observers in Moscow said such a pact would be a blow to the British position in eastern Asia and possibly to the interests there of the United States.

(Opinion was expressed in London that whatever Russia's intentions, she had freed her hand in the east to take a more dominant position in Europe's troubled affairs. There was no comment from British government circles.)

Soviet sources did not expect action on a possible pact at once. It was pointed out several points remained to be settled—including disputes over fishing rights in eastern waters and Soviet aid to China.

There was the feeling, however, that

RUSTON, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Louisiana Tech officials reported today the enrollment of resident students at the college had exceeded 2,000 for the first time.

Mrs. Ruby B. Pearce, registrar, said 2,013 students entered the fall semester, an increase of 229 over last fall.

This year's number includes 1,113 men and 900 women. The following figures show the school's enrollment growth:

WHERE BASTROP MAN MET INSTANT DEATH IN TERRIFIC CRASH

—Morning World Staff Photograph

The terrific force with which an automobile and a truck crashed on the Monroe-Calhoun highway yesterday afternoon is clearly shown in this picture. The body of Don Evans, of Bastrop, the only fatality of the accident, was hurled from the coupe to a point between the two machines indicated by the "X." Both the truck and the car are headed south. The coupe was traveling toward Monroe while the truck was going toward Calhoun. Hundreds of persons gathered at the scene soon after the accident, and State Highway Officer Roy Byrd had considerable difficulty in keeping traffic moving safeiy.

POLISH HEADS ON RUMANIAN BORDER

Authorities Announce Contact Re-Established With Beleaguered Armies

CERNAUTI, Rumania, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Polish authorities declared tonight contact had been re-established among their different beleaguered armies, fighting against Germany on widely separated fronts.

The Poles said their government, now across the border from this frontier city in the little town of Zaleszczyski, was being informed again of the armies' defense efforts in the various war zones. However, reports from the front were becoming increasingly infrequent here and no complete picture of the war's progress was available.

Hotel accommodations in Cernauti were at a premium as 37 foreign missions struggled to establish some sort of temporary headquarters while seeking to maintain contact with the Polish government.

United States Ambassador Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., has established himself here after a hazardous trek with his wife and staff from Warsaw. He returned to Poland by car today to make a fresh survey of the situation.

The refugee diplomats received a report that Zaleszczyki, where they made their last stand on the Polish side of the Rumanian border, was bombed today at 7:30 a. m. (12:30 a. m., central standard time). No details of the casualties or damage were given.

It was reported French Ambassador Leon Noel conferred in Poland with Polish Foreign Minister Josef Beck, at a point not far from the Rumanian frontier.

Beck's wife and children, who

6,077 STUDENTS ENROLL AT L. S. U.

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—A total of 6,077 students had registered at Louisiana State university at the close of the first week's registration tonight, it was announced by Ms. W. H. Gates, registrar. This is an increase of about 100 over enrollment at the corresponding time last year.

Classes are to begin Monday morning and a registration fee becomes effective that day. Final date for registration for credit is October 7.

The increase in enrollment bears out the statement made some weeks ago by university authorities that there would be a normal increase in enrollment at the university this year.

Last year's aggregate enrollment for the first semester was 8,077, apportioned as follows: Main campus in Baton Rouge, 7,135; medical center, New Orleans, 396; Northeast Junior college, Monroe, 423; school of nursing education, Charity hospital, New Orleans, 93. The Lake Charles Junior college, established a little more than a year ago, is in operation this year for the first time.

Enrollment figures for the other three centers had not been reported to the university tonight.

U. S. Attorney Says Old Count Revived Following Threats Against Him

MINDEN, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—United States District Attorney Harvey G. Fields, in a statement today said his son, Harvey G. Fields, Jr., had surrendered to the Webster parish sheriff on a revived charge of criminal attack involving an 18-year-old girl last November.

Fields said the charge, which his son denied, was withdrawn and then revived after he had been warned through a friend in New Orleans August 27 that the charge would be pressed unless he "slowed up in some of his official acts."

"Three days after this," Fields' statement said, "the affidavit was filed and the boy delivered himself to Sheriff Haynes on learning the affidavit had been filed."

Fields charged that "a certain angle" in this case grew out of the Fifth congressional district contest" and charged a plot to kidnap him and keep him from voting as chairman of the Fifth District Democratic committee in an election contest but he said the alleged plot was frustrated.

Fields declared that he had ignored "scurrilous and slanderous circulars" and that "we have been continuously hounded but I shall continually do my duty regardless of what happens."

The criminal assault charge was filed by Herman Jones of Shreveport, an uncle of the alleged victim. District Attorney F. Kennon said the parish grand jury which meets Monday would consider the case with its docket. Young Fields is in jail at Minden.

Jones stated that his niece, who is also a niece of Louis Jones, warden of the Louisiana penitentiary, was ex-

AUTO CRASH FATAL TO ORLEANS WOMAN

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Miss Louise E. Wood, 40, New Orleans, was killed and three other persons were injured today in an automobile-truck collision four miles north of Purvis.

Injured were Mrs. Alice T. Wood, 72, mother of Miss Wood, fractured leg; Herbert Bolin, Purvis, broken arm, and Morris Jones, Purvis, body lacerations.

State Patrolman J. Leon Fuller said a front tire on the car driven by Miss Wood apparently had blown out, sending the machine into the approaching truck driven by Bolin.

Mrs. Wood, brought to the Methodist hospital here, said she and her daughter had purchased the automobile this week and were en route to Chicago when the accident occurred.

Car Carrying Three Bastrop Men Collides With Truck Driven By Negro

One man was instantly killed and three others were seriously injured in a crash between an automobile and a truck seven miles west of here on the Dixie Overland highway shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A. D. (Don) Evans, about 30, of Bastrop, was killed and two companions, Woodrow Wilson Brewer, about 26, and Homer Hughes, 36, both of Bastrop, were in a critical condition at Riverside sanitarium here last night.

Arnold Williams, 23-year-old Minden negro, driver of the truck, suffered internal injuries. He was a patient at St. Francis sanitarium here.

Evans, who was believed to have been driving the coupe, died instantly of a crushed head, chest and abdomen, Dr. Irving J. Wolff, parish coroner, stated.

AIR STUDENTS TO REGISTER MONDAY

Application Blanks May Be Had From Northeast College Dean

Registration of aviation students under the nation-wide program of the Civil Aeronautics authority for the training of pilots will start at Northeast Junior college of L. S. U. tomorrow morning, Dr. C. C. Colvert, dean of the school, announced yesterday.

Dean Colvert said that application blanks would be available at his office. Applicants must have passed their 18th birthday and not yet have reached their 25th.

Being a registered student at Northeast Junior college is not necessarily a prerequisite for participation in the training, the dean said. He announced that $40 would be the fee charged for the training.

Dean Colvert expected to know tomorrow the number of students the college would be permitted to register. He said he had informed the CAA it could handle between 20 and 40.

He had not yet received authority from Louisiana State university yesterday to offer the training, Dean Colvert revealed, but he anticipated receiving permission to do so by tomorrow.

BOAT WARNING ISSUED

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The United States weather bureau office here issued a small craft warning for the Texas coast, effective at daybreak. The advisory, timed 8:30 p.m., said a squally condition about 200-250 miles off the Texas coast and moving eastward would cause fresh east and northeast winds and thundersqualls late tonight and Sunday.

Former Conservation Agent Replies To Charge Of 'Shakedowns'

In a signed statement in reply to Senator James A. Noe's charge that his payments to him and to Doug Dark were "shakedowns," Lee J. Melton, recently indicted with Dark for accepting bribes in connection with gas field violations, reiterated that Noe's company paid them bribes.

In his statement, Melton cites several wells where violations were reported and concerning which, he claims, Noe's company paid the former conservation agents to "overlook" violations.

Melton's statement is as follows:

"In Senator Noe's statement appearing in all the newspapers on September 10, he again reminds the people that he was in the last World war. Everybody knows he was there because he has told them so on many other occasions. Everybody knows that he is not afraid of anything because he has told them that also on many other occasions.

"As one veteran to another, Jimmy, you know a good soldier does not shout from every political platform and advertise in the papers that he was in the war. He lets people who want to know that find it out from other sources.

"It is quite evident that Senator Noe learned one thing in the war and that was how to throw out a smoke screen, because in his statement of last Sunday he avoids the main issue when he refers only to the acidizing of his wells. He does not mention anything about using only two strings of casing in his wells or the pulling of gas without it being properly metered.

"The main issue is not who was or was not in the last World war, but whether or not Jimmy was on the

MORE INDICTMENTS MAY COME MONDAY

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—A possibility that more federal indictments will be returned here Monday was reported in federal court circles today as members of the district attorney's office spent hours preparing documents.

The federal grand jury Friday heard reports of government investigators assigned to various phases of the state inquiries, but there was no hint of the nature of the indictments under consideration.

Assistant Attorney General O. John Rogge, who is in Galveston visiting his family, was expected to return tonight and resume charge of the investigations until Wednesday, when he will go to Washington for a short business trip.

Only other major federal court activity scheduled for next week is the three-judge hearing Monday in which George E. Lilly, Texas oil man, is attacking constitutionality of certain proration orders issued by the state department of conservation for the Eola field, under which Lilly claims he was subjected to discrimination.

FRANCE AND GERMANY IN FIRST BIG GENERAL CLASH

Defenders Constantly Bring Up Reinforcements As Pressure Increases

MOSCOW, Sept. 17 (Sunday).—(AP)—Soviet Russia has decided to send her army across the Polish frontier today and to occupy the Polish Ukraine and White Russia.

The government was understood unofficially to have sent a note last night to the Polish ambassador here saying that the Red army would enter the Polish Ukraine and White Russia at 6 a.m. today (9 p.m., central standard time, last night) from Polotzk and Kamanetz-Podolsk.

Copies of this note were said also to have been sent simultaneously to all diplomatic representatives here saying the action was taken because Poland no longer exists. It was said to have declared there no longer was a Polish government because its whereabouts were unknown.

BERLIN, Sept. 17 (Sunday).—(AP)—DNB, official German news agency, reported today from Moscow that the Soviet government had informed the Polish ambassador to Russia that Soviet troops would cross the Russian-Polish frontier at 4 a.m., middle European time (9 p.m., central standard time, last night).

According to DNB, the Soviet government presented the Polish ambassador a note saying that Russia, in its own interest as well as in the interest of White Russian and Ukrainian minorities in Poland, had been forced to issue orders for the army to cross the border into Poland.

BERLIN, Sept. 17 (Sunday). — (AP) — An explosion occurred in the air ministry headquarters in the Leipzigerstrasse early today.

Firemen and police closed off an extensive area around the building.

It was reported that no one was injured.

The propaganda ministry refused to speculate whether the blast might have been caused by a bomb. It said merely that an investigation was under way.

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Germany sent a note to France tonight stating she was determined to abide by the rules of civilized warfare but warned she must be guided by what her opponents do.

(By Associated Press)

The first general battle of the western front—described as "the battle of the Saar"—developed yesterday between hundreds of thousands of French and German troops.

The French general staff reported the Germans were driven to retreat, and stated they were destroying villages behind them.

"Heavy activity" of both artilleries was reported along the entire front, which extended 40 miles southeastward from the Moselle valley to Saarbruecken.

Military experts estimated that 13 German divisions, or from 150,000 to 225,000 men, were opposing an equal or larger number of Frenchmen.

As the battle progressed, the French said, the Germans "constantly" brought up reinforcements.

Swiss advices said the German high command, abruptly changing its defense tactics, had launched a series of violent attacks in four main sectors of the western front.

On the eastern front the German army gave the Warsaw populace 12 hours to leave the city under threat of bombardment at an ultimatum expiration, believed to be 3 a.m. Sunday, or 8 p.m. Saturday, central standard time.

FLICKER BEAUTIES OUT CLASSED BY MODERN MISSES

In old time flicker comedies, Mack Sennett introduced the bathing beauty to the world, along with the custard pie and bearded villain. Three of his original swim-suit girls were Harriet Hammond, Phyllis Haver and the late Marie Prevost. But yesterday movie-goers never saw anything in bathing garb like the current Miss America candidates Doris Gessinger, Miss Atlantic City, Bettye Averyt, Miss Oklahoma, and Louise Fletchner, Miss Sun Valley show progress in beach styles. Like 1920 bathing beauties these still get no nearer the water than the beach.

Sometime the first part of October 1937 they paid us $250 for the privilege of setting only two strings of casing instead of three in their Union Power No. C4 located in section 16 T 21 N R 3 E Union parish. The latter part of October, 1937, they paid us $750 for the privilege of setting only two strings of casing instead of three in their Union Power No. C5, No. C6 and No. C7, all located in section 16 T 21 N R 3 E Union parish. Also in September, 1937, they paid us $250 for the privilege of setting two strings of casing instead of three in Frost Lbr. Ind. No. A8 located in section 36 T 19 N R 3 E, Ouachita parish.

"The above wells were drilled in violation of paragraph 17 of section 2 of act 252 of 1924 which plainly states: 'In drilling gas wells in this state it shall be unlawful for any operator or operators to use less than three strings of casing in known high pressure gas areas.'

"Answer this, Jimmy. Did your company do these things or not?

"Jimmy says his company spent $280,000 in drilling 20 wells. Eight located in Ouachita parish, 12 located in Union parish. These 20 wells, when completed, had an open flow capacity of 31,120,800 cubic feet. The 12 wells located in Union parish were acidized for which they paid us $750 for permits. After these 12 wells were acidized, these 20 wells had an open flow capacity of 61,238,800 cubic feet. If it cost $280,000, which you say it did, to drill 20 wells to get 31,120,800 cubic feet of gas, it would have cost his company another $280,000 to drill 20 more wells in the same area to get the 30,118,000 cubic feet gained by acidizing. They saved approximately $9,000 on six strings of eight-inch casing that was not set in six wells. After all of these savings and gains, Jimmy squealed.

"Jimmy's statement says acidizing is necessary and is the practice in all oil and gas fields throughout the world. It is a natural legal and customary procedure. There is no law which prohibits acidizing. It is a healthy, helpful and customary procedure.

"Here is what Richard D. Morgan had to say in a signed statement published in the Monroe, La., News-Star dated January 20, 1936:

The fact that only one of the kaiser's five surviving sons is in active service was explained on the ground that none who received the rank of major general or higher in the World war was being admitted to service now, while officers of lower rank have been drafted as reserves. Oskar had the rank of colonel while his older brothers were all generals.

BLAST KILLS FULLY 100 FRENCH SAILORS

PARIS, Sept. 16—(AP)—At least 100 French sailors tonight were reported to have been killed in an explosion and fire which swept the cruiser Pluton, a main unit in France's minelaying fleet.

It was believed possible that the final toll might be twice that number.

The explosion was understood to have occurred off Casa Blanca, French Morocco, last Tuesday.

Two hundred would be half the Pluton's normal crew of 400 officers and men.

The 4,773-ton cruiser, although smaller than other vessels of the minelaying fleet, carries a normal cargo of 450 mines, which is twice that of some of the larger ships.

The first advices which penetrated official secrecy surrounding the disaster, failed to specify the port out of which the Pluton was operating and gave the impression it still was in port when a mine exploded accidentally.

Later information indicated, however, that the minelayer was out on an expedition in Moroccan waters.

The explosion was followed by fire which swept over the 10-year-old warship.

Kasper, who once was adjudged of "unsound mind" by the Clay county probate court, was living in a $1.25-a-week-room. The cash and securities found in his pockets and in the room were impounded by William A. Payne, who was appointed guardian.

An only daughter, Eleanor Petrie, 23, of Crowley, La., is the principal beneficiary in a will signed by Kasper, said his attorney and physician. The woman will arrive tomorrow to arrange for funeral services here.

SARDIS, Miss., Sept. 16.—(AP)—United States engineers in charge of construction of the Sardis dam and reservoir said today water in the newly created Lake Sardis has reached a depth of approximately 20 feet at the dam.

Normal depth at the dam will be approximately 29 feet when the project is completed, they said. Plans call for the permanent lake to extend downstream a distance of from nine to 11 miles.

The reservoir, a project designed to lessen dangers of overflows in the Yazoo river basin, probably will be completed next summer.

Both Brewer and Hughes were unconscious last night.

The accident occurred just beyond the crest of Steep bayou hill seven miles west of here and immediately in front of the home of G. A. Britton.

The truck, driven by the negro and loaded with cattle and hogs, was owned by W. G. Burford, Minden cattle buyer. The truck was headed westward and the car occupied by the three Bastrop men was traveling east, it was reported.

At the terrific impact of the machines, two cows were thrown clear of the truck and other cattle in the machine were injured, according to Burford, the owner, who was also traveling the highway in another car some distance behind his negro employe when the accident occurred. Burford said he did not see the accident but arrived at the scene a few minutes after it occurred.

FLICKER BEAUTIES OUT CLASSED BY MODERN MISSES

In old-time flicker comedies, Mack Sennett introduced the bathing beauty to the world, along with the custard pie and bearded villain. Three of his original swim-suit girls were Harriet Hammond, Phyllis Haver and the late Marie Prevost. But early-day moviegoers never saw anything in bathing garb like the current Miss America candidates, Doris Geisinger, Miss Atlantic City; Bettye Averyt, Miss Oklahoma; and Louise Fletchtner, Miss Sun Valley, show progress in beach styles. Like 1920 bathing beauties, these still get no nearer the water than the beach.

paying end of a shakedown, as he claims, or whether his company was a briber as the Ouachita parish grand jury says. Either Jimmy is wrong or the grand jury is wrong. It may be that "shakedown" is a polite name for a bribe, and that when the J. and H. Oil company paid us, it was a 'shakedown,' but when we accepted the money the grand jury says it was a bribe.

"Jimmy professes to love all of his buddies. Let me warn all of them that if it suits him and will further his political ambitions, Jimmy will not hesitate to squeal on them like he did on Dark and me.

"Jimmy has stated on several occasions that I am a relative of Earl Long. I am in no way related to Earl either by blood or marriage and this statement is just as accurate as some of his other statements.

"In his Sunday, September 10 statement, Senator Noe denies that he has ever paid a bribe to anyone in his life. No one has accused him personally of this, but the grand jury says his company did and, as president of the company, he must have known all about it and if anyone connected with his company is guilty of bribery Jimmy is just as guilty, but as usual Jimmy tries to throw off on his associate by saying that the management of his company was principally in the hands of his associate.

"The main issue for Jimmy to answer is, why did his company pay us $666.66 in 1937 to not report him for the improper metering of gas from two of his wells. (Frost Lbr. Ind. No. A2 well located in section 36 T 19 N R 3 E Ouachita parish, and Frost Lbr. Ind. No. B1 located in section 9 T 21 N R 3 E Union parish), and in September, 1937, they paid us $250 for the privilege of setting only two strings of casing instead of three in their Union Power No. C3 located in section 16 T 21 N R 3 E, Union parish. Sometime the first part of October, 1937, they paid us $250 for the privilege of setting only two strings of casing instead of three in their Union Power No. C4 located in section 16 T 21 N R 3 E, Union parish. The latter part of October, 1937, they paid us $750 for the privilege of setting only two strings of casing instead of three in their Union Power No. C5, No. C6 and No. C7, all located in section 16 T 21 N R 3 E, Union parish. Also in September, 1937, they paid us $250 for the privilege of setting two strings of casing instead of three in Frost Lbr. Ind. No. A8 located in section 36 T 19 N R 3 E, Ouachita parish.

"The above wells were drilled in violation of paragraph 17 of section 2 of act 252 of 1924 which plainly states, "In drilling gas wells in this state it shall be unlawful for any operator or operators to use less than three strings of casing in known high pressure gas areas."

"Answer this, Jimmy: Did your company do these things or not?

"Jimmy says his company spent $280,000 in drilling 20 wells. Eight located in Ouachita parish, 12 located in Union parish. These 20 wells, when completed, had an open flow capacity of 31,120,800 cubic feet. The 12 wells located in Union parish were acidized for which they paid us $750 for permits. After these 12 wells were acidized, these 20 wells had an open flow capacity of 61,238,800 cubic feet. If it cost $280,000, which you say it did, to drill 20 wells to get 31,120,800 cubic feet of gas, it would have cost his company another $280,000 to drill 20 more wells in the same area to get the 30,118,000 cubic feet gained by acidizing. They saved approximately $9,000 on six strings of eight-inch casing that was not set in six wells. After all of these savings and gains, Jimmy squealed.

"Jimmy's statement says acidizing is necessary and is the practice in all oil and gas fields throughout the world. It is a natural legal and customary procedure. There is no law which prohibits acidizing, it is a healthy, helpful and customary procedure.

"Here is what Richard D. Morgan had to say in a signed statement published in the Monroe, La., News-Star dated January 20, 1936:

"'Why I am on WPA. I was attempting to work up a business in the Monroe gas field cleaning out and reviving gas wells with acid. I was representative for an Oklahoma company. The first of October, 1934, I was advised by State Senator James A. Noe that he was stopping the acid business. Refusing to deal with politicians, I discontinued my business and subsequently received a position with the WPA without signing any pledge to vote for any candidate. It is obvious I need no instruction how to vote on January 21.'

"Here is what James A. Noe had to say in the Monroe, La., News-Star dated January 21, 1936:

"'In regard to Mr. Richard D. Morgan's statement, the conservation department prohibited the use of acid in wells in this district because it was bringing water into the wells and hurting the field. The order was issued from the conservation department headquarters from New Orleans. A meeting was held by all gas men in Monroe and this was discussed before the step was taken to stop the use of acid. The step was approved by a majority of the gas men of this district. Mr. Morgan knows this and the fact of the matter is that Mr. Morgan only supervised the treating of one well in the entire field before the order was issued. That's the record.

"'James A. Noe.'

with the air force "somewhere in Poland," it was said.

The crown prince's fourth son, Friedrich—or Fritz, as he is popularly known—was feared interned in England. He was last reported as sick at a friend's home near London and too ill to move. He may have recovered too late to leave the country.

Adalbert's son, Prince Wilhelm-Viktor-Freund, is believed to be on the western front, while Karl Franz Joseph, son of the late Prince Joachim, is believed to be on the Polish front with an armored car regiment.

The fact that only one of the kaiser's five surviving sons is in active service was explained on the ground that none who received the rank of major general or higher in the World war was being admitted to service now, while officers of lower rank have been drafted as reserves. Oskar had the rank of colonel while his older brothers were all generals.

BLAST KILLS FULLY 100 FRENCH SAILORS

PARIS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—At least 100 French sailors tonight were reported to have been killed in an explosion and fire which swept the cruiser Pluton, a main unit in France's minelaying fleet.

It was believed possible that the final toll might be twice that number.

The explosion was understood to have occurred off Casa Blanca, French Morocco, last Tuesday.

Two hundred would be half the Pluton's normal crew of 400 officers and men.

The 4,773-ton cruiser, although smaller than other vessels of the minelaying fleet, carries a normal cargo of 450 mines, which is twice that of some of the larger ships.

The first advices which penetrated official secrecy surrounding the disaster, failed to specify the port out of which the Pluton was operating and gave the impression it still was in port when a mine exploded accidentally.

Later information indicated, however, that the minelayer was out on an expedition in Moroccan waters.

RECLUSE CARRYING $25,000 EXPIRES

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Sept. 16.—(AP)—John A. Kasper, 85-year-old recluse who collapsed on a street here several weeks ago with $25,000 in cash and securities in his possession, died at the Excelsior Springs sanitarium today.

Kasper, who once was adjudged of "unsound mind" by the Clay county probate court, was living in a $1.25-a-week-room. The cash and securities found in his pockets and in the room were impounded by William A. Payne, who was appointed guardian.

An only daughter, Eleanor Petrie, 23, of Crowley, La., is the principal beneficiary in a will signed by Kasper, said his attorney and physician. The woman will arrive tomorrow to arrange for funeral services here.

POLISH HEADS ON RUMANIAN BORDER

reached Bucharest last night, were said tonight to be on their way to Paris.

Soviet Russian Ambassador Nicholas Sharanov reported now at Spollunow, a Polish town on the Russian frontier, was said to have declared he may return soon to Moscow.

Polish authorities dispatched food and clothing by rail to Sniatyn, a Polish town just across the border from Cernauti. Apparently they planned to aid thousands of refugees reported surging toward the Rumanian frontier in front of the German army.

An official Rumanian announcement said Rumanian hospitals were prepared to receive large numbers of Polish wounded.

Among the Polish refugees in Cernauti were the wives of the Polish president, Ignace Moscicki, and the commander-in-chief of Poland's armies, Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz.

It was reported an attempt was being made to run special trains for Jewish refugees with Palestinian citizenship through Rumania. Hundreds of such Jews were caught by the war while visiting relatives and friends in Poland.

A large army of both Poles and Jews without passports was understood to be surging closer to the frontier.

Rumanian authorities, in planning arrangements to handle the refugees, were confronted with a housing problem due to the approach of the rainy season in this section.

WATER IN SARDIS LAKE 20 FEET DEEP

SARDIS, Miss., Sept. 16—(AP)—United States engineers in charge of construction of the Sardis dam and reservoir said today water in newly-created Lake Sardis had reached a depth of approximately 20 feet at the dam.

Normal depth at the dam will be approximately 29 feet when the project is completed, they said. Plans call for the permanent lake to extend downstream a distance of from nine to 11 miles.

The reservoir, a project designed to lessen dangers of overflows in the Yazoo river basin, probably will be completed next summer.

ONE KILLED AND THREE INJURED

cuts and bruises all over the body, according to his physician. Hughes received a badly mangled right leg, and physicians said that if he lived he would lose the leg at the hip. Hughes also suffered general lacerations and bruises all over the body.

Both Brewer and Hughes were unconscious last night.

The accident occurred just beyond the crest of Steep bayou hill seven miles west of here and immediately in front of the home of G. A. Britton.

The truck, driven by the negro and loaded with cattle and hogs, was owned by W. G. Burford, Minden cattle buyer. The truck was headed westward and the car occupied by the three Bastrop men was traveling east, it was reported.

At the terrific impact of the machines, two cows were thrown clear of the truck and other cattle in the machine were injured, according to Burford, the owner, who was also traveling the highway in another car some distance behind his negro employe when the accident occurred. Burford said he did not see the accident, but arrived at the scene a few minutes after it occurred.

The only report available last night in regard to the accident was a statement by the Williams negro that he was traveling along the highway behind another car, and saw the automobile approaching from the opposite direction. He said the automobile was passing two other cars when it apparently got out of control as the driver apparently tried to straighten the machine out in the highway after passing the other cars. The automobile collided with the truck and both machines went off the south shoulder of the highway.

The coupe was almost totally demolished. The front end was pancaked and the left side was a jumble of twisted and crushed metal. The front end of the truck was smashed in and badly damaged.

The Bastrop men had been working at Springhill, it was reported, and had been on their way to their homes.

Deputy Sheriffs Frank Cline and Clyde Mitchell, who conducted an investigation of the accident along with Dr. Wolff and State Police Officer Roy E. Byrd, brought the Williams negro to a local hospital and reported that he would be under a technical charge of involuntary homicide until the investigation is completed.

At the impact of the machines Evans and the negro were thrown out. Evans fell between the truck and automobile. The negro fell clear of the wreck and a cow, also thrown out of the truck, fell on the negro.

Eleven head of cattle and two hogs were in the truck.

The body of Evans was taken to Mulhearn Funeral home here but was later taken to Robinson Funeral home at Bastrop. Funeral arrangements had not been announced last night.

FIGHTING UNITS TO MOVE SWIFTLY

War Department Discloses Plans For Reorganizing Combat Divisions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The war department disclosed today that the regular army's combat divisions would be reorganized into swift-moving, compact fighting units.

Infantry divisions are to be "streamlined" into mobile units less than half the size of their World war counterparts, after the general pattern of European armies. Expansion of an existing mechanized cavalry brigade into a full division also is contemplated.

In a fast-moving provisional division, under test since early this year at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., will be the model for other infantry units, it was announced.

Moving in some 1,100 motor vehicles, the new division has been able to speed across the country at an average of 30 miles an hour, contrasted with less than 3 miles covered by marching troops in the mass. At war strength, the new division numbers only 11,500 men, compared with 27,000 in A. E. F. infantry divisions.

For the present, no changes are planned for the national guard, it was said.

The announcement was coupled with the statement that the emergency expansion of the regular army by 17,000 men, ordered last week by President Roosevelt, would be effected entirely on a voluntary basis. The regular army reserve of 23,000 former soldiers, will be held "for quick call when it is evident that their services are actually needed to meet a critical emergency," the war department said.

In another defense development, the navy reported enlistments increased materially this week, in the wake of President Roosevelt's order expanding the navy by 29,000 men. There were 1,320 first enlistments and 278 former sailors were reinlisted. The normal naval recruiting rate has been about 1,000 a week. There is still a substantial list of applicants.

The army's "streamlining" order was in accord with recommendations of General Malin Craig, retiring chief of staff, who reported this summer the army lacked a single seasoned division "to seize or hold naval and air bases or to destroy enemy bases."

COURSE OFFERED TO FINANCE OFFICERS

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Louisiana State university announced it would conduct next Tuesday and Wednesday a short course for city and village finance officers.

Scheduled are addresses by leading authorities and men of practical experience in planning and administration of municipal finances and a series of lectures and demonstrations by certified public accountants.

The course will be under the joint sponsorship of the Louisiana conference of mayors and municipal officials, the university school of government and public affairs and the university general extension division.

Victor Canfield, certified public accountant, of Lake Charles, will give the lectures and demonstrations in accounting. Miss Bertha Doty, city clerk of Rayne, will assist in the instruction.

Others who will take part in the program include Carl H. Chatters, formerly director of finance in Flint, Mich., and now executive director of the Municipal Finance Officers association, Chicago; Sherman S. Sheppard, executive secretary of the New Orleans bureau of governmental research; Ben A. Campbell, New Orleans attorney, and F. J. Whitehead, town attorney of Port Allen.

SHIPS PROVIDING SPECIAL RAFTS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Neutral shipping out of New Orleans today was equipping itself with specially-built rafts for use in any emergency which might arise from the submarine warfare at sea.

These rafts, constructed of wood and steel metal drums, will accommodate about 20 persons each. In an emergency the ship's crew could toss a raft into the sea to float on either side with plenty of buoyancy.

Inside the raft is a compartment for storing food and water. A local shipbuilding firm is building the rafts for Scandinavian vessels.

Today Miles A. Pratt, collector of customs, announced to steamship owners, agents and operators that under revised regulations all vessels clearing for a foreign port must file complete export declarations with customs authorities.

The amended regulations, effective October 1, are for the duration of the war period.

YOUTH KILLED WHEN DRAGGED BY MULE

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Robert J. Mason, 16 years old, was killed early this afternoon when he fell or was thrown from a mule he was riding and dragged to death. The youth's foot was caught in the trace chain.

Dr. Harry Johnston, parish coroner, said the boy died of a broken neck and back injuries. The trace chains were wrapped three times around the youth's ankle. The boy's body was found about 2 p.m. and the accident was believed to have happened some two hours earlier. The accident occurred on the scenic highway, a few miles north of here.

Young Mason was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Mason, route 1.

and that attack without warning was in violation of the submarine protocol to which Germany subscribed.

Latest ship to be added to the list of British losses was the tanker Cheyenne of the Anglo American Oil company, which was officially announced attacked and sunk by a submarine off the southwest coast of Ireland.

Messages from the captain indicated she was shelled and set afire. The crew, like that of the Alex Van Opstal, was rescued. The Norwegian steamer Ida Bakke, which already had saved the survivors of the sunken freighter British Influence, picked up all 37 members of the Cheyenne's crew.

The crew of the British tanker Inverliffey shelled to pieces September 9, told how they huddled around the conning tower of the German submarine which had attacked them while a tidal wave of fire rolled over the sea from their sinking ship.

Members of the Cheyenne's crew had a similar tale to tell. The submarine which sank the tanker stayed on the surface until the Ida Bakke hove into sight. The undersea boat, they said, offered to tow the lifeboats toward the British coast.

Chief consolation to shipping men after announcement of plans for convoys was that the navy was hunting submarines on an efficient pattern. They had, however, every faith that submarines were speeding home for rest, food, fuel and fresh shells and torpedoes at Kiel and that many would be trapped en route.

Evidence that detection was increasing and the patrol widening its scope was given by crew members of the Cheyenne. They said a British destroyer was racing to the scene while the submarine was destroying the tanker. The destroyer later sunk the wreck of the Cheyenne as a menace to navigation.

Hand in hand with British plans for extinction of the submarine menace, went the navy's prize offensive weapon—blockade of Germany and seizure of her sinews of war.

CLARK OPPOSES EMBARGO REPEAL

Thinks Ban Of Arms Sales Best Way To Maintain Neutrality

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Senator Clark, Democrat, Missouri, asserted tonight that the issue in the impending congressional struggle over repealing the arms embargo was whether this country wanted to take sides in the European war.

"Those who favor the course of taking sides and fighting should naturally vote for repeal of the arms embargo as a step in that direction," he said in a statement. "Those who favor keeping out of the war should vote for the retention of our present safeguards and the addition of any others that may be necessary."

Although the neutrality debate has continued intermittently for months, the Missouri senator's statement was regarded as further laying the groundwork for the fight to be conducted by himself, Senators Borah, Republican, Idaho, Nye, Republican, Indiana, and others at the special session opening Thursday against President Roosevelt's efforts to win repeal of the arms embargo.

While advocates of repealing the arms embargo have, for the most part, remained silent, the Clark-Borah-Nye bloc has been actively organizing for the struggle. Borah broadcast an appeal earlier this week that this country continue to refuse to sell arms to warring nations.

Some senators and representatives, too, already have been "taking the question to the country."

Senator Vandenburg, Republican, Michigan, presented to a Republican rally at Grand Rapids, Michigan, today his view that the embargo should not be repealed.

"In my view," he said, "it is not 'neutrality' for us to change that code today to make it fit some favored belligerent, no matter what our sympathies. In my view, that is unneutrality. It is trying to be half in this war and yet to safely stay out. I do not belive there can be any such middle ground."

Representing the opposing viewpoint on the question, Senator Van Nuys, Democrat, Indiana, told a gathering of Indiana editors at French Lick that if to repeal the arms embargo of the neutrality law meant that England and Fence could obtain supplies in this country while Germany could not that course would be "welcomed by many Americans."

At the capitol, legislators who have arrayed themselves on opposing sides of the neutrality question were unanimous in their praise of the appeal of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, over the radio last night, that this country stay out of Europe's wars.

Senator Hayden, Democrat, Arizona, an advocate of repeal of the embargo, said Lindbergh had sounded what was an almost universal sentiment of the American people—that this country should not become involved in war.

"But I did not take it," he said, "that Colonel Lindbergh was suggesting how we might keep out of war and that seems to me the big question."

During the day, Fulton Lewis, Jr., Mutual Broadcasting company news commentator, issued a statement in explanation of how Lindbergh came to make the address, and in order, he said, "to clarify any conjectures that the appearance of Colonel Lindbergh or the views he expressed in his radio broadcast may have been prompted by some group or individual."

Lewis went on to say that he invited Lindbergh three weeks ago to use his time of the radio, but that the colonel first refused, then accepted last Sunday, after the outbreak of the war.

FIGHTING UNITS TO MOVE SWIFTLY

War Department Discloses Plans For Reorganizing Combat Divisions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The war department disclosed today that the regular army's combat divisions would be reorganized into swift-moving, compact fighting units.

Infantry divisions are to be "streamlined" into mobile units less than half the size of their World war counterparts, after the general pattern of European armies. Expansion of an existing mechanized cavalry brigade into a full division also is contemplated.

In a fast-moving provisional division, under test since early this year at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., will be the model for other infantry units, it was announced.

Moving in some 1,100 motor vehicles, the new division has been able to speed across the country at an average of 30 miles an hour, contrasted with less than 3 miles covered by marching troops in the mass. At war strength, the new division numbers only 11,500 men, compared with 27,000 in A. E. F. infantry divisions.

For the present, no changes are planned for the national guard, it was said.

The announcement was coupled with the statement that the emergency expansion of the regular army by 17,000 men, ordered last week by President Roosevelt, would be effected entirely on a voluntary basis. The regular army reserve of 23,000 former soldiers, will be held "for quick call when it is evident that their services are actually needed to meet a critical emergency," the war department said.

In another defense development, the navy reported enlistments increased materially this week, in the wake of President Roosevelt's order expanding the navy by 29,000 men. There were 1,320 first enlistments and 278 former sailors were reinlisted. The normal naval recruiting rate has been about 1,000 a week. There is still a substantial list of applicants.

The army's "streamlining" order was in accord with recommendations of General Malin Craig, retiring chief of staff, who reported this summer the army lacked a single seasoned division "to seize or hold naval and air bases or to destroy enemy bases."

COURSE OFFERED TO FINANCE OFFICERS

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Louisiana State university announced it would conduct next Tuesday and Wednesday a short course for city and village finance officers.

Scheduled are addresses by leading authorities and men of practical experience in planning and administration of municipal finances and a series of lectures and demonstrations by certified public accountants.

The course will be under the joint sponsorship of the Louisiana conference of mayors and municipal officials, the university school of government and public affairs and the university general extension division.

Victor Canfield, certified public accountant, of Lake Charles, will give the lectures and demonstrations in accounting. Miss Bertha Doty, city clerk of Rayne, will assist in the instruction.

Others who will take part in the program include Carl H. Chatters, formerly director of finance in Flint, Mich., and now executive director of the Municipal Finance Officers association, Chicago; Sherman S. Sheppard, executive secretary of the New Orleans bureau of governmental research; Ben A. Campbell, New Orleans attorney, and F. J. Whitehead, town attorney of Port Allen.

SHIPS PROVIDING SPECIAL RAFTS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Neutral shipping out of New Orleans today was equipping itself with specially-built rafts for use in any emergency which might arise from the submarine warfare at sea.

These rafts, constructed of wood and steel metal drums, will accommodate about 20 persons each. In an emergency the ship's crew could toss a raft into the sea to float on either side with plenty of buoyancy.

Inside the raft is a compartment for storing food and water. A local shipbuilding firm is building the rafts for Scandinavian vessels.

Today Miles A. Pratt, collector of customs, announced to steamship owners, agents and operators that under revised regulations all vessels clearing for a foreign port must file complete export declarations with customs authorities.

The amended regulations, effective October 1, are for the duration of the war period.

YOUTH KILLED WHEN DRAGGED BY MULE

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Robert J. Mason, 16 years old, was killed early this afternoon when he fell or was thrown from a mule he was riding and dragged to death. The youth's foot was caught in the trace chain.

Dr. Harry Johnston, parish coroner, said the boy died of a broken neck and back injuries. The trace chains were wrapped three times around the youth's ankle. The boy's body was found about 2 p.m. and the accident was believed to have happened some two hours earlier. The accident occurred on the scenic highway, a few miles north of here.

Young Mason was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Mason, route 1.

and that attack without warning was in violation of the submarine protocol to which Germany subscribed.

Latest ship to be added to the list of British losses was the tanker Cheyenne of the Anglo American Oil company, which was officially announced attacked and sunk by a submarine off the southwest coast of Ireland.

Messages from the captain indicated she was shelled and set afire. The crew, like that of the Alex Van Opstal, was rescued. The Norwegian steamer Ida Bakke, which already had saved the survivors of the sunken freighter British Influence, picked up all 37 members of the Cheyenne's crew.

The crew of the British tanker Inverliffey shelled to pieces September 9, told how they huddled around the conning tower of the German submarine which had attacked them, while a tidal wave of fire rolled over the sea from their sinking ship.

Members of the Cheyenne's crew had a similar tale to tell. The submarine which sank the tanker stayed on the surface until the Ida Bakke hove into sight. The undersea boat, they said, offered to tow the lifeboats toward the British coast.

Chief consolation to shipping men after announcement of plans for convoys was that the navy was hunting submarines on an efficient pattern. They had, however, every faith that submarines were speeding home for rest, food, fuel and fresh shells and torpedoes at Kiel and that many would be trapped en route.

Evidence that detection was increasing and the patrol widening its scope was given by crew members of the Cheyenne. They said a British destroyer was racing to the scene while the submarine was destroying the tanker. The destroyer later sunk the wreck of the Cheyenne as a menace to navigation.

Hand in hand with British plans for extinction of the submarine menace, went the navy's prize offensive weapon—blockade of Germany and seizure of her sinews of war.

CLARK OPPOSES EMBARGO REPEAL

Thinks Ban Of Arms Sales Best Way To Maintain Neutrality

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Senator Clark, Democrat, Missouri, asserted tonight that the issue in the impending congressional struggle over repealing the arms embargo was whether this country wanted to take sides in the European war.

"Those who favor the course of taking sides and fighting should naturally vote for repeal of the arms embargo as a step in that direction," he said in a statement. "Those who favor keeping out of the war should vote for the retention of our present safeguards and the addition of any others that may be necessary."

Although the neutrality debate has continued intermittently for months, the Missouri senator's statement was regarded as further laying the groundwork for the fight to be conducted by himself, Senators Borah, Republican, Idaho, Nye, Republican, Indiana, and others at the special session opening Thursday against President Roosevelt's efforts to win repeal of the arms embargo.

While advocates of repealing the arms embargo have, for the most part, remained silent, the Clark-Borah-Nye bloc has been actively organizing for the struggle. Borah broadcast an appeal earlier this week that this country continue to refuse to sell arms to warring nations.

Some senators and representatives, too, already have been "taking the question to the country."

Senator Vandenburg, Republican, Michigan, presented to a Republican rally at Grand Rapids, Michigan, today his view that the embargo should not be repealed.

"In my view," he said, "it is not 'neutrality' for us to change that code today to make it fit some favored belligerent, no matter what our sympathies. In my view, that is unneutrality. It is trying to be half in this war and yet to safely stay out. I do not belive there can be any such middle ground."

Representing the opposing viewpoint on the question, Senator Van Nuys, Democrat, Indiana, told a gathering of Indiana editors at French Lick that if to repeal the arms embargo of the neutrality law meant that England and Fance could obtain supplies in this country while Germany could not that course would be "welcomed by many Americans."

At the capitol, legislators who have arrayed themselves on opposing sides of the neutrality question were unanimous in their praise of the appeal of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, over the radio last night, that this country stay out of Europe's wars.

Senator Hayden, Democrat, Arizona, an advocate of repeal of the embargo, said Lindbergh had sounded what was an almost universal sentiment of the American people—that this country should not become involved in war.

"But I did not take it," he said, "that Colonel Lindbergh was suggesting how we might keep out of war and that seems to me the big question."

During the day, Fulton Lewis, Jr., Mutual Broadcasting company news commentator, issued a statement in explanation of how Lindbergh came to make the address, and in order, he said, "to clarify any conjectures that the appearance of Colonel Lindbergh or the views he expressed in his radio broadcast may have been prompted by some group or individual."

Lewis went on to say that he invited Lindbergh three weeks ago to use his time of the radio, but that the colonel first refused, then accepted last Sunday, after the outbreak of the war.

27 INJURED WHEN BUS LEAVES ROAD

MENDENHALL, Miss., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Twenty-seven persons were injured today when a Mendenhall school bus carrying students and officials to a Wesson-Hammond Junior college football game plunged down a 20-foot embankment on highway 13.

Most seriously hurt were Floyd Harrison, with severe scalp wounds and deep gashes in face and shoulder, and Ellis Harold Buckley, who suffered severe head injuries and a possible skull fracture. Both are Mendenhall students. Both remained unconscious tonight.

FARLEY CANCELS TRIP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Postmaster General James A. Earlier in the week Postmaster Joseph Ferguson in New Orleans announced that Farley would speak.

Profiteers

There is hardly a time when the welfare of every community does not need the services of an alert, hard-hitting citizens' council composed of capable, honest, public spirited persons.

OBSOLETE

Speaking of a sizable group of politicians and office-holders, Senator Tydings of Maryland, recently described them as "counterparts of those who wielded power in ancient Rome. These men preach democracy and free enterprise while they set in motion the machinery to destroy it."

The very insidiousness of the attack against democracy is one of its most menacing attributes. The men involved never preach socialism, communism, fascism or nazlism as such. Always their position is camouflaged, and always they talk ringingly of democracy.

Unless the American people see through this transparent disguise, democracy will eventually be nothing more than an obsolete word found in dictionaries.

TRAFFIC REVERSAL

It is not yet too late to reverse the traffic fatality increase which has broken through the long string of decreases since November, 1937.

July again showed a 1 per cent increase, following a 2 per cent increase in June.

It is possible that these small increases are due to heavy vacation travel incident to the two fairs, since deaths on the rural highways were what raised the totals. The concerted safety campaigns of the cities seem still to be effective.

As summer tourist travel dies down, perhaps a still more intensive drive for safety inside the cities will be able to bring the year's toll down. It is worth trying.

DEPORTATIONS DELIRIUM

Fritz Kuhn, leader of the German-American bund, is about as exasperating an individual in his public activities as can be imagined.

But with the war only a week old, Kuhn had already done Germany more harm with his mouth than the French have done to that country with their cannon.

Therefore, the movement that has already begun, aimed at deporting Kuhn forthwith, ought not to be encouraged. Let's not fall immediately into a hysterical deportations delirium. The best service America can do for the world right now is to try to keep its head, its sanity, and its sense of humor.

SPREADING OUT

Perhaps the bombing plane will do for unhealthy city congestion what all the better housing forces have been unable to accomplish.

In anticipation of air raids, Londoners and Parisians are scattering to the countryside. The idea may catch on and become permanent—and that would be another illustration that "it is an ill wind which blows nobody good."

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 16.—Dear Staff: [illegible] stars have [illegible] of jumping at each other's throats [illegible] of a hat. I wish they could go through an experience I had this morning, an experience [illegible]

[illegible] gas, intent on catching the offending car to give the driver a piece of my mind (which I admit I can ill spare). He too slowed down, to await me, equally intent on telling me off. We were both at the fighting stage.

But as I drew alongside the other machine, I recognized the driver, Bing Crosby, and he recognized me too. Well, I muttered something about having been in a hurry, and the near collision being my fault. "Not at all, old man," he countered, "I shot into that corner too fast, it was my fault." And there we sat, Alphonse-and-Gastoning each other until impatient cars behind honked us on our way.

My point is, there was no reason for us to have been angry in the first place, yet we were ready to snarl and fight when a few sensible, courteous words could straighten things out in a jiffy. As the situation turned out, we both left smiling.

You see what I mean about chip-on-the-shoulder Hollywoodites having similar experiences? A little more pleasantry; a little less snarling—and almost any looks-big-but-isn't studio fuss could be laughed into the discard.

JIMMIE FIDLER.

Dear Boss: Mention of autos dovetails perfectly with the most amusing news tidbit of the week. Seems Director and Mrs. Norman McLeod were entertaining an eastern automobile magnate and his frau, and Mrs. McLeod coined a novel idea for a party. She called the local representatives of the visitor's company and arranged to have a show of their 1940 models in the McLeod patio. As a direct result eight stars who came to the shindig filed orders for cars. And Mrs. McLeod was presented, yesterday, with a brand new station wagon as a token of appreciation.

Here's a bird's-eye view of today's gleanings: Mary (My-Heart-Belongs-to-Daddy) Martin, whose screen contract guarantees her a six months' lull for stage work, [illegible] back to New York on September 30th to start rehearsals for the musical comedy "Hold Your Hats." . . . [illegible] against Nick Stewart. [illegible] Texas. . . . [illegible] Martha Raye [illegible] a neat retort to those [illegible] she's had "Mrs. David Rose" painted on her dressing room door in foot-high letters. . . . George Brent is still incommunicado in that San Bernardino rest home. . . . That illness of Vicki Lester's is more serious than first believed; her mother planed here from the east the other day to be with her. . . . When David Niven is called to the British colors, he will take with him, as a good luck pledge, a prayer book that once belonged to President Woodrow Wilson; the relic is now in the possession of Director Sam Wood, to whom the late president gave it during religious services aboard a World war battle cruiser. . . .

Don Ameche is buying liniment as the result of a freak golfing accident. Seems he played a brassie shot from the rough. The ball hit a nearby tree dead center, rebounded and hit Don also dead-center. He was out for fifteen minutes and still winces if prodded in the wrong place.

Next time you hear some star moan about "too much work," cite the case of Gene Autry. Thanks to that prolonged European tour and his contract to play in a Twentieth Century super, he must finish three westerns for Republic between now and November fifteenth.

One of the worst train wrecks in railroad history, we learn somewhat belatedly, is an indirect result of the European war. Ty Power was trying to do two things at once on the evening of September fourth—listen to a direct broadcast of war news from Paris and operate his exceedingly complicated miniature electric railway system. Suddenly the broadcast was interrupted by the wail of air raid sirens and Ty, whose Annabella was en route to Paris and whose in-laws live there in force, got so excited he forgot all about the speeding trains. There was a mighty crash and the floor was littered, ankle deep, with debris.

By the way, boss, have you heard Dick Powell's latest rule of measurement? He claims that two pints make one ca-vort.

THE STAFF.

Human Side Of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

What caught my eye was that reference to Aix-la-Chapelle. It was at Aix-la-Chapelle that the weird dancing mania of the middle ages started in 1373. It lasted for years, [illegible] across Europe, many of them dying from exhaustion and starvation. Much has been written on this strange aberration but I find no conjecture as to any possible prophetic phase. The late William Graham Sumner of Yale [illegible] "Folkways" [illegible] treasury of world folklore.

[illegible] It would be interesting if it could be [illegible] whether this dance was the same or at all like this [illegible] which seems to [illegible] through the ages. Meager accounts of the mediaeval dancing mania indicate that it was mostly frantic whirling like the dizzy gyrations of [illegible] mice. The carmagnole is reported as a savage crescendo of stamping and lunging, with an accelerated tempo, on the whole appearing to have much more form and technique than the mediaeval obsession.

The "wise sax and the modern instance" inevitably touches off Benny Goodman and the swing mania of the last year or two. It would be easy to read into this the savage, staccato, utterly irrational rhythm of war and chaos and the surge of bedeviled jitterbugs out into the aisles of the Paramount theater in a pre-war year might be examined clinically by some cold-eyed historian of the future. This historian might well agree with Sumner that such goings on were the symptoms of tension aand social pressure rather than prophecy.

But if the historian should work on back a few years, he would find that the first World war was preceded by a dancing mania. He would be interested in the phenomenon of Vernon and Irene Castle coming to the peak of their careers and pacing the country into a national dance obsession just before the guns blazed in Belgium. He also would be interested in this story being re-told in one of the finest films of the time, just before the start of the second World war as it may yet be. These anxiety states may reflect themselves in the body [illegible] a wide variety of symptoms including a rapid heart rate, a rise in the blood pressure, an inability to swallow, pains in the abdomen due to contraction of the lower outlet of the stomach, and an excessive breathing rate.

The patient develops hysterical symptoms so that sometimes he will not see because he is convinced in his own mind that he cannot see, or he will not hear because his subconscious mind tells him that he cannot hear.

The doctor should find out all of the circumstances surrounding the patient's life and then determine the extent to which these subconscious thoughts are concerned in the physical state. If the doctor merely explains in simple non-technical language the nature of the condition, realization by the patient may help to bring it under control.

Mere relief of the physical symptoms will not control the condition, because of the underlying mental state. It is for that reason that many of these patients go from one doctor to another seeking relief. In many instances the patient is dissatisfied with the explanation that is clear and is seeking something outside the realm of fact as an excuse for his unfulfilled desires or his unrecognized fears.

It is necessary for the doctor to use suitable remedies to control spasms of the muscular tissue at the opening or closing ends of the stomach and to remedy a too rapid heart rate or a similar physical condition in order to protect the health of the patient during the period while attack on the cause is being made.

It is not well to hazard a guess that a rapid heart rate is based on a mental causation alone. It is necessary to rule out absolutely any physical causes that may exist. This the doctor may do by making a complete physical study of the heart and sometimes even by using the electrocardiograph to trace the action of its mechanism.

"Yes, sir."

The teacher handed Richard the beautiful little model of the coach that Jerry had spent long loving hours of work upon and said, "You do just what you like with this Richard. Keep it, break it, throw it out of the window if you like. Jerry has asked for it. He deserves all you give him."

Richard put his sticky hands behind him and looked up at the teacher with grave reproach in his eye. "O no, sir. It is too beautiful to touch. And it is his work. He's an awful means boy to us, but his work is beautiful and anyway I wouldn't make him lose the medal. I'd like to poke him one in the nose for what he did to me, but he's too big. I don't want any part of him and I wouldn't touch his work."

Richard got the speech out in broken phrases. Jerry stood spellbound, in dread and fear for his work. Any minute the teacher might close his fist on the frail thing, or do as he suggested to Richard—toss it out of the window. When he understood that Richard despised him but would not touch his work because it was beautiful, he broke down. He was only a little boy inside, not as big as Richard, and for once he knew it. He cleaned up the doll's furniture, humbly enough, and did his best to behave decently. He would succeed in that when his growth was balanced. Knowing Richard helped a lot.

Many children behave badly because they are not properly fed. Be sure that your own little boy or girl forms correct eating habits. Send for Angelo Patri's booklet "Eating," enclosing ten cents in coin. Address Angelo Patri, c/o this newspaper, P. O. Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y.

WASHINGTON —Commerce department officials cannot see where Germany can draw heavily on abundant Russia for war materials.

Reasons given are:

3. Germany, even in peace times, could not make machinery deliveries, Russia's main need, on time.

Soviet Honors Ukraine's Famed Poet of Freedom

WORLD attention is focused up[illegible] on the Ukraine, the granary of eastern Europe, announced objective of Hitler's drive toward the east. Soviet Russia is determined to fight to keep this rich and fertile territory which Nazi Germany eyes so enviously.

It was a wise move, therefore, on the part of the Soviet Postal Administration to issue a set of three stamps honoring Taras Shevchenko, beloved painter and poet, who gave the Ukrainians their favorite songs of freedom. In the Ukraine Shevchenko is a national hero. A museum in Kanev is named for him and monuments to him may be found in Alexandrovsk, Kharkov and other cities.

Shevchenko was born on March 9, 1814 in Kililovka. His first picture, drawn with charcoal on the wall of the village school, brought him a whipping. His first poem, written in 1841, praised an uprising of the peasants, won him enduring fame.

Under the Czars, Shevchenko's poetry was prohibited and he was imprisoned for 11 years for writing "inciting and libelous compositions." Some of his most famous paintings were inspired by his experiences in prison.

He died in St. Petersburg in 1861 and is buried near Kanev.

Profiteers

There are many things happening in Europe that we know nothing about.

The European censorship is working admirably—as far as the interests of the various countries involved are concerned. War news is colored to suit the nation where it originates, and ofttimes we learn nothing whatever about certain important events.

But there is something caused by the war that we do know about and should do something about—our food sharks.

They are already at work fattening on the misfortunes of the world, cornering supplies essential to life, boosting the prices on essentials, and putting out monkey-talk about scarcity when there is abundance.

Thus, we have here among us an enemy force as selfish, unfeeling and cunning as any foreign enemy might be. Its purpose is to exploit us and despoil us. And that is all a foreign invader would do.

While our government is planning against attacks from without, it should plan equally well against attacks from those who profiteer on us and our friends abroad in this time of misery and terror.

Every community should set about aiding our government to handle the profiteers by creating a local citizens' council to study prices; to learn what manufacturers and producers are charging and should charge wholesalers; what wholesalers should charge retailers; and what retailers should charge customers.

There should always be a citizens' council on the job in every locality to represent and protect the public. Every group in this country has its representing, protecting organization except the public. Everybody gets his but the unorganized public.

There is hardly a time when the welfare of every community does not need the services of an alert, hard-hitting citizens' council composed of capable, honest, public spirited persons.

OBSOLETE

Speaking of a sizable group of politicians and officeholders, Senator Tydings of Maryland, recently described them as "counterparts of those who wielded power in ancient Rome. These men preach democracy and free enterprise while they set in motion the machinery to destroy it."

The very insidiousness of the attack against democracy is one of its most menacing attributes. The men involved never preach socialism, communism, fascism or naziism as such. Always their position is camouflaged, and always they talk ringingly of democracy.

Unless the American people see through this transparent disguise, democracy will eventually be nothing more than an obsolete word found in dictionaries.

TRAFFIC REVERSAL

It is not yet too late to reverse the traffic fatality increase which has broken through the long string of decreases since November, 1937.

July again showed a 1 per cent increase, following a 2 per cent increase in June.

It is possible that these small increases are due to heavy vacation travel incident to the two fairs, since deaths on the rural highways were what raised the totals. The concerted safety campaigns of the cities seem still to be effective.

As summer tourist travel dies down, perhaps a still more intensive drive for safety inside the cities will be able to bring the year's toll down. It is worth trying.

DEPORTATIONS DELIRIUM

Fritz Kuhn, leader of the German-American bund, is about as exasperating an individual in his public activities as can be imagined.

But with the war only a week old, Kuhn had already done Germany more harm with his mouth than the French have done to that country with their cannon.

Therefore, the movement that has already begun, aimed at deporting Kuhn forthwith, ought not to be encouraged. Let's not fall immediately into a hysterical deportations delirium. The best service America can do for the world right now is to try to keep its head, its sanity, and its sense of humor.

SPREADING OUT

Perhaps the bombing plane will do for unhealthy city congestion what all the better housing forces have been unable to accomplish.

In anticipation of air raids, Londoners and Parisians are scattering to the countryside. The idea may catch on and become permanent—and that would be another illustration that "it is an ill wind which blows nobody good."

A fisherman caught a shark so big it ruined all his nets and wouldn't fit in his boat. From the description, this sounds like the one that's been getting away from so many lodge members.

• BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—Although retail food prices are shoting up, the farmer is still getting a good deal less than the "parity" price which the department of agriculture has set as a fair level.

Price rises to date, as the department experts see it, are justified only by a war psychology. These experts assert that:

There is no shortage of any important foodstuff in America.

If there is going to be a big increase in demand due to the war, it has not shown up as yet.

There is, in fact, a surplus of food in practically all lines.

The war psychology is working in two ways, as the department figures it. It causes consumers to buy heavily, either in fear of a shortage or in fear of further price increases; and it causes retailers and distributors to mark up their prices for much the same reasons.

Here Are The Facts

If you have been affected by this war psychology, consider these facts:

1—Right now the department officialy lists as "surplus commodities" butter, shell eggs, corn meal, dried prunes, dry beans, flour (both white and whole wheat), rice, cabbage, fresh tomatoes, fresh green peas, onions (except green onions), fresh peaches, and fresh pears. To dispose of these commodities the government is spending huge sums, through the famous stamp plan. In other words, there's a glut and some of your tax money is being spent to remove it.

PRESENT AND 'PARITY' PRICES
Compared With War-Time Prices of Basic Foodstuffs

| | 1914 | 1915 | 1916 | July, '39 | "Parity" |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Hogs per hundredweight | $7.48 | $6.53 | $8.09 | $6.26 | $9.10 |
| Beef per hundredweight | 6.23 | 6.00 | 6.47 | 6.66 | 6.56 |
| Wheat per bushel | .97.4 | .96.1 | 1.43 | .55.7 | 1.11 |
| Corn per bushel | .70.8 | .68 | 1.16 | .47.8 | .80 |
| Butter per pound | .25.1 | .25.7 | .28 | .22 | .30.8 |

Index numbers of prices received by United States farmers, with the 1910-1914 average price at 100: 1939—January, 94; February, 92; March, 91; April, 89; May, 90; June, 89; July, 89.

2—The department's latest estimates of prospective supply, domestic consumption and probable exports show that this country has more than it needs of these staple foodstuffs: fresh meats, poultry, eggs, butter, lard, wheat, corn, rice, sugar, canned fruits and fruit juices, dried fruits, potatoes and beans.

3—If the war abroad is going to lead to an increased European demand for American foodstuffs, the demand is not apt to appear for some time—judging by the course of things in the last war, at least. Then the price of United States farm products actually went slightly downward during the first year of the war; not until 1916 did European demand increase enough to send American farm prices above the 1914 level.

Furthermore, while retail prices are going up, the farmer is still far under parity. The average July price for wheat, for instance, was 55.7 cents a bushel; average July price for 1910-1914, inclusive, was 86 cents; parity (which is simply the level which the department figures would be fair all around) is $1.11.

Since July wheat prices have gone up, so that now they are around the 1910-1914 average—still a long way below parity.

Farm Council May Act

Much the same thing is true of the other staples. And while retail food mark-ups are causing the department a good deal of concern, the department would hate to see any rise in farm prices checked unless and until parity is reached.

On September 19, Secretary Wallace's agricultural advisory council meets here to see what can be done about the retail price situation. The secretary hopes to avoid any arbitrary price-fixing program.

What he is looking for is some cooperative plan reached by agreement with farmers, processors and distributors to keep prices within reasonable limits.

Meanwhile, the department of justice is studying the situation to see what legislation may be needed to check "profiteering." With the laws new on the books, there is very little the department can do about excessive mark-ups.

It is probable that out of its present study will come recommendations for new laws to give it further power—recommendations which may conceivably be handed to the special congressional session called for September 21.

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 16—Dear Staff: Producers, directors and stars have the distressing habit of jumping at each other's throats on the drop of a hat. I wish they could go through an experience I had this morning—an experience which proved the futility of quick tempers.

En route to work, my mind preoccupied as always, I whirled my car into a busy intersection and almost collided with a heavy sedan which popped unexpectedly out of nowhere. Right away my dander was up, for I blamed the near-accident on the other fellow. I stepped on the gas, intent on catching the offending car to give the driver a piece of my mind (which I admit I can ill spare). He too slowed down to await me, equally intent on telling me off. We were both at the fighting stage.

But as I drew alongside the other machine, I recognized the driver. Bing Crosby—and he recognized me too. Well, I muttered something about having been in a hurry, and the near collision being my fault. "Not at all, old man," he countered, "I shot into that corner too fast; it was my fault." And there we sat, Alphonse-and-Gastoning each other until impatient cars behind honked us on our way.

My point is, there was no reason for us to have been angry in the first place, yet we were ready to snarl and fight when a few sensible, courteous words could straighten things out in a jiffy. As the situation turned out, we both left smiling.

You see what I mean about chip-on-the-shoulder Hollywoodites having similar experiences? A little more pleasantry; a little less snarling—and almost any looks-big-but-isn't studio fuss could be laughed into the discard.

JIMMIE FIDLER.

Dear Boss: Mention of autos dovetails perfectly with the most amusing news tidbit of the week. Seems Director and Mrs. Norman McLeod were entertaining an eastern automobile magnate and his frau, and Mrs. McLeod coined a novel idea for a party. She called the local representatives of the visitor's company and arranged to have a show of their 1940 models in the McLeod patio. As a direct result eight stars who came to the shindig filed orders for cars. And Mrs. McLeod was presented, yesterday, with a brand new station wagon as a token of appreciation.

Here's a bird's-eye view of today's gleanings: Mary (My-Heart-Belongs-to-Daddy) Martin, whose screen contract guarantees her a six months' lull for stage work, will fly back to New York on September 30th to start rehearsals for the musical comedy, "Hold Your Hats". . . Ruth Skinner is filing a counter divorce action against Nick Stewart, Sue Carroll's ex-mate, who's playing with an orchestra somewhere in Texas. . . . Credit Martha Raye with a neat retort to those rumors about matrimonial woes—she's had "Mrs. David Rose" painted on her dressing room door in foot-high letters. . . . George Brent is still incommunicado in that San Bernardino rest home. . . . That illness of Vicki Lester's is more serious than first believed—her mother planed here from the east the other day to be with her. . . . When David Niven is called to the British colors, he will take with him, as a good luck pledge, a prayer book that once belonged to President Woodrow Wilson—the relic is now in the possession of Director Sam Wood, to whom the late president gave it during religious services aboard a World war battle cruiser. . . .

Don Ameche is buying liniment as the result of a freak golfing accident. Seems he played a brassie shot from the rough. The ball hit a nearby tree dead center, rebounded and hit Don—also dead-center. He was out for fifteen minutes and still winces if prodded in the wrong place.

Next time you hear some star moan about "too much work," cite the case of Gene Autry. Thanks to that prolonged European tour and his contract to play in a Twentieth Century super, he must finish three westerns for Republic between now and November fifteenth.

One of the worst train wrecks in railroad history, we learn somewhat belatedly, is an indirect result of the European war. Ty Power was trying to do two things at once on the evening of September fourth—listen to a direct broadcast of war news from Paris and operate his exceedingly complicated miniature electric railway system. Suddenly the broadcast was interrupted by the wail of air raid sirens and Ty, whose Annabella was en route to Paris and whose in-laws live there in force, got so excited he forgot all about the speeding trains. There was a mighty crash and the floor was littered, ankle deep, with debris.

By the way, boss, have you heard Dick Powell's latest rule of measurement? He claims that two pints make one ca-vort.

Human Side Of The News

(Copyright, 1939, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Last February small news items from Europe reported that the European peasants, particularly in France, were again warming up the carmagnole, an ancient dance which is supposed to foretell war. Later, there were several other brief items. I clipped one of them and put it in the suspense file. Unhappily it becomes timely again.

"Around Monaco and in the neighborhood of Aix-la-Chapelle," this story ran, "the peasants are solemnly stepping into the mediaeval carmagnole, the dance which is supposed to be a prophesy of war. There is apparently nothing more than legend to support the story, but this legend is that in the years before the French revolution, peasants were swirling and stamping in this strange dance all over France. One can find no historic record, or any instance of scientific attention to the phenomenon, but it is unquestionably a tenant of ancient continental folk lore, not only in France but in several other countries."

What caught my eye was that reference to Aix-la-Chapelle. It was at Aix-la-Chapelle that the weird dancing mania of the middle ages started in 1373. It lasted for years, with multitudes frantically whirling across Europe, many of them dying from exhaustion and starvation. Much has been written on this strange aberration, but I find no conjecture as to any possible prophetic phase. The late William Graham Sumner, of Yale, wrote in his "Folkways," priceless treasure of world folklore:

"It was an outlet for high nervous tension under which the population was suffering, on account of great calamities, social distress aand superstitious interpretation of the same."

It would be interesting if it could be learned whether this dance was the same, or at all like this re-discovered carmagnole which seems to run on down through the ages. Meager accounts of the mediaeval dancing mania indicate that it was mostly frantic whirling, like the dizzy gyrations of dancing mice. The carmagnole is reported as a savage crescendo of stamping and lunging, with an accelerated tempo, on the whole appearing to have much more form and technique than the mediaeval obsession.

The "wise saw and the modern instance" inevitably touches off Benny Goodman and the swing mania of the last year or two. It would be easy to read into this the savage, staccato, utterly irrational rhythm of war and chaos, and the surge of bedeviled jitterbugs out into the aisles of the Paramount theater in a pre-war year might be examined clinically by some cold-eyed historian of the future. This historian might well agree with Sumner that such goings on were the symptoms of tension aand social pressure rather than prophecy.

But if the historian should work on back a few years, he would find that the first World war was preceded by a dancing mania. He would be interested in the phenomenon of Vernon and Irene Castle coming to the peak of their careers and pacing the country into a national dance obsession just before the guns blazed in Belgium. He also would be interested in this story being re-told in one of the finest films of the time, just before the start of the second World war—as it may yet be. And he would take account of the welling up of savage rhythms in Beale street, Memphis, and the levees and slums of New Orleans; of the sudden explosion of the "Texas Tommy" and "Alexander's Ragtime Band" in San Francisco, with Paul Whiteman's baton ordering this new dissonance into jazz and a nation catching the frenetic beat.

Jazz touching off the first World war and swing the second one, if you like nice, pat deductions and analogies. But that's like making mud pies, in which facts are plastic instead of stubborn.

If you are interested in getting at the authoritative records, I commend to you the one-volume condensation of Sir James George Frazer's magnificent 50-volume work, "The Golden Bough." Indexed under "Dances," and you will find just about all that is known about the ceremonial or prophetic phases of this strange phenomenon. Fostering superstition in times like this is the last thing any responsible person would want to do. "The Golden Bough" is also a golden argosy of facts for those who seek the intellectual as well as the moral equivalent of war.

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

(Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health

Physicians in California have recently remarked that one-third of the practice of most physicians nowadays consists of patients who have what are called anxiety states. These are patients whose symptoms are chiefly the result of what are called anxious reactions.

Any situation or group of circumstances, whether real or fanciful, which threaten the emotional or social life of the individual concerned, may lead to such reactions. Ordinary anxiety is the result of a recognized cause. Examples are fear of harm in a motor accident, or dread of being shot while bullets are flying.

The anxiety state is likely to be related to some condition which the patient himself does not recognize. For instance, the example cited is that of a man who felt that because of illness he was unable to work and could not support the girl that he wanted to marry. The real cause of his symptoms was a hidden desire to avoid the marriage.

These anxiety states may reflect themselves in the body physically by a wide variety of symptoms, including a rapid heart rate, a rise in the blood pressure, an inability to swallow, pains in the abdomen, due to contractions of the lower outlet of the stomach, and an excessive breathing rate.

The patient develops hysterical symptoms so that sometimes he will not see because he is convinced in his own mind that he cannot see, or he will not hear because his subconscious mind tells him that he cannot hear.

The doctor should find out all of the circumstances surrounding the patient's life and then determine the extent to which these subconscious thoughts are concerned in the physical state. If the doctor merely explains in simple non-technical language the nature of the condition, realization by the patient may help to bring it under control.

Mere relief of the physical symptoms will not control the condition, because of the underlying mental state. It is for that reason that many of these patients go from one doctor to another seeking relief. In many instances the patient is dissatisfied with the explanation that is clear and is seeking something outside the realm of fact as an excuse for his unfulfilled desires or his unrecognized fears.

It is necessary for the doctor to use suitable remedies to control spasms of the muscular tissue at the opening or closing ends of the stomach and to remedy a too rapid heart rate or a similar physical condition in order to protect the health of the patient during the period while attack on the cause is being made.

It is not well to hazard a guess that a rapid heart rate is based on a mental causation alone. It is necessary to rule out absolutely any physical causes that may exist. This the doctor may do by making a complete physical study of the heart and sometimes even by using the electrocardiograph to trace the action of its mechanism.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE SOFT ANSWER

Jerry is an overgrown boy, overweight, overheight, and perhaps to hide his feeling of oddity, overbearing in his attitude toward the smaller, weaker and often brighter children in his class. There were frequent complaints about him. He tripped children when they passed near him. He knocked things out of their hands. He would spoil their work. In vain the teachers talked to him, marked his behavior down. He laughed at those who cried and went clumsily on his way.

He enjoyed his shopwork, especially the woodworking shop where he made elaborate models of ships and planes. He was completing his masterpiece, a model of an old stage coach that he hoped would take the gold medal, and prize money, at a coming exhibition. His classmates were making models too, and prized them as much as Jerry did his.

The frailest boy in the group was working on a dainty set of furniture for his sister's doll house. He was going to exhibit it and so had a double interest in its perfection. He had given it a coat of shellac and set it away to dry. Jerry passing by, saw it, knew well what its condition was, and in sheer meanness, brushed it to the floor with one sweep of his arm. The whole class groaned, then protested angrily to the teacher.

The teacher looked at Jerry in stern silence for a moment. His look and the anger of his classmates actually touched Jerry and for once he looked abashed. "I didn't mean it," he muttered.

"No?" said the teacher. "Well, maybe Richard doesn't mean it either. Come over here, Richard."

Richard, his hand sticky with the shellac and sawdust mess that coated his doll's furniture, went to the teacher's side. He was pale with the effort to keep anger and tears under control. Not for the world would he let Jerry see him cry.

"Yes, sir?"

The teacher handed Richard the beautiful little model of the coach that Jerry had spent long loving hours of work upon and said, "You do just what you like with this, Richard. Keep it, break it, throw it out of the window if you like. Jerry has asked for it. He deserves all you give him."

Richard put his sticky hands behind him and looked up at the teacher with grave reproach in his eye. "O no, sir. It is too beautiful to touch. And it is his work. He's an awful means boy to us, but his work is beautiful and anyway, I wouldn't make him lose the medal. I'd like to poke him one in the nose for what he did to me, but he's too big. I don't want any part of him, and I wouldn't touch his work."

Richard got the speech out in broken phrases. Jerry stood spellbound, in dread and fear for his work. Any minute the teacher might close his fist on the frail thing, or do as he suggested to Richard—toss it out of the window. When he understood that Richard despised him but would not touch his work because it was beautiful, he broke down. He was only a little boy inside, not as big as Richard, and for once he knew it. He cleaned up the doll's furniture, humbly enough, and did his best to behave decently. He would succeed in that when his growth was balanced. Knowing Richard helped a lot.

Many children behave badly because they are not properly fed. Be sure that your own little boy or girl forms correct eating habits. Send for Angelo Patri's booklet "Eating," enclosing ten cents in coin. Address Angelo Patri, c/o this newspaper, P. O. Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y.

WASHINGTON—Commerce department officials cannot see where Germany can draw heavily on abundant Russia for war materials.

Reasons given are:

1. Germany hasn't the money to pay for them.
2. Russia does not have much surplus to export.
3. Germany, even in peace times, could not make machinery deliveries, Russia's main need, on time.

Shrouded in mystery is the question whether Russia, for political reasons, will do without important goods herself in order to create a surplus to ship to Germany on credit. Her non-aggression alliance does not call for that sort of treatment. Further, it is doubtful, as viewed here, whether it would be a smart thing for Russia to derpive her own economy of necessities in order to help Germany.

A Trifle

Even in peace times the above factors steadily choked off trade between Germany and Russia. Germany lately made an effort to revive it by offering Russia a 200,000,000 mark credit. Russia agreed to take it out in machinery and pay back over a seven-year period. In turn, Germany was to buy a corresponding amount of Russian goods it needed.

But even if the agreement is carried out promptly and the exchange of goods effected, 200,000,000 marks is only about $80,000,000, a trifling sum in international trade.

The difficulty lies in several directions. Russia already has bought extensively of German machinery during the past 12 years. She has bought whole factories at a time. The first five-year plan in Russia was largely implemented by German machinery.

But machinery breeds machinery and in time Russia began to supply her own needs with machinery she had bought. So her purchases fell off. For instance, in 1931 Russia bought $211,318,000 worth of German goods, primarily textile mills, electrical and metallurgical plants, sugar and flour mills. In return Germany took pulpwood and lumber, oil, manganese ore and other ores.

But by 1938, trade had fallen to $16,249,000 of German purchases in Russia and $9,512,000 Russian purchases in Germany.

Hard Up For Iron

Germany now will be even more hard pressed to make machinery deliveries. Experts here believe she won't even attempt it, as her iron shortage will be terrific. Almost half of her normal iron ore supplies have been cut off.

She still has access to Sweden, her principal supplier. In 1937 she bought 122,000,000 marks worth of iron ore from Sweden out of her 222,000,000 marks of foreign iron ore purchases. In that year France sold her 38,000,000 marks worth of ore. Spain and Spanish Morocco ordinarily supply an additional 30,000,000 marks. That can't get through any more because of the British blockade.

There is a strong suspicion that a long war will have Germany scraping the bottom of the ore bins.

Soviet Honors Ukraine's Famed Poet of Freedom

WORLD attention is focused upon the Ukraine, the granary of eastern Europe, announced objective of Hitler's drive toward the east. Soviet Russia is determined to fight to keep this rich and fertile territory which Nazi Germany eyes so enviously.

It was a wise move, therefore, on the part of the Soviet Postal Administration to issue a set of three stamps honoring Taras Shevchenko, beloved painter and poet, who gave the Ukrainians their favorite songs of freedom. In the Ukraine Shevchenko is a national hero. A museum in Kanev is named for him and monuments to him may be found in Alexandrovsk, Kharkov and other cities.

Shevchenko was born on March 9, 1814 in Kilillovka. His first picture, drawn with charcoal on the wall of the village school, brought him a whipping. His first poem, written in 1841, praised an uprising of the peasants, won him enduring fame.

Under the Czars, Shevchenko's poetry was prohibited and he was imprisoned for 11 years for writing "inciting and libelous compositions." Some of his most famous paintings were inspired by his experiences in prison.

He died in St. Petersburg in 1861 and is buried near Kanev.

RIVER TRAFFIC PLAN IS RAPPED

Wade O. Martin Elected Chairman Of National Waterways Association

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 16.—(AP)—A newly formed National Waterways association announced opposition today to congressional legislation which would place river transportation under interstate commerce commission control.

Wade O. Martin of St. Martinville, La., elected chairman of the association at an organization session here, charged railroads with spreading "propaganda" in favor of the Wheeler-Lea transportation bills. Ten states were represented at the meeting.

"We must organize and fight," said Martin, who is a member of the Louisiana Public Service commission. "We should organize in every state and in every community and get the people mad. You'll be surprised what can be done when the people get hot."

Representatives from Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Tennessee, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Minnesota and California adopted resolutions.

Pledging the organization to fight passage of the Wheeler-Lea bills unless and until they were amended "to insure low cost water services to the middle west, south and southwest."

Appealing to our senators and congressmen to fight for the removal of unjust freight rates discriminations which have been imposed upon this great southwestern area.

Urging our senators and congressmen to oppose any conference report on transportation which does not contain an [illegible] mandate to the I. C. C. which will insure to the public the economies of low-cost water services."

Calling upon waterway associations to urge congress to take no action upon the Wheeler-Lea bills before January in order to enable opponents to shape public opinion against the measures.

W. C. McClure of Camden, secretary of the Arkansas flood control commission, was named secretary of the association.

Polish capital was expected soon after that hour. The Germans said they had advised the Polish civilians by leaflets dropped from airplanes that they could leave the city on two roads which would be protected.

A Polish radio announcer in Warsaw announced last night that a terrific land and air bombardment of the capital had been under way all day Saturday. It was described as the "beginning of an apparent attempt to take Warsaw at all costs."

Germany, again silent on activities on her western front, disclosed in communiques that bitter fighting was under way in Poland, particularly around Kutno and Warsaw.

Kutno, 75 miles west of the capital, still held out against fierce Nazi attacks. As well as Warsaw.

A third section of the German army centered a drive on Lwow in the southeast, Poland's second largest city. The Germans announced capture of Przemysl, 50 miles west of Lwow.

Announcement was made of the death of the first Hohenzollern victim of the war in Poland. Prince Oskar, junior, of Prussia, a grandson of the former kaiser, was killed somewhere in Poland. He was an infantry lieutenant, 24 years old.

In the far east Japanese troops were reported to have opened a general offensive against Chinese forces in central China.

The offensive, coming after nearly a year of desultory tactics, was seen as a possible result of the signing Friday of a far eastern armistice between Russia and Japan, leaving Japan free to concentrate on China and forget her Manchoukuo border.

The war at sea:

At least 100 French sailors were reported killed in an explosion aboard the cruiser Pluton, a main unit in the French minelaying fleet.

The explosion, understood to have occurred off the coast of French Morocco last Tuesday, was indicated in first advices as due to accidental explosion of a mine.

Britain blamed a German mine or submarine for the sinking of the 8,000-ton Belgian motorship Alex Van Opstal Friday night in the English channel. Belgian authorities meanwhile withheld action pending a report from the vessel's master.

It was disclosed authoritatively in London that enemy craft had sunk a total of 21 British ships, of 122,843 tons, in the first two weeks of the war.

The German ambassador to Russia, Count Friedrich von der Schulenberg, intimated in Moscow that the missing $20,000,000 German liner Bremen had been captured by Britain. He said questions about the vessel should be referred to the British first lord of the admiralty, Winston Churchill.

NAZI HIGH COMMAND CHANGES ITS TACTICS

BASEL, Switzerland, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The German high command on the western front today abruptly changed its tactics from static defense of its Siegfried line and was reported to have launched a series of violent attacks on French positions in four main sectors.

Advices received here showed the Germans struck at the French in the Moselle valley, the Nied valley, the area around the rich industrial city of Saarbruecken and in the Vosges mountains.

On the Moselle front, the counter-attacks of the Germans were reported to have been driven back by the French, who continued to advance slowly.

In the Nied valley, the Germans were said to have reoccupied a small section of a strategic plateau but suffered heavy losses. German casualties were reported heavier during this engagement than in any battle on the western front since the war began September 3. French sources said hundreds of prisoners had been taken.

nouncer in the besieged capital, who said the concentrated fire was the "beginning of an apparent German attempt to take Warsaw at all costs."

The announcer said 200 heavy Nazi guns were pouring shells into the capital's streets.

Through the scream of air raid sirens, the speaker's voice could be heard here, saying there was constant bombing by large Nazi squadrons.

The Warsaw announcer said nearly all civilians in the capital were hiding as best they could in cellars, although buildings were collapsing on them.

The battered capital was said to be lacking adequate water and food supplies in the ninth day of the German siege.

The announcer said streets were piled with wreckage created by bombs and shells dropping into "nearly every block of the city."

"All day Warsaw has been under heavy fire," said the announcer. "Air raids destroyed the Protestant church while service was being held and the roof collapsed, killing one hundred persons.

"The Lithuanian legation was destroyed by air bombs.

"All day airplanes have bombed and machine-gunned every inch of the city.

"German planes flying low over buildings tossed incendiary bombs. The capital now is almost a flaming torch.

"Shells crashed into houses and they in turn crashed into heaps of ruins with terrible detonations.

"The fire department is racing helplessly all over town for there have been more than 400 separate fires today.

"Women and children and old men—all the rest are fighting the invaders—are trying to extinguish the blazes with sand and the little water that can be spared from the drinking supply. Their faces are blackened by soot and pitifully lined by fatigue."

The announcer said new posters signed "Smigly-Rydz" (Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, commander-in-chief of the Polish army) had been plastered on "those walls still left standing."

He quoted the posters as calling upon men, women and children to defend Warsaw to the last drop of blood, for the honor of Poland demands it. We must fight the barbarian invaders in every field in every manner with every weapon."

Shortly after 9 p. m. (2 p. m., central standard time) Warsaw's military commander, General Czuma, said over the microphone "from the east the German artillery is bombarding the capital.

"In Wola (western suburb of Warsaw) we captured one tank and one machine gun. To the east of the city there was mostly reconnoitering activity.

"We took many prisoners in the western part of the city, including a colonel, and much material."

Referring to the food situation in Warsaw, General Czuma said "from today, restaurants can serve one plate of food—nourishing soup—only."

GERMAN ULTIMATUM TO POLAND EXPIRES

BERLIN, Sept. 17 (Sunday)—(AP)—A German army ultimatum to Warsaw to surrender without resistance expired some time after 3 a.m. today (8 p.m. central standard time Saturday) but there was no immediate report to Berlin as to what happened at the Polish capital.

Government officials here said they were without information.

The ultimatum said Warsaw would be regarded as a war area if the German terms were not accepted, meaning that the city would be bombarded by artillery and the air force.

German fliers during the afternoon dropped leaflets warning the civilian population of the Polish capital to get out.

The German terms specified that the military command of Warsaw had 12 hours to give up, and then rather ambiguously stated that civilians would have 12 hours to escape in the event the Polish military stood pat.

A propaganda ministry spokesman said a smashing bombardment and air attack on the Polish capital were not expected before 3 p.m. (8 a.m. eastern standard time).

As he interpreted the ultimatum, "the first 12 hours was given the army after which, in the event of its rejection, the civilians have another 12 hours to flee."

The terms to the Warsaw civilian population were set forth in millions of leaflets distributed over the city by German planes late today.

DNB said the German commander sent a message to the Polish commander in Warsaw saying resistance was useless and that the Germans were out of patience because of sniping.

It was reported here the Warsaw commander refused to receive the German messenger or to heed the threat that the city would be subjected to bombardment if capitulation was not forthcoming immediately.

The news agency said the German command was reluctant to endanger innocent citizens and that it had good reason to suspect that "irresponsible Polish leadership" had failed to inform the citizens of the urgency of the situation.

So it was decided, DNB said, to inform the Warsaw population by leaflets showered from planes.

The civilians were told they had 12 hours to get out on two roads which the German army indicated and agreed to protect.

The planes started dropping the leaflets at 3:10 p.m. Therefore it was presumed a smashing German attack on the Polish capital might start soon after that hour tomorrow morning.

The leaflets said the following demands had been made on the military commander of Warsaw:

1. All parts of Warsaw and all Polish troops within it must surrender within 12 hours.

2. In case the order is complied with, the surrender must be reported to the nearest German military commander.

3. In the event this command is not obeyed, the civil population is given 12 hours to leave the city on the roads in the direction of Siedlce and Garwolin.

After 12 hours, the leaflets said, the entire city of Warsaw will be regarded as war area.

The final paragraph said the 12-hour notice began with their distribution.

German military headquarters said a negotiator was sent to the Polish lines at 8 a.m. (1 a.m. central standard time) today with a request that he be taken to the commander of Warsaw's defense.

At 8:30 a.m., (1:30 a.m. central standard time) the German officer found a Polish infantry commander who forwarded the German request to the city.

After a wait of an hour and a half, it was reported, the answer was received that the request was rejected.

In German quarters, it was said the ultimatum gave the civil population short but sufficient time to escape. It was added that today's warning was the last and that if unheeded the authorities of Warsaw would be "completely responsible" for what might happen.

The German command was quoted as saying its patience had been exhausted by sniping and by military opposition that served no purpose and that it now was determined to smash an "annoying but insignificant hindrance which is an inhuman crime against the civil population."

Former experience, it was said, justified the high command in believing that the Polish population had no information of the impending danger.

Therefore, the pamphlets, it was added, were addressed to "Citizens of Warsaw" and scattered in every part of the city.

The leaflets said "your government has made your city a war area. Your military leaders not only shot into the city with heavy artillery but it was demanded of you that you erect street barricades and present the greatest opposition to German troops.

"By the demand that the civil population seize weapons and conduct a warfare of sniping, your government has violated the commonly accepted rules of human conduct.

"The fact that part of the population heeded this call to arms makes Warsaw a war area. In spite of this the Germans up to now, in conformity with the command of the fuehrer, bombed only the objects of military significance, such as railway stations, airfields, barracks, arterial highway and sections of the city in which military establishments were situated."

GERMANY THROWS MORE TROOPS AGAINST KUTNO

By Melvin K. Whiteleather

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Germany threw additional divisions of hard-fighting troops against Kutno, Poland, today in the hope of crushing a Polish "lost army" reported engaged in a bitter seven-day defense of the city.

A German communique, revealing the new move, indicated the army's design was to destroy the Polish divisions at Kutno quickly, at the same time tightening the ring of steel around Warsaw, the capital.

Kutno, 75 miles from Warsaw, is a Polish buffer between Warsaw and the German army to the west.

Another section of the German eastern army was reported pressing southeast toward Lwow, Poland's second largest city and capital of the Polish Ukraine, 225 miles from Warsaw. The communique said the Poles still held Lwow but that scattered divisions of their army were being swept backward.

Prezemysl, 50 miles west of Lwow, was announced to be in German possession, as was Bialystok, 100 miles northeast of Warsaw.

During fighting at Praga, a Warsaw suburb, the German announcement said 8,000 Polish prisoners and 126 cannon were captured.

Meanwhile, a renewal of activity on the diplomatic front was seen in a semi-official "warning" to neutral states not to submit to the British "blockade."

This came as official circles said they saw in the Russian-Japanese armistice the "most important diplomatic event since the outbreak of the European war." The armistice, they said, was greeted in Berlin as "the first step toward further bettering of Russian-Japanese relations."

The "warning" to neutrals, especially the so-called Oslo group, contained a veiled threat of German retaliation if they did not take a strong stand against the British action.

The Nazi position was given as semi-official comment on an official foreign office press release stating that the German government possessed proof that Britain in the last few days had sent notes to the neutrals defining economic neutrality.

"The notes confirm," the press release said, "that England intends to unscrupulously dominate the neutral states and, without regard to the rights of the peoples, ride roughshod over the vital necessities and neutrality rights of these states.

"The tone of the notes is categorical. Their contents go further than the worst fears raised in the neutral states during the past 14 days as a result of their experiences in the World war and the latest British encroachment."

This new diplomatic attack on Britain came as Germany considered that the Polish war was won.

While the Polish government was reported still on Polish soil it was believed here that the government intended to flee to Rumania. In that case, officials said, Germany would consider Poland without a government inasmuch as Rumania, being neutral, could not permit the Polish government to exercise its functions from Rumanian soil.

(Dispatches from Cernauti, Rumania, just across the Polish frontier, said diplomatic circles understood that Polish government officials planned to circle to Paris, if forced to flee their country, rather than remain in Rumania and halt their political activity.)

RUSSIA PLEASED AT NEW POSITION

a major obstacle to an agreement had been torn down by the armistice.

Appointment yesterday of Constantin Smetanian as new ambassador to Japan also was said to have been desirable for obvious diplomatic reasons. He served as charge d'affaires in Tokyo after former Ambassador Mikhail Mikhailovitch Slavutsky returned to Moscow, June 5, 1938.

Tass, official Soviet news agency, said Japanese and Russian forces would hold temporarily the same positions along the frontier they occupied yesterday. A commission of two Soviet--Mongolian and two Japanese-Manchoukuoan representatives was to be formed "at the earliest possible date" to determine a permanent boundary.

(A Japanese communique said prisoners and dead of the frontier fighting would be exchanged. The army section of the Japanese imperial headquarters announced both sides suffered "considerable damage" in the last bitter engagements from August 20 to September 1, but made known no details.)

At least 100 French sailors were reported killed in an explosion aboard the cruiser Pluton, a main unit in the French minelaying fleet.

The explosion, understood to have occurred off the coast of French Morocco last Tuesday, was indicated in first advices as due to accidental explosion of a mine.

Britain blamed a German mine or submarine for the sinking of the 8,000-ton Belgian motorship Alex Van Opstal Friday night in the English channel. Belgian authorities meanwhile withheld action pending a report from the vessel's master.

It was disclosed authoritatively in London that enemy craft had sunk a total of 21 British ships, of 122,843 tons, in the first two weeks of the war.

The German ambassador to Russia, Count Frederich von der Schulenberg, intimated in Moscow that the missing $20,000,000 German liner Bremen had been captured by Britain. He said questions about the vessel should be referred to the British first lord of the admiralty, Winston Churchill.

NAZI HIGH COMMAND CHANGES ITS TACTICS

BASEL, Switzerland, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The German high command on the western front today abruptly changed its tactics from static defense of its Siegfried line and was reported to have launched a series of violent attacks on French positions in four main sectors.

Advices received here showed the Germans struck at the French in the Moselle valley, the Nied valley, the area around the rich industrial city of Saarbruecken and in the Vosges mountains.

On the Moselle front, the counterattacks of the Germans were reported to have been driven back by the French, who continued to advance slowly.

In the Nied valley, the Germans were said to have reoccupied a small section of a strategic plateau but suffered heavy losses. German casualties were reported heavier during this engagement than in any battle on the western front since the war began September 3. French sources said hundreds of prisoners had been taken.

nouncer in the besieged capital, who said the concentrated fire was the "beginning of an apparent German attempt to take Warsaw at all costs."

The announcer said 200 heavy Nazi guns were pouring shells into the capital's streets.

Through the scream of air raid sirens, the speaker's voice could be heard here, saying there was constant bombing by large Nazi squadrons.

The Warsaw announcer said nearly all civilians in the capital were hiding as best they could in cellars, although buildings were collapsing on them.

The battered capital was said to be lacking adequate water and food supplies in the ninth day of the German siege.

The announcer said streets were piled with wreckage created by bombs and shells dropping into "nearly every block of the city."

"All day Warsaw has been under heavy fire," said the announcer. "Air raids destroyed the Protestant church while service was being held and the roof collapsed, killing one hundred persons.

"The Lithuanian legation was destroyed by air bombs.

"All day airplanes have bombed and machine-gunned every inch of the city.

"German planes flying low over buildings tossed incendiary bombs. The capital now is almost a flaming torch.

"Shells crashed into houses and they in turn crashed into heaps of ruins with terrible detonations.

"The fire department is racing helplessly all over town for there have been more than 400 separate fires today.

"Women and children and old men—all the rest are fighting the invaders—are trying to extinguish the blazes with sand and the little water that can be spared from the drinking supply. Their faces are blackened by soot and pitifully lined by fatigue."

The announcer said new posters signed "Smigly-Rydz" (Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, commander-in-chief of the Polish army) had been plastered on "those walls still left standing."

He quoted the posters as calling upon men, women and children to "defend Warsaw to the last drop of blood, for the honor of Poland demands it. We must fight the barbarian invaders in every field in every manner with every weapon."

Shortly after 9 p. m. (2 p. m., central standard time) Warsaw's military commander, General Czuma, said over the microphone "from the east the German artillery is bombarding the capital.

"In Wola (western suburb of Warsaw) we captured one tank and one machine gun. To the east of the city there was mostly reconnoitering activity.

"We took many prisoners in the western part of the city, including a colonel, and much material."

Referring to the food situation in Warsaw, General Czuma said "from today, restaurants can serve one plate of food—nourishing soup—only."

GERMAN ULTIMATUM TO POLAND EXPIRES

BERLIN, Sept. 17 (Sunday).—(AP)—A German army ultimatum to Warsaw to surrender without resistance expired some time after 3 a.m. today (8 p.m. central standard time Saturday) but there was no immediate report to Berlin as to what happened at the Polish capital.

Government officials here said they were wtihout information.

The ultimatum said Warsaw would be regarded as a war area if the German terms were not accepted, meaning that the city would be bombarded by artillery and the air force.

German fliers during the afternoon dropped leaflets warning the civilian population of the Polish capital to get out.

The German terms specified that the military command of Warsaw had 12 hours to give up, and then rather ambiguously stated that civilians would have 12 hours to escape in the event the Polish military stood pat.

A propaganda ministry spokesman said a smashing bombardment and air attack on the Polish capital were not expected before 3 p.m. (8 a.m. eastern standard time).

As he interpreted the ultimatum, "the first 12 hours was given the army after which, in the event of its rejection, the civilians have another 12 hours to flee."

The terms to the Warsaw civilian population were set forth in millions of leaflets distributed over the city by German planes late today.

DNB said the German commander sent a message to the Polish commander in Warsaw saying resistance was useless and that the Germans were out of patience because of sniping.

It was reported here the Warsaw commander refused to receive the German messenger or to heed the threat that the city would be subjected to bombardment if capitulation was not forthcoming immediately.

The news agency said the German command was reluctant to endanger innocent citizens and that it had good reason to suspect that "irresponsible Polish leadership" had failed to inform the citizens of the urgency of the situation.

So it was decided, DNB said, to inform the Warsaw population by leaflets showered from planes.

The civilians were told they had 12 hours to get out on two roads which the German army indicated and agreed to protect.

The planes started dropping the leaflets at 3:10 p.m. Therefore it was presumed a smashing German attack on the Polish capital might start soon after that hour tomorrow morning.

The leaflets said the following demands had been made on the military commander of Warsaw:

1. All parts of Warsaw and all Polish troops within it must surrender within 12 hours.

2. In case the order is complied with, the surrender must be reported to the nearest German military commander.

3. In the event this command is not obeyed, the civil population is given 12 hours to leave the city on the roads in the direction of Siedlce and Garwolin.

After 12 hours, the leaflets said, the entire city of Warsaw will be regarded as war area.

The final paragraph said the 12-hour notice began with their distribution.

German military headquarters said a negotiator was sent to the Polish lines at 8 a.m. (1 a.m. central standard time) today with a request that he be taken to the commander of Warsaw's defense.

At 8:30 a.m., (1:30 a.m. central standard time) the German officer found a Polish infantry commander who forwarded the German request to the city.

After a wait of an hour and a half, it was reported, the answer was received that the request was rejected.

In German quarters, it was said the ultimatum gave the civil population short but sufficient time to escape. It was added that today's warning was the last and that if unheeded the authorities of Warsaw would be "completely responsible" for what might happen.

The German command was quoted as saying its patience had been exhausted by sniping and by military opposition that served no purpose and that it now was determined to smash an "annoying but insignificant hindrance which is an inhuman crime against the civil population."

Former experience, it was said, justified the high command in believing that the Polish population had no information of the impending danger.

Therefore, the pamphlets, it was added, were addressed to "Citizens of Warsaw" and scattered in every part of the city.

The leaflets said "your government has made your city a war area. Your military leaders not only shot into the city with heavy artillery but it was demanded of you that you erect street barricades and present the greatest opposition to German troops.

"By the demand that the civil population seize weapons and conduct a warfare of sniping, your government has violated the commonly accepted rules of human conduct.

"The fact that part of the population heeded this call to arms makes Warsaw a war area. In spite of this the Germans up to now, in conformity with the command of the fuehrer, bombed only the objects of military significance, such as railway stations, airfields, barracks, arterial highway and sections of the city in which military establishments were situated."

GERMANY THROWS MORE TROOPS AGAINST KUTNO

By Melvin K. Whiteleather

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Germany threw additional divisions of hard-fighting troops against Kutno, Poland, today in the hope of crushing a Polish "lost army" reported engaged in a bitter seven-day defense of the city.

A German communique, revealing the new move, indicated the army's design was to destroy the Polish divisions at Kutno quickly, at the same time tightening the ring of steel around Warsaw, the capital.

Kutno, 75 miles from Warsaw, is a Polish buffer between Warsaw and the German army to the west.

Another section of the German eastern army was reported pressing southeast toward Lwow, Poland's second largest city and capital of the Polish Ukraine, 225 miles from Warsaw. The communique said the Poles still held Lwow but that scattered divisions of their army were being swept backward.

Prezemysl, 50 miles west of Lwow, was announced to be in German possession, as was Bialystok, 100 miles northeast of Warsaw.

During fighting at Praga, a Warsaw suburb, the German announcement said 8,000 Polish prisoners and 126 cannon were captured.

Meanwhile, a renewal of activity on the diplomatic front was seen in a semi-official "warning" to neutral states not to submit to the British "blockade."

This came as official circles said they saw in the Russian-Japanese armistice the "most important diplomatic event since the outbreak of the European war." The armistice, they said, was greeted in Berlin as "the first step toward further bettering of Russian-Japanese relations."

The "warning" to neutrals, especially the so-called Oslo group, contained a veiled threat of German retaliation if they did not take a strong stand against the British action.

The Nazi position was given as semi-official comment on an official foreign office press release stating that the German government possessed proof that Britain in the last few days had sent notes to the neutrals defining economic neutrality.

"The notes confirm," the press release said, "that England intends to unscrupulously dominate the neutral states and, without regard to the rights of the peoples, ride roughshod over the vital necessities and neutrality rights of these states.

"The tone of the notes is categorical. Their contents go further than the worst fears raised in the neutral states during the past 14 days as a result of their experiences in the World war and the latest British encroachment."

This new diplomatic attack on Britain came as Germany considered that the Polish war was won.

While the Polish government was reported still on Polish soil it was believed here that the government intended to flee to Rumania. In that case, officials said, Germany would consider Poland without a government inasmuch as Rumania, being neutral, could not permit the Polish government to exercise its functions from Rumanian soil.

(Dispatches from Cernauti, Rumania, just across the Polish frontier, said diplomatic circles understood that Polish government officials planned to circle to Paris, if forced to flee their country, rather than remain in Rumania and halt their political activity.)

a major obstacle to an agreement had been torn down by the armistice.

Appointment yesterday of Constantin Smetanian as new ambassador to Japan also was said to have been desirable for obvious diplomatic reasons. He served as charge d'affaires in Tokyo after former Ambassador Mikhail Mikhailovitch Slavutsky returned to Moscow, June 5, 1938.

Tass, official Soviet news agency, said Japanese and Russian forces would hold temporarily the same positions along the frontier they occupied yesterday. A commission of two Soviet--Mongolian and two Japanese-Manchoukuoan representatives was to be formed "at the earliest possible date" to determine a permanent boundary.

(A Japanese communique said prisoners and dead of the frontier fighting would be exchanged. The army section of the Japanese imperial headquarters announced both sides suffered "considerable damage" in the last bitter engagements from August 20 to September 1, but made known no details.)

In reference to the election contest, Fields' statement said:

"While the contests were on a secret meeting was held to try to declare the Democratic Fifth district committee chairmanship vacant and to keep me from being chairman. That failed.

"Then a plot was made to kidnap me on the day the committee met, when I had valuable papers in my possession and my vote was necessary at the meeting and before the court."

Bill Black, co-captain of the Warriors, made the outstanding play of the game when he intercepted a Tiger pass and ran 99 yards for a touchdown. George Ashy scored another when he caught one of Tom Murphy's passes. The other touchdown was made by Sam Soloman, guard, who intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards to score.

The Neville Tigers displayed a stubborn defense during the first half but weakened in the third and fourth quarters.

JESSE OWENS IN EXHIBITIONS HERE

Famous Negro Track Star Will Be Feature Of Kansas City-Memphis Game

When the Kansas City Monarchs and the Memphis Red Sox meet here at [illegible] park next Wednesday night, a feature attraction of the game will be exhibitions by Jesse Owens, Ohio State's famous negro track star.

The Monarchs and the Red Sox always put on good entertainment for the fans, but with Owens' exhibitions in addition to the program, will be an outstanding event here. Popular admission prices will be charged, it was announced yesterday.

Owens, holder of several world records, is known to every sports fan. He began breaking records when he was in high school, and then the negro from the Alabama cotton fields continued his meteoric career throughout his college days and then climaxed his efforts by setting three new marks in the Berlin Olympics in 1936. Two of the records smashed the world marks for 100 and 200 meters.

Following the Olympics, Owens competed in exhibitions throughout Europe but when he became stale from too much work and refused to go to Sweden for bare expenses, he was suspended from the A. A. U. and thus his amateur days were over. Since then he has been barnstorming about the country and has attracted huge crowds. He netted $50,000 his first year out. He is said to have run before 800,000 persons last year.

Owens will run three exhibitions during the Kansas City-Memphis game here Wednesday night.

The Monarchs recently won the championship of the Negro American league, defeating the St. Louis Stars four games to one. Memphis won the American loop title in 1938, and thus the game here will bring together the champions of '39 and '38.

Several players of both teams were placed on the negro all-star squad which met in Comiskey park in Chicago last August before a capacity audience.

Battle Slated At Detroit Wednesday Night; Louis-Galento Fight In Offing

By Sid Feder

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16—(AP)— Mike Jacobs' punch caravan headed west tonight for the Joe Louis-Bob Pastor party in Detroit, enlivened by a loud and boisterous argument over the stage setting for the main act of 1940's fistic follies.

Looming in the offing is the return go between Louis (if he gets by Pastor Wednesday night) and the round little barkeeper from Jersey, Tony Galento, who wound up at the head of the heavyweight contending parade again last night by stopping Lou Nova in 14 rounds of the bloodiest kind of butcher-shop carving seen in any ring any time.

Mike Jacobs announced the return Galento-Louis go for the title for next June and then stepped smack into a completely unexpected squawk from Galento's quiet little manager, Joe Jacobs, who could be heard whispering his protests anyway three blocks away. Yussel, whose second's license in New York has been revoked and who has been refused a manager's permit there, vowed up and down Tony would not fight Louis in New York. "Uncle Mike" insisted he would.

Mike pointed out later that he holds a five-year exclusive contract to Two-Ton Tony's fistic activities.

The fuss wound up temporarily after the two had argued in a circle for half an hour.

Heading west, the fight crowd left behind [illegible] California kid [illegible] quite measure [illegible] Battered and bruised, he remained in a hospital, ten stitches in the right eye which Galento opened to the bone when he held target practice last night in Municipal stadium.

Lou will remain in the hospital for four or five days, his pilot, Ray Carlen, explained. Then he will return to the coast for a rest of three months or thereabouts before thinking again of taking up the trail.

There was mention of a fight between him and Light Heavyweight King Billy Conn some time in the future. Conn defends his title [illegible] against Melio Bettina in Pittsburgh September 25 [illegible] caravan.

A surprisingly disappointing showing of the fans marked last night's festivities. Far off the original estimates of $[illegible], the gross gate was [illegible] $62,[illegible]. The net was $56,[illegible], from which the two principals received $1[illegible] each.

The veteran of the ring acted on the theory that it was the fighters' fight and he interfered as little as possible. FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 16—(AP)—Welby Van Horn, the [illegible] from Los Angeles, and Bobby Riggs, Wimbledon champion and Davis Cup star, [illegible] semi-final matches at Forest Hills [illegible] National Tennis [illegible]

The first set between Miss Jacobs and Miss Stammers possibly was the worst tennis in a national semi-final since the girls quit playing in bustles. There were nine consecutive breaks in service, among other things. On her form, Miss Marble should dust Helen off very handily in the final.

Van Horn was the day's big noise, as he was yesterday in beating Wayne Sabin. There is little doubt in anybody's mind that he will be the champion next year, no matter what Riggs does to him tomorrow.

In the clubhouse, Bromwich said he had seen enough of Van Horn to last him a lifetime. "Two years from now," he said wearily, "I wouldn't even want to be in the same part of town with him."

He said it was Welby's service that got him. Toward the last, he said, he knew he'd never break through that cannon ball delivery again.

Sports Chatter

By GEORGE V LOFTON

FOOTBALL AGAIN

The weather says it's baseball but the calendar differs.

Regardless of the weather, the football season officially opens in Monroe next Friday night when the Northeast Center Indians meet the strong Murray Oklahoma State college eleven at the local stadium. Murray, we're told, has lost one game since 1931.

Before you correct us, we admit that the name of the school has been changed to Northeast Junior college. Nevertheless, it's going to be Northeast Center on publicity we send out this year. The schedule sent to New York and Chicago for national publication carried the name Northeast Center. When the Monroe school won the national junior college championship it was Northeast Center. When the Indians were the highest scoring team in the nation it was Northeast Center. Darned if we're going to rob Monroe of the recognition the team has gained in the past few years just because somebody wants to change the name of the school every five or six years!

Getting back to that schedule, Jim Malone has booked the best card in the history of the institution. Following the Oklahoma game, the Indians meet Tulane's freshmen and the week following that encounter, the Braves tangle with L. S. U.'s yearlings. A freshman team of a major university is plenty tough, and make no mistake about that. Jim really will be lucky if he holds 'em to a low score.

On October 13, the Indians renew relations with Bill Walton's Ouachita college eleven of Arkadelphia, Ark. No comment is necessary there. The best football produced hereabouts was that of the Center-Ouachita games in the past.

Then come Henderson State, with a new coach and not a man lost from last year's squad; Copiah-Lincoln's smooth-working eleven which always gives the Indians a tough battle; the U. S. Navy Air corps team of Pensacola, which boasts several former Annapolis stars; the traditional battle with Southeastern at Hammond, and the wind-up against the East Mississippi Junior college team on Thanksgiving. East Mississippi, incidentally, won the junior college title in Mississippi last season.

Coach Malone has some excellent material this season but he'll need it all, plus plenty of luck, to come through that tough array without defeat.

MORE UPSETS

Last Sunday we commented on the uncertainties of baseball, citing the sad experience of Monroe's White Sox in the Cotton States league preliminaries as a horrible example.

Last week produced more ammuni-ion for our argument that anything an happen to a favored team.

Chattanooga finished first in the outhern association. Yet Chattanooga st three consecutive games to Atnta, fourth place club, in the aughnessy playoff. Memphis, after ding the league for several months, mped toward the end and finished ond. Yet the second place Chicks pped three straight to the third e Nashville Vols.

RUSTON TO PLAY HODGE TODAY IN 4TH FLAG GAME

'Lefty' Butler To Start On Mound For Wa-Ha's, 'Lefty' Hinton For Vols

HODGE, La., Sept. 16.—(Special)—The Ruston Volunteers and the Hodge Wa-Ha's resume their battle for the Ouachita Valley baseball league championship here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the fourth game of the title series.

The Vols, winner of the first half schedule, hold a 2-to-1 lead over the Wa-Ha's at the present, and a hard-fought game is expected Sunday with the locals determined to even the series.

The first team to win four games will be crowned champion of the league. Ruston's Volunteers are the defending champs.

A battle of left-handers is expected. "Lefty" Butler, who won the initial game of the series for Hodge, is slated to start the Sunday contest. Lawrence "Lefty" Hinton, who hurled for the Monroe White Sox through the Cotton States campaign, and who gave the Vols their first victory in the second game of the series, will pitch for the invaders.

BULL PUPS LOSE TO L. S. U. FROSH

Tiger Freshmen Open Season By Whipping Tech First-Year Team, 21-0

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Louisiana State's freshman football squad opened its season tonight by whipping Louisiana Tech's Bull Pups, 21-0, showing decided superiority.

The L. S. U. frosh scored on sustained marches of 60, 66 and 52 yards in first, third and fourth quarters. Bob Griffin, fleet halfback, dashed 10 yards for the first touchdown and Fullback Troy Sharp drove two to get the second. A great pass from Sonny Richardson to Ed Torzylwoski that gained 50 yards snagged the final tally. Big Walter Barnes kicked the first two extra points from placement, and Richardson added the final point.

Louisiana Tech failed to threaten, making but two first downs, one on a penalty and the other on a late pass. The Ruston frosh squad found the massive L. S. U. line too much for their players.

Ouachita, Normal Freshmen Play Here Thursday Night

Contest At Brown Field Will Usher In 1939 Gridiron Season In Monroe

The 1939 football season will be ushered in here Thursday night by the Ouachita Parish High school Lions and the Louisiana State Normal freshmen in a game to be played at Brown field beginning at 8 o'clock.

Coach "Lefty" Haynes returned here yesterday with his Ouachita forces from Baton Rouge where the Lions lost a hard fought battle, 14 to 0, to Istrouma's defending Class AA state champions.

The Lions came out of the Istrouma fray in good condition, and, because of the fact that the locals had only four regulars from 1938 in their line-up, the Lions are to be complimented in giving the Tribesmen the battle they did.

Louisiana Normal's Imps will be facing the Ouachita aggregation again for the first time since 1937 when the Normal frosh trimmed the Lions, 14 to 0.

The game Thursday will be Ouachita's last here until October when the Vivian Warriors invade Monroe. Vivian, a Class AA conference foe of the Lions last season, is playing as a Class A team this year.

Although Istrouma was a double A team the loss Friday does not affect the Lions' chances for the conference championship, Istrouma is in the south Louisiana district, and only defeats by north Louisiana district double A teams will effect the Ouachita title hopes.

The Lions' conference games begin with a clash against Haynesville's Golden Tornado, defending north Louisiana champs, at Haynesville on October 27. Other conference games will be played against Fair Park of Shreveport, Byrd of Shreveport and Bolton of Alexandria.

Neville Loses 1st Clash To Oakdale, 21-0

OAKDALE, La., Sept. 16.—(Special)—The Oakdale Warriors opened their 1939 football campaign on their home field with a decisive victory over Neville High Tigers of Monroe. The final score was Oakdale 21, Neville 0.

The locals outplayed the visitors in every department, outgaining them from scrimmage, making more first downs and getting more yards via the air.

Bill Black, co-captain of the Warriors, made the outstanding play of the game when he intercepted a Tiger pass and ran 99 yards for a touchdown. George Ashy scored another when he caught one of Tom Murphy's passes. The other touchdown was made by Sam Soloman, guard, who intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards to score.

The Neville Tigers displayed a stubborn defense during the first half but weakened in the third and fourth quarters.

Oakdale finished the game with their reserves for the most part making up the team.

First downs were Neville 6, Oakdale 7. Neville completed only four passes and Oakdale connected with three.

| Oakdale | Pos. | Neville |
|---|---|---|

Famous Negro Track Star Will Be Feature Of Kansas City-Memphis Game

When the Kansas City Monarchs and the Memphis Red Sox meet here at Casino park next Wednesday night, a feature attraction of the game will be exhibitions by Jesse Owens, Ohio State's famous negro track star.

The Monarchs and the Red Sox always put on good entertainment for the fans, but with Owens' exhibitions in addition the program will be an outstanding event here. Popular admission prices will be charged, it was announced yesterday.

Owens, holder of several world records, is known to every sports fan. He began breaking records when he was in high school and the lithe negro from the Alabama cotton fields continued his meteoric career throughout his college days and then climaxed his efforts by setting three new marks in the Berlin Olympics in 1936. Two of the records smashed the world marks for 100 and 200 meters.

Following the Olympics, Owens competed in exhibitions throughout Europe but when he became stale from too much work and refused to go to Sweden for bare expenses, he was suspended from the A. A. U. and thus his amateur days were over. Since then he has been barnstorming about the country and has attracted huge crowds. He netted $50,000 his first year out. He is said to have run before 800,000 persons last year.

Owens will run three exhibitions during the Kansas City-Memphis game here Wednesday night.

The Monarchs recently won the championship of the Negro American league, defeating the St. Louis Stars four games to one. Memphis won the American loop title in 1938, and thus the game here will bring together the champions of '39 and '38.

Several players of both teams were placed on the negro all-star squad which met in Comiskey park in Chicago last August before a capacity audience.

Jacobs' Caravan Goes West For Louis-Bob Pastor Bout

Battle Slated At Detroit Wednesday Night; Louis-Galento Fight In Offing

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Mike Jacobs' punch caravan headed west tonight for the Joe Louis-Bob Pastor party in Detroit, enlivened by a loud and boisterous argument over the stage setting for the main act of 1940's fistic follies.

Looming in the offing is the return go between Louis (if he gets by Pastor Wednesday night) and the round little barkeeper from Jersey, Tony Galento, who wound up at the head of the heavyweight contending parade again last night by stopping Lou Nova in 14 rounds of the bloodiest kind of butcher-shop carving seen in any ring any time.

The fuss wound up temporarily, after the two had argued in a circle for half an hour.

Heading west, the fight crowd left behind the tall California kid who didn't quite measure up to the solid gold of his reputation as "the golden boy." Battered and bruised, he remained in a hospital, ten stitches in the right eye which Galento opened to the bone when he held target practice last night in Municipal stadium.

Lou will remain in the hospital for four or five days, his pilot, Ray Carlen, explained. Then he will return to the coast for a rest of three months or thereabouts before thinking again of taking up the trail.

There was mention of a fight between him and Light-Heavyweight King Billy Conn some time in the future. Conn defends his 175-pound laurels against Melio Bettina in Pittsburgh September 25, third stop in the fistic caravan.

A surprisingly disappointing showing of the faithful marked last night's festivities. Far off the original rose-colored estimates of $150,000, the gross gate was only $69,806.46. The net was $56,655.64, from which the two principals received $14,163.91 each.

Former Rallies To Defeat Jack Bromwich, Latter Squelches Joe Hunt

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 16—(AP)—Welby Van Horn, the ball-busting kid from Los Angeles, and Bobby Riggs, Wimbledon champion and Davis Cup star, won their semi-final matches at Forest Hills today and will clash tomorrow for the National Tennis championship.

Van Horn, 19-year-old unseeded astonisher of the tournament, produced another of his last-ditch rallies to defeat Jack Bromwich, the double-handed Australian champion, 2-6, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, 8-6. As the score indicates, it was a thriller, full of fire and brimstone.

The cool canny Riggs had no trouble at all squelching Joe Hunt, the Annapolis midshipman, 6-1, 6-2, 4-6, 6-1. The ease of his victory established him a favorite over the youngster he faces tomorrow, no matter how hard the crowd might be rooting for the wonder boy.

Two long-time California rivals, Alice Marble and Helen Jacobs, reached the women's final. Alice, the defending champion, scarcely got a warm-up in turning back Virginia Wolfenden of San Francisco, 6-0, 6-1, and Helen disposed of Kay Stammers of England, 7-5, 6-0.

The first set between Miss Jacobs and Miss Stammers possibly was the worst tennis in a national semi-final since the girls quit playing in bustles. There were nine consecutive breaks in service, among other things. On her form, Miss Marble should dust Helen off very handily in the final.

Van Horn was the day's big noise, as he was yesterday in beating Wayne Sabin. There is little doubt in anybody's mind that he will be the champion next year, no matter what Riggs does to him tomorrow.

In the clubhouse, Bromwich said he had seen enough of Van Horn to last him a lifetime. "Two years from now," he said wearily, "I wouldn't even want to be in the same part of town with him."

YANKEES CLINCH AMERICAN LEAGUE PENNAN

Red Sox Fade Out Of Picture As Leaders Become Champions For 4th Year

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The American league pennant farce came to a sudden end today with the New York Yankees lashing the Detroit Tigers 8 to 5 and clinching their fourth consecutive championship.

Actually it made no difference if they won or lost, because the second place Boston Red Sox were defeated by Cleveland to automatically fade out of the race.

But the Yankees wanted no repetition of last year's windup when they were handed the flag September 18 while losing a doubleheader to the hapless St. Louis Browns.

They took full advantage of 11 hits and three Detroit errors with Robert (Red) Rolfe hitting a triple behind loaded bases and a double with two runners in scoring position to sew up the decision in the seventh and eighth innings. These were Rolfe's 200 and 201st hits of the year.

Rookie Marius Russo, the southpaw who came up this spring from Newark, worked the route for his seventh victory and sixth in a row. The only runs scored off him for seven innings came on Hank Greenberg's 28th home run with one on in the third, taking away a temporary lead New York gained on Joe DiMaggio's 28th homer in the second.

The Tigers got six hits and three runs off him in the last two frames, but he rode out the storm. Henry Pippen was the victim of New York's onslaught, giving way to Al Benton in the eighth.

Today's victory gave the Yankees 96 won against 41 lost for the season and a 17 game lead over the Red Sox, who have won 81 and lost 58. Each of the clubs has 15 contests left to play.

This was the second time in major league history a team has won four successive pennants. The New York Giants did it in the National league between 1921-24 when managed by the late John McGraw.

However, the Yankees are the only team [illegible] to capture three straight [illegible] championships and this [illegible] will have a chance to bag a fourth in the world series starting at Yankee stadium October 4.

The Yankees have won eleven American league pennants, the first six for the late Miller Huggins and the others under Joe McCarthy, who took over the management in 1931. The record of their pennant seasons under McCarthy follows:

| Year | Won | Lost | Pct | Margin | Runner-up |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1932 | 107 | 47 | .696 | 13 | Athletics |
| 1936 | 102 | 51 | .667 | 19½ | Tigers |
| 1937 | 102 | 52 | .662 | 13 | Tigers |
| 1938 | 99 | 53 | .651 | 9½ | Red Sox |

McCarthy has been a major league manager for 14 years and won the National league pennant with the Chicago Cubs in 1929, losing to the Philadelphia Athletics in the world series. In five years with the Cubs his teams never finished out of the first division and since coming to the Yankees his teams have never finished worse than second.

INDIANS TRIM RED SOX

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—A three-way battle for runner-up to the Yankees in the American league developed today as the Cleveland Indians edged the crippled Red Sox 2 to 1, for their fifth straight victory to make a clean sweep in the three-game series with Boston.

New York having captured the pennant, interest focused on the fourth-place Indians' tremendous final drive to challenge the Red Sox and Chicago White Sox, which have been the best bets to date for second honors.

Ken Keltner drove in both Cleveland runs today to lift the Indians within 3 1-2 games of the second place Red Sox.

A'S SHADE CHISOX

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The Athletics scored their third straight victory over the Chicago White Sox, 7-6, in a hectic 12-inning ball game today, after coming from behind to tie the score in the ninth.

The A's scored their winning run in the 12th without the aid of a basehit. A walk to Sam Chapman, an error by Eric McNair on Bill Lillard's grounder and a second error by Joe Kuhel, who threw wild attempting to force Lillard at second, permitted Chapman to tally the deciding marker.

CINCINNATI REDS TROUNCE GIANTS BY 6 TO 1 SCORE

Bucky Walters Scatters Five Hits To Bag His 25th Victory Of Season

CINCINNATI, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Bucky Walters scattered five hits today and earned his 25th victory of the season as the Cincinnati Reds crushed the New York Giants, 6 to 1, in celebration of the 20th anniversary of the date they clinched their only National league pennant.

But St. Louis' stubborn Cardinals hung onto the chase 3½ games behind by beating the Boston Bees, 6 to 5.

DODGERS DOWN PIRATES

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers downed the Pirates, 3 to 2, today to manufacture a three-game winning streak.

The contest was a red-hot hurling battle between Freddy Fitzsimmons, 38-year-old knuckleball specialist, and curver-baller Joe Bowman for seven scoreless innings.

Then in the eighth the Dodgers jammed across three runs on four hits, including Ernie Koy's double off the left field fence.

CARDS SWEEP SERIES

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Those die-hard St. Louis Cardinals came from behind again today to break the enemy defense in the lucky seventh and score their fifth straight victory, 6 to 5, for a clean sweep of the three-game series with Boston.

Lynn King, a brilliant fielding youngster with no reputation as a slugger, went in as a pinch hitter and delivered the single that sent the tying and winning runs across the plate.

Up to that point all the glory belonged to George Barnicle, skinny young right-hander the Bees picked up from Hartford, Conn. He went to the hill with two out in the the sixth and knocked at the door of the record book by striking out five tough batters—Brown, Gutteridge, Slaughter, Medwick and Mize—in a row.

Then Don Padgett broke the string of strikeouts with a double, and as Barnicle tried to put too much on the ball he walked Terry Moore and Stu Martin to fill the bases. That's where King came in.

Marvin Ward Wins National Amateur Golf Championship

PRODUCES DEADLY GAME TO DEFEAT BILLOWS, 7 AND 5

Spokane Player Gets His Fifth Birdie Of Day To Win Crown At 31st Green

By Earl Hilligan

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., a fellow who likes to stand in there and punch until something happens, slammed his way to the National Amateur golf championship today.

Producing a fighting game which left his opponent no quarter, Ward drove to a 7 and 5 victory over little Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in the 43rd title tournament at the North Shore course.

In succeeding Willie Turnesa of Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., as the United States Golf association's amateur titleholder, Ward did it with such cool, deadly purpose that before the morning round was three-quarters over it seemed only a matter of time before the New Yorker—who tried to hang on gamely—would go down for good.

The final four holes furnished almost a perfect brief of the entire duel. Seven up through 27 holes, they halved the 28th. Then Billows, with one last desperate rally, won the 29th with a par as Ward missed a five-foot putt that would have given him a half.

At the next hole Ward hooked to a trap, but the Spokane curly-head came out of the sand beautifully, getting a half which enabled him to deliver the knockout punch at the 31st.

On this 190-yard hole both were on the green with their tee shots, Billows about 15 feet away and Ward knocking his to within six feet of the pin. Billows missed by a yard. Ward coolly stepped up and rammed the putt down for the hole and championship.

When he got into trouble—and he was several times—Ward battled his way out with a tenacious consistency that must have taken some of the heart out of the Poughkeepsie player. On the 16th, Ward went over the green as Billows put his tee shot on nicely and apparently had a chance to reduce Ward's margin to three holes. Ward calmly chipped back, sinking a six-footer for a half.

Again at the 19th, where both drove to the rough, Ward had a fine second that led to a par as Billows took a bogie. Ward's fine explosion shot from a trap—followed by a nine-foot putt—won him the 22nd with a par after Billows had been on in two, only to three putt.

And at the 28th the Spokane ace delivered the outstanding shot of the match—using a mashie niblick to chip six feet over Billows' ball into the cup for a par and a half.

Ward won the first hole and went two up by winning the third, but Billows, particularly wild during the morning round, fought back to finally square the match on the eighth.

Starting the second nine this morning with a one-up margin after Billows had three-putted the ninth, Ward began punching at the 12th. He won that hole and the next two with a par and two birdies, tapping in a great 35-foot putt at the 12th and a 12-footer at the 14th. He won the 17th but lost the 18th as his drive strayed into the rough and they went to lunch with Ward four up.

In the afternoon, Ward won the 19th with a fine second from the rough that led to a par, Billows also being in the rough but unable to find the green with his second. Ward won the 22nd, lost the 25th on Billows' six-foot birdie putt, then got his seven-hole lead at the 27th, knocking a great second stiff to the pin after Billows' put his second in a trap, exploded out 20 feet short, then rimmed the cup with his first putt.

Then came the final four holes, with Ward getting his fifth birdie of the day to win the title at the 31st green. Ward's medal for the day—with several conceded putts—was one under par for the 31 holes as compared to Billows' medal of seven over regulation figures.

Ward's route to the championship started with his one up win in 20 holes over Eddie Held, Edgewater, Colo., and was followed by these victories: Chris Brinke, Birmingham, Mich., 5 and 4; Joe Thompson, Burlington, Ont., 2 up; Ed Kingsley, Salt Lake City, Utah, 3 and 1, and his semi-finals win from Chicago's Art Doering, 2 and 1.

11 SCHOOLS FORM LOOP OF 6-MAN GRID TEAMS

CLEVELAND, Miss., Sept. 16.—(AP)—An eleven-school, six-man football league was formed today at the annual Delta Literary and Athletic association meeting in Delta State Teachers' college.

Athletic Director Dudy R. Noble of Mississippi State college addressed more than two hundred school superintendents and coaches at the meeting, praising the improvement in football in the high schools and colleges of the state.

The coaches suggested the superintendents recommend to the state executive committee the establishment of a physical education and health department as a unit in the state department of education, with a full time supervisor.

The coaches also recommended that a physical education program for the junior high schools be set up.

'Sailor' Watkins To Meet Tough Foe Thursday Night

Former Wrestling Champion Of Navy Being Brought Back At Request Of Fans

Virtually complete arrangements have been made by Promoter Gus Kallio for a strong and well balanced wrestling program at his arena, 504 Walnut street, Thursday night. All four of the grapplers booked for this card are powerful men and none of them is averse to roughness.

"Sailor" Watkins, former navy champion and one of the roughest and toughest men in the light heavyweight division, has been signed for the main event and is expected to meet "Sailor" Moran of California, also a former navy champion. Each claims he is now champion of the ex-navy champions and if they are brought together Thursday night this issue will be decided.

It is possible, however, that Kallio will not be able to arrange to bring Moran here and in that case Watkins will be matched with Joe Benaski, Polish matman, from Columbus, O. Benaski is said to be a strong contender for the light heavyweight championship and is recognized as such in several states. He has been trying unsuccessfully for some time to get a match with the generally recognized champion. If Benaski is brought here the match should be fully as good as if Moran is obtained. A definite announcement as to which of the men has been signed will be made in Tuesday's papers.

Two strong men who know their wrestling have been booked for the semi-final and this match should be as good as the main event, though possibly not as rough. Carl von Bromberg of Berlin, Germany, will meet "Dizzy" Davis, handsome Houston, Tex., matman.

If Benaski comes here for the main event, it will mean that representatives of two of the warring countries in Europe will appear, as Benaski is a Pole and Bromberg a German. Kallio has announced, however, that the question of nationality will be kept down and Bromberg will not make his customary Nazi salute.

Alden "Butch" Martin, who refereed last week and won the approval of the crowd, will be the third man in the ring again this week. Martin, a powerful man and former state high school heavyweight boxing champion, is able to handle the wrestlers capably.

Interest of Monroe fans in wrestling continues at a high pace and, with a strong card arranged, it is expected that the crowd Thursday night will be one of the largest that has yet attended a match here.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Eddie Brietz

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—(AP)—You could have had 100 to 1 from almost any odds layer in Philly that Galento wouldn't have gone 14 rounds to win. . . . Old Tony may never be champion, but will do as a challenger until some one better comes along. . . . George Blake can referee for our dough—he was just as smooth as the advance notices said. . . . Philly made the fight a civic proposition. . . . A huge electric sign, "Galento vs. Nova," was strung across the front of the city hall. . . . Mike Jacobs packed up his fistic circus and carted it off to Detroit where Pastor and Louis will be offered Wednesday night. . . . Personally, this correspondent never saw Nova in poorer shape for a fight—he was tired from the third round on.

Oddities: Since 1895 the University of Cincinnati football teams have scored 4,462 points. Believe it or not, their opponents have counted exactly the same number over the 53 seasons of play. . . . The San Francisco Dons have a first year gridder who is a senior, junior and freshman all at the same time. . . . The Cape Girardeau (Mo.) Teachers and the Carbondale (Ill.) Teachers open and close for football season against each other. . . . Will Connolly of the San Francisco Chronicle always refers to our glorious Dodgers as the Marx brothers.

There will be four married guys on the Southern California football team this season. . . . The Dodgers are about to open ten baseball tryouts camps in the south and west. . . . Crooner Bing Crosby cleaned up at Aqueduct. . . . One of the Boston writers got a laff when he wrote: "The Red Sox seem to have lost their sense of direction and are chasing the Browns instead of the Yanks."

Fire, fire!! Clear the track for Cousin Lou Novikoff. . . . If he doesn't wind up the season as the leading hitter in two leagues, it will not be his fault. . . . He was leading the Texas league when Los Angeles recalled him from Tulsa . . . and latest averages show he's out in front on the coast (.378) with only a few games to go.

BLIGHT FALLS ON BATTING LEADERS OF MAJOR LOOPS

Averages Of Joe DiMaggio And Johnny Mize Drop; Joe Medwick Climbs

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(AP)—An early frost blighted the major league hitting leaders this week like so many summer flowers.

Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees, ambitious to be the first .400 hitter in nine years, collapsed from .405 to .390 and in the National league Johnny Mize of the St. Louis Cardinals made virtually the same drop from .363 to .349.

There was one important difference in their tail-spins, however. DiMaggio is in no danger of losing the American league batting championship, but Mize is threatened in the senior circuit.

His teammate, Joe Medwick, who edged him out two years ago, has been climbing swiftly and this week took over second place with a .338 average.

Red Sox Fade Out Of Picture As Leaders Become Champions For 4th Year

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The American league pennant farce came to a sudden end today with the New York Yankees lashing the Detroit Tigers 8 to 5 and clinching their fourth consecutive championship.

Actually it made no difference if they won or lost, because the second place Boston Red Sox were defeated by Cleveland to automatically fade out of the race.

But the Yankees wanted no repetition of last year's windup when they were handed the flag September 18 while losing a doubleheader to the hapless St. Louis Browns.

They took full advantage of 11 hits and three Detroit errors with Robert (Red) Rolfe hitting a triple behind loaded bases and a double with two runners in scoring position to sew up the decision in the seventh and eighth innings. These were Rolfe's 200 and 201st hits of the year.

Rookie Marius Russo, the southpaw who came up this spring from Newark, worked the route for his seventh victory and sixth in a row. The only runs scored off him for seven innings came on Hank Greenberg's 28th home run with one on in the third, taking away a temporary lead New York gained on Joe DiMaggio's 28th homer in the second.

The Tigers got six hits and three runs off him in the last two frames, but he rode out the storm. Henry Pippen was the victim of New York's onslaught, giving way to Al Benton in the eighth.

Today's victory gave the Yankees 98 won against 41 lost for the season and a 17 game lead over the Red Sox, who have won 81 and lost 58. Each of the clubs has 15 contests left to play.

This was the second time in major league history a team has won four successive pennants. The New York Giants did it in the National league between 1921-24 while managed by the late John McGraw.

However, the Yankees are the only team in history to capture three straight world championships and now will have a chance to bag a fourth in the world series starting at Yankee stadium October 4.

The Yankees have won eleven American league championships, six for the late Miller Huggins and five since Joe McCarthy took over the managership in 1931. The record of their pennant seasons under McCarthy follows:

| Year | Won | Lost | Pct. | Margin | Runner-up |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1932 | 107 | 47 | .696 | 13 | Athletics |
| 1936 | 102 | 51 | .667 | 19½ | Tigers |
| 1937 | 102 | 52 | .662 | 13 | Tigers |
| 1938 | 99 | 53 | .651 | 9½ | Red Sox |

McCarthy has been a major league manager for 14 years and won the National league pennant with the Chicago Cubs in 1929, losing to the Philadelphia Athletics in the world series. In five years with the Cubs his teams never finished out of the first division and since coming to the Yankees his teams have never finished worse than second.

INDIANS TRIM RED SOX

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—A three-way battle for runner up to the Yankees in the American league developed today as the Cleveland Indians edged the crippled Red Sox, 2 to 1, for their fifth straight victory to make a clean sweep in the three-game series with Boston.

New York having captured the pennant, interest focused on the fourth-place Indians' tremendous final drive to challenge the Red Sox and Chicago White Sox, which have been the best bets to date for second money.

Ken Keltner drove in both Cleveland runs today to lift the Indians within 3 1-2 games of the second place Red Sox.

A'S SHADE CHISOX

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The Athletics scored their third straight victory over the Chicago White Sox, 7-6, in a hectic 12-inning ball game today, after coming from behind to tie the score in the ninth.

The A's scored their winning run in the 12th without the aid of a basehit. A walk to Sam Chapman, an error by Eric McNair on Bill Lillard's grounder and a second error by Joe Kuhel, who threw wild attempting to force Lillard at second, permitted Chapman to tally the deciding marker.

CINCINNATI REDS TROUNCE GIANTS BY 6 TO 1 SCORE

Bucky Walters Scatters Five Hits To Bag His 25th Victory Of Season

CINCINNATI, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Bucky Walters scattered five hits today and earned his 25th victory of the season as the Cincinnati Reds crushed the New York Giants, 6 to 1, in celebration of the 20th anniversary of the date they clinched their only National league pennant.

But St. Louis' stubborn Cardinals hung onto the chase 3½ games behind by beating the Boston Bees, 6 to 5.

DODGERS DOWN PIRATES

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers downed the Pirates, 3 to 2, today to manufacture a three-game winning streak.

The contest was a red-hot hurling battle between Freddy Fitzsimmons, 38-year-old knuckleball specialist, and curver-baller Joe Bowman for seven scoreless innings.

Then in the eighth the Dodgers jammed across three runs on four hits, including Ernie Koy's double off the left field fence.

CARDS SWEEP SERIES

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Those die-hard St. Louis Cardinals came from behind again today to break the enemy defense in the lucky seventh and score their fifth straight victory, 6 to 5, for a clean sweep of the three-game series with Boston.

Lynn King, a brilliant fielding youngster with no reputation as a slugger, went in as a pinch hitter and delivered the single that sent the tying and winning runs across the plate.

Up to that point all the glory belonged to George Barnicle, skinny young right-hander the Bees picked up from Hartford, Conn. He went to the hill with two out in the the sixth and knocked at the door of the record book by striking out five tough batters—Brown, Gutteridge, Slaughter, Medwick and Mize—in a row.

Then Don Padgett broke the string of strikeouts with a double, and as Barnicle tried to put too much on the ball he walked Terry Moore and Stu Martin to fill the bases. That's where King came in.

Marvin Ward Wins National Amateur Golf Championship

Spokane Player Gets His Fifth Birdie Of Day To Win Crown At 31st Green

By Earl Hilligan

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., a fellow who likes to stand in there and punch until something happens, slammed his way to the National Amateur golf championship today.

Producing a fighting game which left his opponent no quarter, Ward drove to a 7 and 5 victory over little Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in the 43rd title tournament at the North Shore course.

In succeeding Willie Turnesa of Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., as the United States Golf association's amateur titleholder, Ward did it with such cool, deadly purpose that before the morning round was three-quarters over it seemed only a matter of time before the New Yorker—who tried to hang on gamely—would go down for good.

The final four holes furnished almost a perfect brief of the entire duel. Seven up through 27 holes, they halved the 28th. Then Billows, with one last desperate rally, won the 29th with a par as Ward missed a five-foot putt that would have given him a half.

At the next hole Ward hooked to a trap, but the Spokane curly-head came out of the sand beautifully, getting a half which enabled him to deliver the knockout punch at the 31st.

On this 190-yard hole both were on the green with their tee shots, Billows about 15 feet away and Ward knocking his to within six feet of the pin. Billows missed by a yard. Ward coolly stepped up and rammed the putt down for the hole and championship.

When he got into trouble—and he was several times—Ward battled his way out with a tenacious consistency that must have taken some of the heart out of the Poughkeepsie player. On the 16th, Ward went over the green as Billows put his tee shot on nicely and apparently had a chance to reduce Ward's margin to three holes. Ward calmly chipped back, sinking a six-footer for a half.

Again at the 19th, where both drove to the rough, Ward had a fine second that led to a par as Billows took a bogie. Ward's fine explosion shot from a trap—followed by a nine-foot putt—won him the 22nd with a par after Billows had been on in two, only to three putt.

And at the 28th the Spokane ace delivered the outstanding shot of the match—using a mashie niblick to chip six feet over Billows' ball into the cup for a par and a half.

Ward won the first hole and went two up by winning the third, but Billows, particularly wild during the morning round, fought back to finally square the match on the eighth.

Starting the second nine this morning with a one-up margin after Billows had three-putted the ninth, Ward began punching at the 12th. He won that hole and the next two with a par and two birdies, tapping in a great 35-foot putt at the 12th and a 12-footer at the 14th. He won the 17th but lost the 18th as his drive strayed into the rough and they went to lunch with Ward four up.

In the afternoon, Ward won the 19th with a fine second from the rough that led to a par, Billows also being in the rough but unable to find the green with his second. Ward won the 22nd, lost the 25th on Billows' six-foot birdie putt, then got his seven-hole lead at the 27th, knocking a great second stiff to the pin after Billows' put his second in a trap, exploded out 20 feet short, then rimmed the cup with his first putt.

Then came the final four holes, with Ward getting his fifth birdie of the day to win the title at the 31st green. Ward's medal for the day—with several conceded putts—was one under par for the 31 holes as compared to Billows' medal of seven over regulation figures.

Ward's route to the championship started with his one up win in 20 holes over Eddie Held, Edgewater, Colo., and was followed by these victories: Chris Brinke, Birmingham, Mich., 5 and 4; Joe Thompson, Burlington, Ont., 2 up; Ed Kingsley, Salt Lake City, Utah, 3 and 1, and his semi-finals win from Chicago's Art Doering, 2 and 1.

11 SCHOOLS FORM LOOP OF 6-MAN GRID TEAMS

CLEVELAND, Miss., Sept. 16.—(AP)—An eleven-school, six-man football league was formed today at the annual Delta Literary and Athletic association meeting in Delta State Teachers' college.

Athletic Director Dudy R. Noble of Mississippi State college addressed more than two hundred school superintendents and coaches at the meeting, praising the improvement in football in the high schools and colleges of the state.

The coaches suggested the superintendents recommend to the state executive committee the establishment of a physical education and health department as a unit in the state department of education, with a full time supervisor.

The coaches also recommended that a physical education program for the junior high schools be set up.

Former Wrestling Champion Of Navy Being Brought Back At Request Of Fans

Virtually complete arrangements have been made by Promoter Gus Kallio for a strong and well balanced wrestling program at his arena, 504 Walnut street, Thursday night. All four of the grapplers booked for this card are powerful men and none of them is averse to roughness.

"Sailor" Watkins, former navy champion and one of the roughest and toughest men in the light heavyweight division, has been signed for the main event and is expected to meet "Sailor" Moran of California, also a former navy champion. Each claims he is now champion of the ex-navy champions and if they are brought together Thursday night this issue will be decided.

It is possible, however, that Kallio will not be able to arrange to bring Moran here and in that case Watkins will be matched with Joe Benaski, Polish matman, from Columbus, O. Benaski is said to be a strong contender for the light heavyweight championship and is recognized as such in several states. He has been trying unsuccessfully for some time to get a match with the generally recognized champion. If Benaski is brought here the match should be fully as good as if Moran is obtained. A definite announcement as to which of the men has been signed will be made in Tuesday's papers.

Two strong men who know their wrestling have been booked for the semi-final and this match should be as good as the main event, though possibly not as rough. Carl von Bromberg of Berlin, Germany, will meet "Dizzy" Davis, handsome Houston, Tex., matman.

If Benaski comes here for the main event, it will mean that representatives of two of the warring countries in Europe will appear, as Benaski is a Pole and Bromberg a German. Kallio has announced, however, that the question of nationality will be kept down and Bromberg will not make his customary Nazi salute.

Alden "Butch" Martin, who refereed last week and won the approval of the crowd, will be the third man in the ring again this week. Martin, a powerful man and former state high school heavyweight boxing champion, is able to handle the wrestlers capably.

Interest of Monroe fans in wrestling continues at a high pace and, with a strong card arranged, it is expected that the crowd Thursday night will be one of the largest that has yet attended a match here.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Eddie Brietz

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—(AP)—You could have had 100 to 1 from almost any odds layer in Philly that Galento wouldn't have gone 14 rounds to win. . . . Old Tony may never be champion, but will do as a challenger until some one better comes along. . . . George Blake can referee for our dough—he was just as smooth as the advance notices said. . . . Philly made the fight a civic proposition. . . . A huge electric sign, "Galento vs. Nova," was strung across the front of the city hall. . . . Mike Jacobs packed up his fistic circus and carted it off to Detroit where Pastor and Louis will be offered Wednesday night. . . . Personally, this correspondent never saw Nova in poorer shape for a fight—he was tired from the third round on.

Oddities: Since 1895 the University of Cincinnati football teams have scored 4,462 points. Believe it or not, their opponents have counted exactly the same number over the 53 seasons of play. . . . The San Francisco Dons have a first year gridder who is a senior, junior and freshman all at the same time. . . . The Cape Girardeau (Mo.) Teachers and the Carbondale (Ill.) Teachers open and close for football season against each other. . . . Will Connolly of the San Francisco Chronicle always refers to our glorious Dodgers as the Marx brothers.

Today's Guest Star: Collier Parris, Lubbock (Tex.) Avalanche—"We should be thankful that we live in a country where the nearest thing to a dictator is an umpire."

There will be four married guys on the Southern California football team this season. . . . The Dodgers are about to open ten baseball tryouts camps in the south and west. . . . Crooner Bing Crosby cleaned up at Aqueduct. . . . One of the Boston writers got a laff when he wrote: "The Red Sox seem to have lost their sense of direction and are chasing the Browns instead of the Yanks."

Fire, fire!! Clear the track for Cousin Lou Novikoff. . . . If he doesn't wind up the season as the leading hitter in two leagues, it will not be his fault. . . . He was leading the Texas league when Los Angeles recalled him from Tulsa . . . and latest averages show he's out in front on the coast (.378) with only a few games to go.

BLIGHT FALLS ON BATTING LEADERS OF MAJOR LOOPS

Averages Of Joe DiMaggio And Johnny Mize Drop; Joe Medwick Climbs

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(AP)—An early frost blighted the major league hitting leaders this week like so many summer flowers.

Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees, ambitious to be the first .400 hitter in nine years, collapsed from .405 to .390 and in the National league Johnny Mize of the St. Louis Cardinals made virtually the same drop from .363 to .349.

There was one important difference in their tail-spins, however. DiMaggio is in no danger of losing the American league batting championship, but Mize is threatened in the senior circuit.

His teammate, Joe Medwick, who edged him out two years ago, has been climbing swiftly and this week took over second place with a .338 average.

Cooperating in the backfield with Short will be Max Hutchins and Guy Bryson, halfbacks, and Bill Singleton, fullback.

An all-freshman line will open the season for Northeast Junior college, Coach Malone said.

Malone's No. 2 lineup is Cecil Cosper and Mikey Westbrook, ends; Hal Lawson and Roy Smith, tackles; Mike Mahilic and "Red" Paschal, guards; Tommy Younse, center; Preacher Blackwell, quarterback; Ben Starret and Dub Taylor, halfbacks; and Bob May, fullback.

Three squadmen, two of them members of the 1938 team, are on the list of ailing players. John "Butch" Porter, veteran guard, Harry Morton, flashy halfback, and "Tuffy" Westerman, freshman fullback, are bothered with injuries that may or may not be overcome in time for them to see service Friday.

Have just finished reading [illegible] article in Sunday's paper concerning the rumors [illegible] I want to thank you for the way in which you took up for the players. Even though some rumors are going around, I don't believe the real fans of Monroe believe them. The boys on the club hated losing that series far more than anyone else. I can't say one man laid down. They all hustled to the last out, though the odds were against us. You know injuries will wreck the best and that's what happened to our club which was the best by far in the league.

"I have played several years of ball and I have never played with a finer bunch of boys than were on the Monroe club. I have never played for a finer group of men than the owners of the Monroe club and never have I known a finer, fairer or a man who sticks up for his players than Doug Taitt. Most managers are aloof and stay to themselves but Poco was one of the boys all the time. Monroe is very lucky to have Taitt as their manager.

"My wife and I enjoyed our year in Monroe better than any town in which we have lived these years I have been playing ball."

COLUMBIA GRIDDERS TO PLAY JONESBORO

COLUMBIA, La., Sept. 16.—(Special)—The Columbia Crimson Tide, now under the tutorship of Coach Vernon "Skeet" Coates, former Delhi coach, will open a ten-game grid schedule next Friday night at Jonesboro against the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers, strong Class A aggregation.

The Tide, winner of the state Class B crown in 1937, has good prospects of a place in the Class B conference race again this year.

Coach Coates' biggest worry is finding a good center. The guards also appear to be weak at the present. The backfield combination of Brown, Coates, Reitzell and Slocum is looking particularly good but will need polishing up a bit.

The Columbia schedule:

September 22, Jonesboro-Hodge at Jonesboro; Sept. 29, Gilbert, here; Oct. 6, Ferriday at Ferriday; Oct. 13, Winnsboro, here; Oct. 20, Louisiana Training institute, here; Oct. 27, Grayson, here; Nov. 3, Olla at Clarks; Nov. 10, Winnfield at Winnfield; Nov. 17, Waterproof at Waterproof; and Nov. 23, Clarks, here. The Jonesboro-Hodge, Ferriday, Olla and Winnfield games will be played at night.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The stock market's war babies were hit by further profit taking today and most dropped one to more than four points before buying support came to their aid.

Worst setbacks came in the first hour when selling pressure was heavy enough to put the ticker tape behind two minutes for a brief interval. The pace then reverted to a slow jog and extreme losses were reduced substantially in many cases at the close.

Steels, aircrafts, coppers and specialties were the principal sufferers in the initial tumble. Utilities contested the trend with a number posting modest advances. Rails also were fairly resistant.

Most trading contingents exhibited a disposition to clear the decks for the week-end especially, brokers said, as the European news presented little of an outstanding bullish nature.

The Lindbergh broadcast on keeping out of war served to arouse doubts here and there in boardrooms as to whether the proposed arms embargo repeal would get through the coming special session of congress without a real battle.

TROJANS TO PLAY MEXICAN ELEVEN

Mexico City Squad Will Play Return Visit To Tallulah Wednesday Night

TALLULAH, La., Sept. 16—(Special)—The American Foundation school of Mexico City will send a squad of 23 football players here Wednesday night to face Coach "Ma" Phillips' Tallulah High school Trojans.

The Mexican team won from Coach Phillips' aggregation by a close score in their first meeting at Mexico City last September and another hard fought game is expected.

Coach Phillips is having trouble getting his lineup in order, but the Trojans usually manage to have a stellar Class A club and should be able to present a formidable aggregation.

Carney and Moberly, lettermen, and Gilbert, a first year man, are bothered with injuries that may keep them out of the Trojan lineup for a couple of weeks. Tallulah has enough lettermen to carry the team through the first few games, Coach Phillips stated, but unless the new material develops to expectations in the next few weeks, a shortage in replacements will be encountered. Some of the boys looking particularly good are Sevier and Gaines at ends; Boswell, a tackle; Jones, Kayzar and C. Curry, guards; and the Lancaster boys in the backfield.

The list of Mexico City players has been announced here as Nicholas Sanchez, Rudy Rodriguez and Francisco Lona, ends; Roque Gonzales, Alfonso Barros, Fernando Lopez, Armando Betancourt and Hector Zemil, tackles; Manuel Pastor, Larry Simpson, Eugene Rovrar, Fred Jorce and Anuar Nasta, guards; Mickey Pinal and Ike Samarel, centers; Carlos Patterson and Bill Arcos, quarterbacks; Manuel Fajardo, Fernando Diaz, Moncho Amezcua and Carlos Saenz, halfbacks; and Edwin Simpson and Detavio Navarro, fullbacks.

JONESBORO-HODGE TEAM HARD-PACED

JONESBORO, La., Sept. 16—(Special)—With last year's team badly riddled by graduations, Coach C. E. Maroney is working his Jonesboro-Hodge High school gridders at a hard pace in an effort to build a combination that will carry on the reputation of last year's squad.

Working on the first-string eleven are: D. McBride, Fred Clay, ends; B. Buchanan and Buck Anders, tackles; T. Shively and G. Beasley, guards; R. Poole, center; V. J. Gogan, quarter; Jack Boddie and Richard Tewell, Nat Ritchie and J. Morris, halfbacks, Bert Whitten, fullback.

Replacements for this lineup are: Joe Woods, Fred Eiland, Adrian Young, Howell, ends; Guy Womack, Lassar Harlow, J. C. Wheatley, Jerry Michaud, tackles; Othal Hathaway, Garlan Allison, Bertiss Shively and Max Stewart, guards; A. C. Schackleford, Owen Williams and Gawain Walsworth, centers; Joe Hansell Caskey, Laderle Fowler, Red Gunter, Rudolph Stewart, Ronald Dennis, Tommie Dennis, backfield.

MEN TO WEAR DRESSES, WOMEN TO WEAR MEN'S GARB IN SOFTBALL TILT

CLARKS, La., Sept. 16—(Special)—Women players wearing men's apparel, and men players wearing women's dresses, will feature a softball game between the two groups here Monday night. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock.

The two teams are divisions of the Clarks Softball club and the game is sponsored by the Clarks Parent-Teacher association and an attraction to raise funds for the local school's soup kitchen.

LATER DATE SLATED FOR SCHOOL RALLY BASEBALL

RUSTON, La., Sept. 16—(Special)—Baseball competition sponsored here by the North Louisiana High School Rally association has been made a separate event and will be conducted a week after the general rally, M. H. Folk, Jr., rally secretary, announced following a meeting of the group's executive committee. The baseball rally for this school year will be held on April 19-20.

Previously, baseball contests have been played during the week-end of the general literary rally. The later date for baseball was decided upon because of possibilities of cold weather earlier and also to give the high school diamond men more time for practice, Folk explained.

EVANGELINE PLAYOFF

NEW IBERIA, La., Sept. 16—(AP)—The New Iberia Cardinals made it all square at 2 games each with Lafayette by winning the fourth game in the Evangeline league finals playoff 5 to 2 tonight.

Both teams were guilty of two errors but the Cards hammered out 12 hits, bunched them a little better than their rivals, and tucked away the ball game. The teams meet again tomorrow.

Score by innings:

Lafayette ........000 000 200—2 9 2

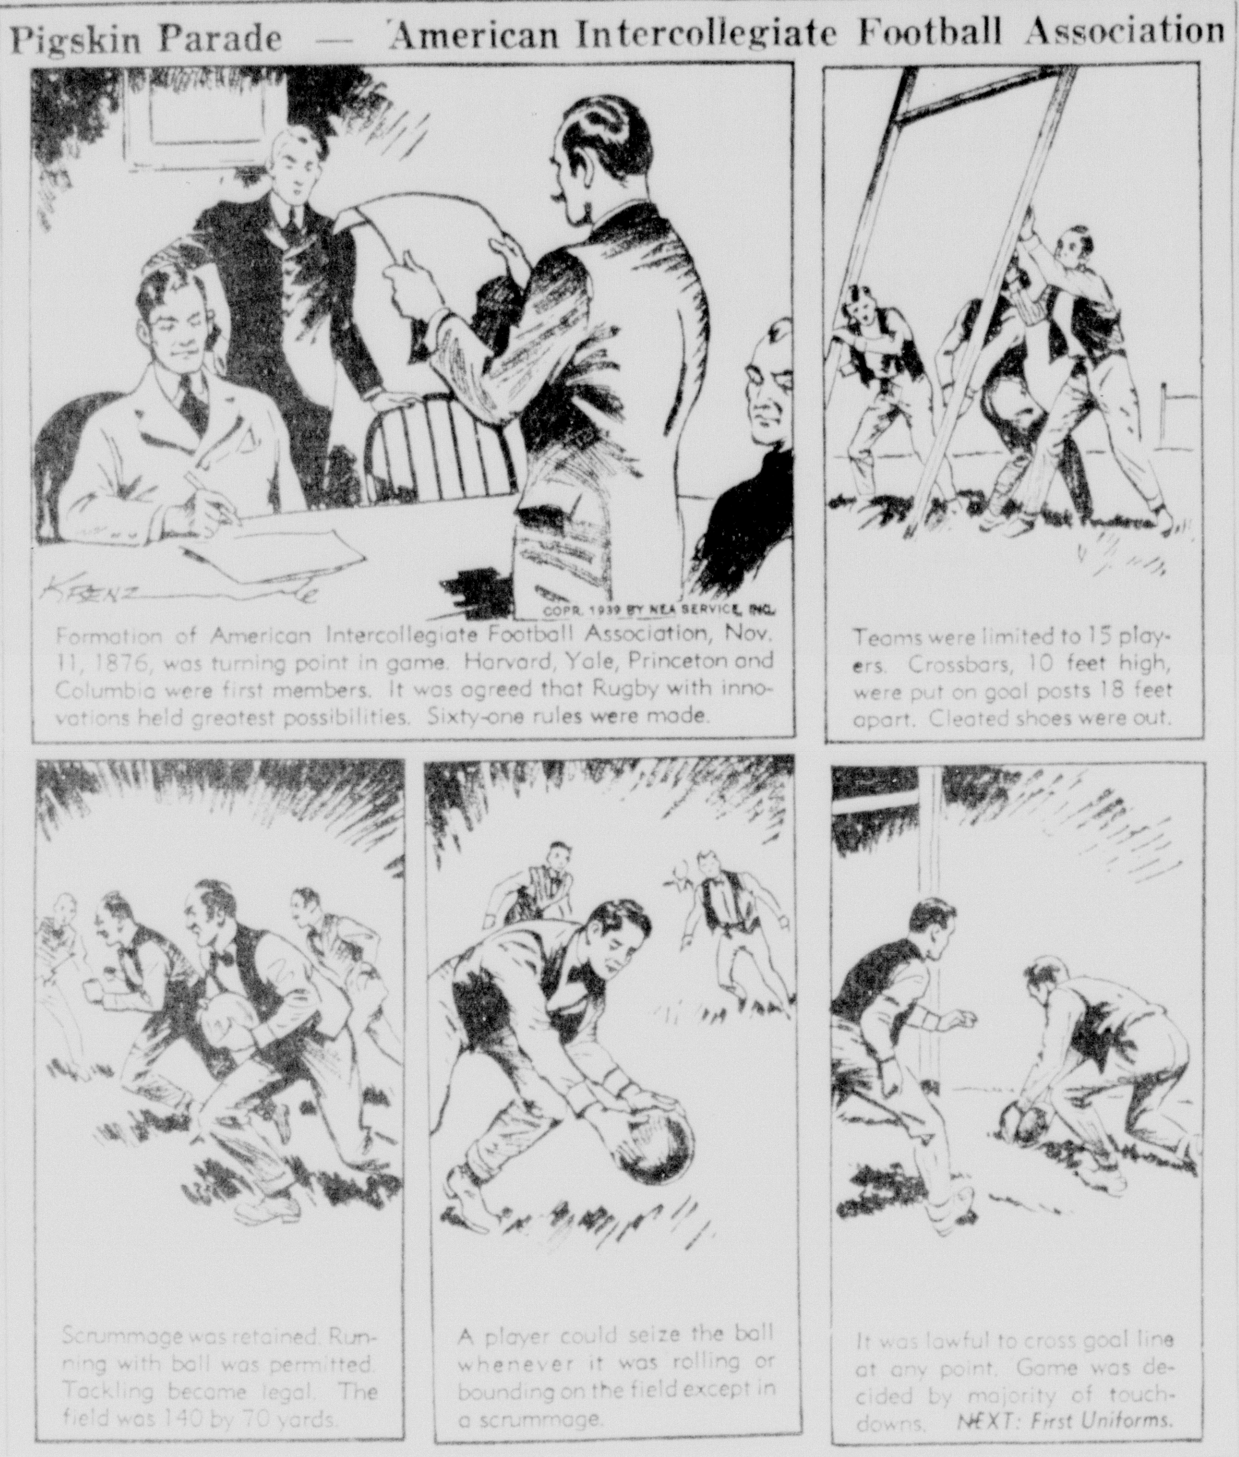
Pigskin Parade — American Intercollegiate Football Association



KRENZ
COPR. 1939 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

Formation of American Intercollegiate Football Association, Nov. 11, 1876, was turning point in game. Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Columbia were first members. It was agreed that Rugby with innovations held greatest possibilities. Sixty-one rules were made.

Teams were limited to 15 players. Crossbars, 10 feet high, were put on goal posts 18 feet apart. Cleated shoes were out.

Scrummage was retained. Running with ball was permitted. Tackling became legal. The field was 140 by 70 yards.

A player could seize the ball whenever it was rolling or bounding on the field except in a scrummage.

State Teachers here Friday night at Brown field.

Coach Malone expects little trouble from Centenary's frosh since the Junior Gents have had little time to work and any lineup that is picked to face the locals will be of doubtful caliber. For this reason Coach Malone plans to use only his own freshman players against the Shreveporters.

The Murray Oklahoma Teachers game is considered by Coach Malone as the real season opener for the Tribe, and the Teachers, who have won 30 of the last 31 games played, will no doubt prove more than enough for the Redmen this early in the campaign.

Although Coach Malone's present combination is less experienced than that which opened the season last year, it is one of the most evenly balanced teams ever turned out here. Eight members of the starting lineup tip the beams at 190 pounds each. One other player weighs in at 200, and a pair of backs who weigh 170 and 160 respectively.

The Murray Teachers will outweigh the locals, according to advance information. Outstanding performers with the Teachers are Big Tom Tractor, 220-pound tackle and captain; W. E. Springer, 210-pound right tackle; John Tuttle, 190-pound triple threat back; Tom Cugon, 200-pound fullback; and C. O. Butts, an outstanding wingman and a key factor in the Murray pass offensive.

Murray takes the place on the locals' schedule of the Oklahoma Military academy eleven which defeated the Tribe, 14 to 0, last year. Murray defeated Oklahoma Military during the same season by the same score and is considered as strong or stronger this year than the military school.

Don Short, 160-pound sophomore, is being counted on to spark the Tribe offensive this year. Short will do the passing and punting and most of the ball carrying for the locals, according to present indications.

Cooperating in the backfield with Short will be Max Hutchins and Guy Bryson, halfbacks; and Bill Singleton, fullback.

An all-freshman line will open the season for Northeast Junior college, Coach Malone said.

Malone's No. 2 lineup is Cecil Cosper and Mikey Westbrook, ends; Hal Lawson and Roy Smith, tackles; Mike Mahilic and "Red" Paschal, guards; Tommy Younse, center; Preacher Blackwell, quarterback; Ben Starret and Dub Taylor, halfbacks; and Bob May, fullback.

Three squadmen, two of them members of the 1938 team, are on the list of ailing players. John "Butch' 'Porter, veteran guard; Harry Morton, flashy halfback; and "Tuffy" Westerman, freshman fullback are bothered with injuries that may or may not be overcome in time for them to see service Friday.

JENA HIGH SCHOOL CAGE SQUAD STARTS TRAINING

JENA, La., Sept. 16—(Special)—Although only two lettermen, LaVelle Ford and Lloyd Thompson, are back with the squad this year, Coach J. L. Aldredge of Jena High school has plenty of material from which to draw first team players of the school's basketball team.

Coach Aldredge is working the squad every school day and has plenty of time in which to get a starting five in shape for the opening season in this section, at Olla during the North Central Louisiana fair.

SPORTS Chatter

BY GEO. K LOFTON

ton, you know, finished first in the regular schedule easily.

Down in the Evangeline league, Alexandria, whose club finished a mile ahead of the other seven, quickly succumbed in the first playoff series.

So it appears that Monroe players weren't the only ones who "sold out" or "quit."

THE PLAYERS' SIDE

Two letters were received last week that indicate what Monroe's players think of the fans and the club here. We quote in part from each:

"The time I was at Monroe this year I've gotton so I could move there and make it my home. The people there were so darn nice and sociable, they aren't ready to cut you up the back like they are here.

"You know, there aren't many clubs that treat their players like Monroe's owners did, and that is why we all enjoyed playing there. We sure were sorry when we couldn't win the playoffs."

That letter is from Ray Hoffman, and he isn't building up for next year. Ray has been sold by the Cedar Rapids club, which farmed him here, to Springfield of the Mid-Atlantic league.

Here's another:

"Have just finished reading your article in Sunday's paper concerning the rumors which followed the playoff. I want to thank you for the way in which you took up for the players. Even though such rumors are going around I don't believe the real fans of Monroe believe them. The boys on the club hated losing that series far more than anyone else. I can't say one man laid down. They all hustled to the last even though the odds were against us. You know injuries will wreck the best and that's what happened to our club which was the best by far in the league.

"I have played several years of ball and I have never played with a finer bunch of boys than were on the Monroe club. I have never played for a finer group of men than the owners of the Monroe club and never have I known a finer, fairer or a man who sticks up for his players than Doug Taitt. Most managers are aloof and stay to themselves but Poco was one of the boys all the time. Monroe is very lucky to have Taitt as their manager.

"My wife and I enjoyed our year in Monroe better than any town in which we have lived these years I have been playing ball."

That letter is from Bob Hill out in Pittsburg, Tex.

There you have it, folks. Two voluntary expressions from players on a club which was rumored to be split wide apart by dissension.

TEXAS LEAGUE PLAYOFF

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 16—(AP)—The Dallas Rebels marched into the championship playoff of the Texas league tonight on young Boyd (Jelly) SoRelle's masterful 3-0 taming of the San Antonio Missions.

Tomorrow afternoon at Dallas the ancient rivalry between Fort Worth and Dallas, dormant in baseball for the past 14 years, will be revived in the first of a four-out-of-seven-game series for the title and the right to play in the Dixie series.

SoRelle, using a curve and fast ball to perfection, choked off everything that looked like a San Antonio threat.

Lefty Bob Uhle will hurl the opener for Dallas tomorrow while the veteran Fred (Firpo) Marberry, once the relief ace of the major leagues, will start for Fort Worth.

SOUTHEASTERN PLAYOFF

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 16—(AP)—The Pensacola Fliers won the Southeastern league playoff tonight by defeating the Jackson Senators, 3 to 2, although they had to go 12 innings to turn the trick.

The Fliers won 4 games to Jackson's two.

Dark, doing the hurling for the Senators, allowed 13 hits—more than twice as many as his rival, Schuessler gave—but he kept them scattered well until the final frame.

The Senators, tallying in the eighth and ninth, got to Schuessler for 6 safeties but after the 10th frame were helpless.

New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 16—(AP)—The cotton futures market sold off 14 to 20 points in very active trading today. Pressure of large hedge sales and Bombay straddle liquidation forced prices downward despite the fact large quantities of cotton were absorbed by trade interests in the form of price fixations for both domestic and foreign mill accounts.

As prices continued to sag after the opening trade bids were scaled down. Although Bombay selling subsided early, it was replaced by aggressive New Orleans and commission house liquidation and the market continued to edge lower finishing at the lows of the day.

Futures closed 14 to 20 lower.

COLUMBIA GRIDDERS TO PLAY JONESBORO

COLUMBIA, La., Sept. 16—(Special)—The Columbia Crimson Tide, now under the tutorship of Coach Vernon "Skeet" Coates, former Delhi coach, will open a ten-game grid schedule next Friday night at Jonesboro against the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers, strong Class A aggregation.

The Tide, winner of the state Class B crown in 1937, has good prospects of a place in the Class B conference race again this year.

Coach Coates' biggest worry is finding a good center. The guards also appear to be weak at the present. The backfield combination of Brown, Coates, Reitzell and Slocum is looking particularly good but will need polishing up a bit.

The Columbia schedule:

September 22, Jonesboro-Hodge at Jonesboro; Sept. 29, Gilbert, here; Oct. 6, Ferriday at Ferriday; Oct. 13, Winnsboro, here; Oct. 20, Louisiana Training institute, here; Oct. 27, Grayson, here; Nov. 3, Olla at Clarks; Nov. 10, Winnfield at Winnfield; Nov. 17, Waterproof at Waterproof; and Nov. 23, Clarks, here. The Jonesboro-Hodge, Ferriday, Olla and Winnfield games will be played at night.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Sept. 16—(AP)—The stock market's war babies were hit by further profit taking today and most dropped one to more than four points before buying support came to their aid.

Worst setbacks came in the first hour when selling pressure was heavy enough to put the ticker tape behind two minutes for a brief interval. The pace then reverted to a slow jog and extreme losses were reduced substantially in many cases at the close.

Steels, aircrafts, coppers and specialties were the principal sufferers in the initial tumble. Utilities contested the trend with a number postping modest advances. Rails also were fairly resistant.

Most trading contingents exhibited a disposition to clear the decks for the week-end, especially, brokers said, as the European news presented little of an outstanding bullish nature.

The Lindbergh broadcast on keeping out of war served to arouse doubts here and there in boardrooms as to whether the proposed arms embargo repeal would get through the coming special session of congress without a real battle.

In addition financial observers found nothing particularly cheering in the far eastern peace pact between Russia and Japan, and murmurings from Berlin of a possible new peace attempt by Mussolini served to arouse the thought that gains based on long drawn-out European hostilities might be nebulous at best.

Action of the Canadian government in taking over wide control of foreign exchange, imports, exports and securities helped depress dominion stocks and the country's dollar. Sterling was also lower in terms of United States currency. The Amsterdam market, only important overseas exchange open today, displayed heaviness.

Good business signs at home were plentiful. Based on word from the main steel producing centers, next week's mill operations were expected to jump in the neighborhood of 8 to 10 points at 78 to 80 per cent of capacity, a new peak since the fall of 1937. Steel scrap at Pittsburgh was boosted $1 a ton after three previous 50-cent hikes this week.

Utilities were buoyed by the belief of some analysts that the power companies stand to benefit handsomely by rising industrial trends. This group had been neglected in the run-up of the past two weeks.

Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

"WAR IS HELL"
Says Gen. John J. Pershing

A LEAKY ROOF IS WORSE
—Say Your Wife and Children

Is your home worth living in or does it mar its surroundings and help kill the God-given beauty of the forest primitive of Monroe, the most beautiful city in the U. S. A.?

Prices are bound to advance. Why wait longer? Cold, wet days are nearly here. Let us make your home easy to look at and permanently dry and warm. Siding with Bird Asbestos is smart and permanent. Roofing with Bird Master-Bilt is money saved for years to come. These products are lower in price today than ever before. They are made in Louisiana by Louisiana labor, with Louisiana material. We are home people with a home finance. Bird finance is at your door. You don't have to mail your money out of town. Pay at our office. No money down, 45 days first payment. $160.00 roof costs you only $5.11 per month. Less than 5c per day to keep your home live and dry.

Better hurry! You cannot wait until after the war. England knows that. Don't put it off. Call us today. We were Bird applicators during the other war. We saw 10-year shingles $18.00 per square.

"WAR IS HELL"
—Says Gen. John J. Pershing

A LEAKY ROOF IS WORSE
—Say Your Wife and Children

Is your home worth living in or does it mar its surroundings and help kill the God-given beauty of the forest primitive of Monroe, the most beautiful city in the U. S. A.?

Prices are bound to advance. Why wait longer? Cold, wet days are nearly here. Let us make your home easy to look at and permanently dry and warm. Siding with Bird Asbestos is smart and permanent. Roofing with Bird Master-Bilt is money saved for years to come. These products are lower in price today than ever before. They are made in Louisiana by Louisiana labor, with Louisiana material. We are home people with a home finance. Bird finance is at your door. You don't have to mail your money out of town. Pay at our office. No money down, 45 days first payment. $160.00 roof costs you only $5.11 per month. Less than 5c per day to keep your home live and dry.

Better hurry! You cannot wait until after the war. England knows that. Don't put it off. Call us today. We were Bird applicators during the other war. We saw 10-year shingles $18.00 per square.

SUBMARINE SQUALUS TO BE RECONDITIONED

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Work went forward [illegible] toward reconditioning the sea-ravaged submarine Squalus as President Roosevelt described the [illegible] salvage work as "well done."

In letters of commendation to members of the salvage staff and in a separate one to Rear Admiral Cyrus W. Cole, commander of the salvage unit, Mr. Roosevelt commended the devotion to duty, courage, skill, initiative and self sacrifice of the 31 naval officers and men of the salvage unit.

Another search of the craft's interior today failed to reveal the body of Robert Preston Thompson, ship's cook, of Nashville, Tenn. His was the only body of 26 men who lost their lives in the submarine which was not found. Navy officials said they believed it had floated out of an open hatch into the ocean during salvage operations.

The navy board of inquiry, seeking to determine the cause of the Squalus' fatal dive last May 23, plans to reconvene Monday. Members of the board inspected the slime-covered interior Friday.

CONSTITUTION'S SIGNING NOTED

Ed C. Apperson Suggests Reading Of Famous Document As Way To Celebrate

Attention to the fact that today is National Constitution Day, the 152nd anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States, was called yesterday by Ed C. Apperson of Monroe, a member of Barkdull Faulk post of the American Legion and Fifth district chairman of the Louisiana department's Americanism program.

Mr. Apperson suggested that a fit way to observe the day would be to read the Constitution. "Remember," he admonished, "that every liberty you hold dear, every speck of human freedom is secure only so long as that document lives. To know the Constitution," he continued, "is to support it. To support it means that liberty shall ever thrive."

Calling attention to despotism in various degrees existing in Europe and to the fact that this had led to the current war that is rocking the old world, he observed: "American citizens in truth can say that all they are as free men and women today, they owe to the Constitution. It has given them and kept inviolate for them the democratic institutions which have become the envy of all the rest of the world."

Mr. Apperson attributed the leadership to which the United States has attained in the world to the Constitution. "Under this Constitution," he declared, "America in the short span of 152 years has outdistanced in progress all other nations of the world." Pointing out innumerable things in which the nation excelled all other countries, he attributed this as the reason: "Our constitutional form of government has uplifted the nobility of man by making every individual a sovereign in his own right. Human genius knows no fetters under our Constitution. Man's soul reaches its highest expression in our land and the citizen shapes his own destiny."

Mr. Apperson emphasized that the United States government is built on the concept that men were created to be free and that the state was created by men to serve them, not to enslave them. "Our Constitution," he asserted, "riveted that concept into the cornerstone of our government. It is the firm rock on which we stand."

MORRISON ENTERS GOVERNOR'S RACE

HAMMOND, La., Sept. 16—(AP)—Amid fireworks and a crowd of thousands James H. Morrison, Hammond attorney, announced tonight he would be a candidate for governor on a platform of reform and economy.

He was the 11th declared candidate for the state's executive chair.

Denouncing the state's past and present record, Morrison offered a 15-point platform to end "graft, corruption, debauchery and inefficiency."

Dressed in cowboy costume with a purple shirt and ten-gallon hat, Morrison led a 15-float parade deriding the present state administration.

Placards, designed in the old political tradition, declared Morrison would "put Louisiana back into the union" and that various sections of the state, including New Orleans and Shreveport, were "behind Morrison" and that it "won't be 'Long' now."

UP COMES THE SQUALUS—FOR GOOD

This time the Squalus is up for good—113 days after she went to bottom of Atlantic off Portsmouth, N. H., last May 23. Her rusted conning tower jutting out of the water, the United States navy sub, with a cargo of 26 dead, was brought into Portsmouth yard by salvage crew which nearly did the trick two months ago—then met disappointment. On July 13, ship was raised, but broke loose from chains, dived again.

CHINESE ADMITS DRUGGING GUARDS

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 16—(AP)—A Chinese convict confessed tonight, Warden Joseph E. Ragen of Stateville prison said, that he drugged 11 guards and a trusty to help an escape attempt last Thursday.

The 35-year-old Chinese, Moy King Hong, convicted of murder in Chicago, was a runner in the officers' kitchen and drew hot drinks for the guards in a tower.

The warden said Hong told him that Patrick Joyce, 32, one of the trio of convicted killers who made the attempted break, gave him all the drug, a sedative used in the prison hospital.

It took nine months, Hong said, to collect the supply, which was mixed with the guards' coffee after it had been drawn from an urn into a pitcher. Hong said Joyce promised to help him escape also. The trio was seized while attempting to scale a wall with a makeshift ladder.

Warden Ragen said he would ask indictments charging attempted murder against Joyce, Hong and two other plot leaders, Joseph Jazorak, 44, and Peter Balciulis, 28, slayers serving long terms.

Announcement Of Appointment Of Chairman Made By E. C. Gibson

The appointment of George D. Holland, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe, as general chairman of the annual roll call campaign of the Ouachita parish chapter of the American Red Cross was announced yesterday by E. C. Gibson, chapter chairman.

This committee is composed of Judge W. M. Harper, W. M. Anders, W. R. Hatchell, H. L. Rosenhein, C. R. Tidwell and W. C. Oliver.

Due to the extra demands being made on the national organization of the Red Cross as a result of conditions in various parts of the world incidental to the European war, it is seeking a 20 per cent increase in enrollment, Mr. Gibson said. No trouble in reaching that goal was anticipated by him.

1940 Quota For Veterans Must Be Reached By Armistice Day

Local legionnaires will swing into action Monday evening when the 1940 renewal membership campaign formally begins. The quota of 381 members for L. B. Faulk post No. 13 must be made by Armistice day in order to obtain various state and national department citations.

Commander Ed Apperson stated that he is positive that no difficulty will be encountered in reaching the 1940 quota by Armistice day, due to the present European conflict and the need for veterans of the last World war to unite to "promote peace and good-will on earth."

Legionnaires will be carried on an 11,000-mile motor journey across hot, shifting desert sands, over high mountains and through deep jungles when they see the thrilling sound picture "Safari on Wheels" at the legion memorial home at 8 p.m. Monday.

The film is a pictorial record of a six months' journey undertaken by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thaw, accompanied by a white hunter and a cameraman and 11 natives. The trip was made in three trucks especially adapted for safari travel. Some of the scenes show French Legion forts, camel corps of warriors, fighting horses of the desert, mock duels by the Arabs, the wilds of the Belgian Congo, capturing and training wild elephants and many other equally interesting scenes.

Dr. Mims Speaks At Book Club Meeting

State University Lecturer Gives Address On 'Citizenship And Relation To Homes'

"Citizenship and Its Relation to Our Homes" was a [illegible] subject in the [illegible] of an eminent lecturer, Dr Mary Mims, extension sociologist for the University of Louisiana, who addressed members of the Woman's [illegible] Book club when they met at the Y. W. C. A. last week for the initial meeting of the new club year with Mrs John C. Best, Mrs Clay Albright, Mrs [illegible] E. Black, hostesses.

A [illegible] interlude preceded [illegible] Louisiana [illegible] Mrs E. E. Lawson [illegible] Polonaise in A [illegible]

Dr Mims, introduced by Mrs Harold De[illegible], praised members of the Woman's [illegible] Book club on their selection of "The American Home" for the subject of the year's study.

Dr Mims has worked among the rural people of Louisiana for the past twelve years, inspiring them towards a higher, happier standard of living. She is co-author of the interesting book, "The Awakening Community," and is thoroughly acquainted with the subject of citizenship.

Addressing club members, she said: "The home is the dynamic power of citizenship the world over, and citizenship begins in infancy. By the time the child is of school age he should be strong socially. He should be able to do many things for himself, should possess initiative and independence, yet he should be a cooperative thinker for he is a part of the home and community." She appealed to the mothers to inculcate tolerance early in their children, that we may develop citizens who will settle their differences amicably.

Miss Mims compared self-control with the control lever of an airplane, which is the most important part of the ship. "As with the airplane, so with the citizen; if the control lever gets out of order, we have a crash. In training for citizenship the greatest force of all is the spiritual. Teach your child to pray. Make your life and your home a spiritual dynamo, then you can truthfully say, 'The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.'"

The president, Mrs. Zell Smith, conducted the business session and introduced the officers as follows: first vice-president, Mrs J. T. Eubank; recording secretary, Mrs Henson Coon; corresponding secretary, Mrs J. D. Petty; treasurer, Mrs L. V. Tarver; reporter, Mrs F. E. Black; historian, Mrs F. H. Peters; parliamentarian, Mrs Warren Gregory.

Mrs B. M. Murphy was elected second vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs Marvin Johnson's departure from the city.

The following members were present: Mrs H. V. C[illegible], Mrs Henson Coon, Mrs J. Norman Coon, Mrs Harold Delony, Mrs D. H. Duncan, Mrs J. T. Eubank, Mrs W. C. Fink, Mrs George Fink, Mrs V. S. ### Several Late Vacationists Return; Little Parties At Biedenhorn Home Claim Much Interest

THE grass is worn and the leaves are brown. The lazy hours of summer, so idly spent, are quickened now that autumn is here. We know it is autumn because the calendar tells us so, but the heat of summer, like a prima donna, continues on a high note. Already one week of school has flown by and we heave a sigh of great satisfaction, knowing that the children are safe and secure. We do not have to ask, like our neighbors across the seas, "Where are our children?" There isn't a child in London town today. They were all trooped away by the Piper of War to a safe place in the country. There they will remain until London smiles on happier days.

This term of school is no doubt one of the most difficult periods ever to confront public education. We must remain neutral in our attitudes and in teaching, anything else would be disloyal. That is the reason situations are delicate. No opportunity will be lost in the schools of Monroe to stress loyalty, tolerance, consideration and kindly attitudes toward the United States. Extreme effort on the part of every teacher will be made to validate facts and discern propaganda from truth. Parents will have to cooperate this year in developing unbiased attitudes and a proper spirit of neutrality in their youngsters. All parents and teachers should remember that "the emergency aspects of life will be so powerfully inflammatory that the basic principles of education will, unless we are extremely cautious, become incident to the fervor of the times." These are the words, by the way, of a famous educator.

The big boys and girls are also off at school. They carried with them memories of a happy summer at home—the happiest perhaps they will ever know. Betty Reily, off for the university, carried the memory of a glorious time at the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago. Betty certainly got a break. Just after she and her aunt, Minta Vaughan arrived at the hotel a flock of young fraternity men trooped in for a national convention. There was something doing every minute and Betty, the typical co-ed, was included in all the festivities. In fact she got the rush of her young life from several "frat" men.

Anna Brown and Mary Black, looking as fit as the proverbial fiddle after a summer in the mountains and the seashore, told Crary Smith and Daisy Haas all about their great adventures, when they formed a congenial foursome for luncheon in the main dining room of the Frances hotel last week. Anna spent the summer at a dude ranch near the Continental Divide in Colorado, with her son Clyde, Jr., and daughter Ann. Of course Clyde and Ann reveled in the wide open spaces and the indolent carefree ranch life but Anna simply yearned for a taste of life at the Broadmore in Colorado Springs So they compromised.

Mary Black, who spent the summer at Santa Monica, Calif., with her daughter Frances, was treated to a generous slice of navy life when she was escorted around by her handsome brother, Lieutenant Bennet Wright, whom she visited.

Marion Learned has two doting sons. They are forever thinking up nice things to do for her. Her trip to Mexico City in the spring with her son Alvah was one of the most satisfying and most enjoyable pleasure trips she ever experienced. This was not enough, however. Noel went to work when school was out and earned enough money to pay all the expenses of an automobile trip to the World's fair in New York. They broke the speed record getting to New York but on the way home they were satisfied to make only a hundred miles a day provided the scenery was beautiful enough to hold their attention. In the Shenandoah valley they merely crept along—it would be sacrilege, according to Marion, to whiz through this little bit of heaven.

Marion, of English birth and ancestry, has cause to be worried these days. She has lost track completely of her cherished aunt who has been a mother to her for many years. She has left London and no word has yet come to tell of her whereabouts.

Malcolm and Francesca Biedenharn certainly have the right idea. They have been entertaining intimate little groups of friends all summer at steak suppers in the beautiful gardens of their home. Last week juicy steaks were served piping hot from the barbecue pit nearby and all sorts of delicious edibles were included in the menu, to say nothing of the tall frosted glasses of aperitifs, so necessary when good fellows get together. Their guests were the John Foxes, the Clarence Oakleys, the Joe Washburns, the A. G. McHenrys, the Fred Millsaps, the Henry Biedenharns, the J. E. Godfreys, the Jack Harringtons, the Murray Hudsons, the Roger Whites, and Emma Louise Biedenharn, Marion Gordon-Fraser, Ann Scott, Joe Biedenharn.

Have you ever seen a dream walking? Well, we have. It was Winnie Graham Breard in a Parisian creation—lustrous velvet, in sweeping folds, with handsome white lace outlining the drop shoulders. An old fashioned locket on a narrow black velvet ribbon was worn around the neck. She was a dream all right.

Dr. Mims Speaks At Book Club Meeting

State University Lecturer Gives Address On 'Citizenship And Relation To Homes'

"Citizenship and Its Relation to Our Homes" was a dynamic subject in the hands of an eminent lecturer, Dr. Mary Mims, extension sociologist for the University of Louisiana, who addressed members of the Welcome Branch Book club when they met at the Y. W. C. A. last week for the initial meeting of the new club year with Mrs. John C. Best, Mrs. Clay Albright, Mrs. Frank E. Black, hostesses.

A charming musical interlude preceding the lecture permitted members to sing in unison "Song of Louisiana" and "America the Beautiful," accompanied by Mrs. E. E. Lawson, pianist. Mrs. Lawson gave a brilliant interpretation of Chopin's Polonaise in A major.

Dr. Mims, introduced by Mrs. Harold Deloney, praised members of the Welcome Branch Book club on their selection of "The American Home" for the subject of the year's study.

Dr. Mims has worked among the rural people of Louisiana for the past twelve years, inspiring them towards a higher, happier standard of living. She is co-author of the interesting book, "The Awakening Community," and is thoroughly acquainted with the subject of citizenship.

Addressing club members, she said: "The home is the dynamic power of citizenship the world over, and citizenship begins in infancy. By the time the child is of school age he should be strong socially. He should be able to do many things for himself, should possess initiative and independence, yet he should be a cooperative thinker for he is a part of the home and community." She appealed to the mothers to inculcate tolerance early in their children, that we may develop citizens who will settle their differences amicably.

Miss Mims compared self-control with the control lever of an airplane, which is the most important part of the ship. "As with the airplane, so with the citizen; if the control lever gets out of order, we have a crash. In training for citizenship the greatest force of all is the spiritual. Teach your child to pray. Make your life and your home a spiritual dynamo, then you can truthfully say, 'The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.'"

The president, Mrs. Zell Smith, conducted the business session and introduced the officers as follows: first vice-president, Mrs. J. T. Eubank; recording secretary, Mrs. Henson Coon; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. D. Petty; treasurer, Mrs. L. V. Tarver; reporter, Mrs. F. E. Black; historian, Mrs. F. H. Peterson; parliamentarian, Mrs. Warren Gregory.

Mrs. B. M. Murphy was elected second vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs. Marvin Johnson's departure from the city.

The following members were present: Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. Harold Deloney, Mrs. D. H. Duncan, Mrs. J. T. Eubank, Mrs. W. C. Faulk, Mrs. George Fink, Mrs. V. ### Couple Will Make Home In Monroe Following Honeymoon Trip To Points In Mexico

Sincere interest is manifested by friends in this section of the south in the marriage, September 9, of Dr. Courtland Prentice Gray of this city and Miss Betty Eastland Ormond, daughter of Mrs. Robert Fletcher Ormond of Forest, Miss.

The wedding took place at six o'clock in the evening at the Forest Methodist church with Rev. Charles S. Liles, rector of Grenada Episcopal church, officiating.

Luxuriant woodwardia ferns and stately palms formed the background for the ceremony witnessed by a large concourse of friends and relatives.

Madonna lilies overflowing from wide, flaring baskets with cathedral tapers in tall floor candelabra burning in the background formed a distinctive setting for the ceremony.

A prenuptial concert was rendered by Miss Elizabeth Noble, pianist, Mrs. Allen Cassidy, violinist, and Miss Imogene Durrett, vocalist. The numbers included To a Wild Rose, Venetian Love Song, Sweetest Story Ever Told, Oh Promise Me, Because and Dreams from Tristan and Isolde. During the ceremony Liebestraum was impressively rendered.

Miss Betty Cole of New Orleans, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. R. M. Simonton of Monroe acted as matron of honor. Their bouquets were fashioned of pale pink asters. The junior bridesmaids were Little Elizabeth Ormond, niece of the bride, and Nell Eastland, cousin of the bride, both of Doddsville, Miss. They were dressed in pale pink mode replicas of the gowns of the bridesmaids. James Trousdale, III, of Monroe, acted as ringbearer.

N. Davis, Mr. McVay Oliver, Mr. Lynn McCarley, Dr. R. M. Simonton, Dr. Scott Hamilton, all of Monroe.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Robert F. Ormond, of Doddsville, Miss., wore a distinctive gown of white Chantilly lace and net fashioned along diaphanous lines. A veil of bridal illusion was caught to the hair with a coronet of pearls. Her only ornament was an antique brooch of pearls, a gift to her mother by her father on their wedding day. An exotic bridal bouquet of orchids, brides-roses and valley lilies was carried.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the gardens of the Ormond home with members of the wedding party, relatives and out-of-town guests in attendance.

Mrs. Gray is a descendant of two prominent Mississippi families, her father having been the late Robert F. Ormond of Meridian, Miss. Her mother is the former Miss Ida Eastland of Forest, Miss. She was graduated in June from Sophie Newcomb college, where she was an outstanding student. Dr. Gray, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Gray of Monroe, was graduated from the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., and from the Tulane university school of medicine, New Orleans, and since then has done graduate work at Harvard school of medicine in Boston.

Verne Kelsey To Appear In Recital

Organ music is sublime and especially so when such glorious compositions as Sigurd Jorsalfar by Grieg and Chorale Preludes by Bach are rendered by an eminent artist.

A real musical treat is in store for Monroe music lovers later in the month when Verne Kelsey will appear in recital at Grace Episcopal church assisted by Miss Eileen MacKinnon, violinist who will render the melodious Romance of Wieniewski.

Mr. Kelsey will include in his program the charming suite from Sigurd Jorsalfar by Grieg. This music is considered to be some of the finest music Grieg ever wrote. It contains the characteristic Prelude, somber Borghild's Dream and magnificent Triumphal March, which ranks with the great marches of Schubert and Tschaikovski.

Along with lighter numbers, Mr. Kelsey will play three of the Chorale Preludes of the great master Bach and his immortal Passacaglia in E minor.

Frosted drinks and a variety of confections were served from a buffet in the dining room.

Members of Phi Kappa and their "dates" were Billy Stevenson and Marilyn Rolleigh, Clarence DuBos and Betty Evans, Dick Eason and Josephine McCook, Bobby George and Irma Ensminger, Richard Sackett and Ellen Hale, James Huitt and Fern Prendergast, William Armstrong and Anne Bracey, Lee Melton and Melba Stevenson, Henry Colbert and Roberta Van Eldon, Frank Smith and Betty Dutchcor of Chicago, Laurence Vaughan and Nell Renwick, Harold Hill and Martha Grafton, Felix Terzia, Jr., and Adelaide Parker, Seab DeLee and Mary Ballard, Billy Ensminger, John Woods.

Last week was a pretty [illegible] the president [illegible] we imagine for the new [illegible] her. If your fellow workers hold out on you, the problem, of course, becomes intricate for all concerned. Several articles, last week, failed to reach the editor's desk in time for Sunday's publication. If the article fails to appear just remember that you were not living up to the requirements and the matter wasn't a personal one.

Speaking of things personal, we doubt if there is a single society editor who ever intentionally left out a name. Her work is impersonal insofar as reporting is concerned. In many cases subscribers have been known to say: "The society editor doesn't like me. She left my name out of the list of guests." However, the editor bears [illegible] grievances. The editor appreciates, beyond words, the help subscribers give her in making the daily column one of interest to all concerned.

In short, we are anxious to give the best we have. In return all we ask is your kind consideration, your cooperation and your indulgence. Working in harmony, one with the other, a happy and successful year is assured.

Frosted frappe was served during the afternoon from a crystal bowl presided over by Mrs. Gerald Couch. Pastries and other confections were served by Mrs. Edgar McCormick, who presided over the candlelit, flower adorned tea table.

A musical program was rendered by Misses Laura Mae Willaims, Jean Copeland and Mary Glenn Rodgers. Several dance numbers were contributed by the pupils of Miss Irene Renaud with Mrs. W. H. Keller pianist.

Mrs. J. L. McKenzie, Jr., paid tribute to pioneer clubwomen and presented to the Women's Department club a [illegible] pottery bowl overflowing with marigolds as a token of love and esteem for their services.

Review Club Meets At Braun Residence

Members of the Review club enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. C. B. Braun's home when they met for the first meeting of the new club year last week.

Following the reading of the Club Collect, a short business session was held and the new officers introduced as follows: President, Mrs. C. B. Braun; vice-president, Mrs. Henry Colbert; secretary, Mrs. W. T. Davis; treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Colvert; parliamentarian, Mrs. Allen Givens.

The program for the year's work consists of a course of study prepared by the University of North Carolina. The series is identified as "Adventures in Reading" and is made up of books which because of their unusual subject matter or unusual spiritual perceptiveness help to widen the range of individual experience by reflecting the spirit of the times.

Mrs. B. J. Breard presented the first of this group of realistic books, "The Great American Novel" by Clyde Brion Davis, a cyclorama of American life in the beginning of the twentieth century. Archibald MacLeish's "Land of the Free," describing by means of its photographs and poetic soundtrack America today, was discussed by Mrs. W. J. Veazey.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the following members: Mesdames B. J. Breard, Henry Colbert, F. [illegible] D. M. [illegible] C. V. McGuire, Reese [illegible] W. T. Davis, W. J. Veazey, Roy Hale, Allen Givens, Walter Rhodes, A. R. Holloway, and DeWitt Henry.

Interesting Paper Read At D. A. R. Meet

"Indian Trails and Villages and Prairie des Canotes of the Ouachita Country" was the subject of a colorful and unusually interesting paper prepared by Mrs. A. K. Kilpatrick for the September meeting of Fort Miro chapter Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Kilpatrick said in part: "The history of Ouachita parish had its beginning in a period that traces back nearly 400 years, though the records of settlement and development do not begin until well into the eighteenth century.

"Hardly fifty years had elapsed after the discovery of the western continent by Columbus, when Hernando De Soto made his venturesome journeys of exploration into the fastnesses west of the Mississippi river. It is fairly well established that De Soto followed the waters of the Ouachita river in the month of March, 1542, in an endeavor to find his way back to the Father of Waters which he had crossed, six months previously, into what is now Arkansas. Historians are generally agreed that the River Anilco, which De Soto followed in his efforts to rediscover the Mississippi, was the stream that is now known as the Ouachita, a name given to it at a much later date by a tribe of Indians of the same name who inhabited the region.

"This Anilco tribe found by De Soto on the river Anilco, or Ouachita, was a prehistoric group of whom we know little, according to records of explorers who accompanied De Soto. There were several other tribes of the same prehistoric character, against whom the Spaniards had to wage war for supplies.

"This Anilco Indian village, at the present site of Jonesville, is the first we have any record of in this vicinity.

"These Indians appeared following De Soto's visit. We know nothing of what became of them. When Bienville arrived nearly 175 years later in the area now occupied by Louisiana, there were no tribes of this name or characteristics. Instead, there were Taensas, Cherokee, Choctaw, Natchez, some Ouachita and other Indians. The practices that were observed by the Anilcos, which included human sacrifices, had completely disappeared.

"Though De Soto had again found the Mississippi, his feat brought him little satisfaction. Physically and mentally sick over the disappointments of a profitless exploration journey, which he fondly had hoped would yield stores of fabled Indian treasures, he died in June, 1542, and his body was sunk in the waters of the Mississippi, probably at the point where Vidalia now stands."

New Club Reporters Are Given Hard Task

Keep The Copy Short, To The Point And Leave Out All The High-Flown Adjectives

Last week was a pretty difficult one, we imagine, for the new club reporter. It was also a difficult one for the editor, as she was forced to send back press notices which needed additional initials, dates and a few odds and ends like that.

In some cases the notices couldn't be sent back—they weren't signed with the name of the sender so there was nothing but the wastebasket for such.

Honestly, it isn't as hard as you might think. In reporting for the press there are only a few facts to bear in mind—the name of the organization, the day, the meeting place, the important person or persons (with two initials or the first name) and important facts, such as the subject under discussion, with the names of the speakers and so on. All material must be double-spaced and written on only one side of the paper.

Forget the decorations, forget the biographical obituary of your favorite speaker or your president. One fact is sufficient to identify your speaker and the president is the president, and that's all for her. She isn't going to, and in fact wouldn't want her name in print every time a club report is made—she ceases to be news after you've been meeting long enough.

Forget the adjectives. We know some fine ones but they are out of place in a club report. We must take it for granted that all homes in Monroe are "beautiful," "spacious" and "artistic" and every hostess is "beautifully gowned" and all food is "delicious."

The editor extends her sympathy to all club reporters. She is familiar with all the snares and pitfalls that befall the reporter. A name left out accidentally, the wrong initial, failing to stress the "delicious" food and the color of the hostesses' gowns have been known to bring down wrath upon the unsuspecting head of the writer. The editor also knows how hard it is to meet the deadline. If the news comes to you in advance, most certainly you could get it to us in time for publication. If it is to appear in Sunday's issue, the deadline is 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. If your fellow workers hold out on you, the problem, of course, becomes intricate for all concerned. Several articles, last week, failed to reach the editor's desk in time for Sunday's publication. If the article fails to appear, just remember that you were not living up to the requirements and the matter wasn't a personal one.

Speaking of things personal, we doubt if there is a single social editor who ever intentionally left out a name. Her work is impersonal, insofar as reporting is concerned. In many cases, subscribers have been known to say, "The society editor doesn't like me. She left my name out of the list of guests." However, the editor bears no grievances. Her one desire is to make friends, not enemies—to please everyone and to perform her duties to the very best of her ability. Even the angels can do no more.

The new club reporter is asked to bear in mind that all material must be "cut" more or less in an effort to get all reports in. It is not a personal matter. Space becomes a premium as the season advances and club work is in full swing. We are honestly trying to give the service desired without partiality and with no intention of favoring any one club. The reporter who submits the best material, naturally, gets first consideration.

Kindly spare us the telephone where a long list of names is concerned. It is well nigh impossible to get names and initials correctly over the telephone. In the case of personals, it is quite different. We appreciate the personals given over the telephone. In fact we urge subscribers to use this newspaper as a means of communication with friends who are interested in your daily activities. The editor appreciates, beyond words, the help subscribers give her in making the daily column one of interest to all concerned.

In short, we are anxious to give the best we have. In return, all we ask is your kind consideration, your cooperation and your indulgence. Working in harmony, one with the other, a happy and successful year is assured.

Guests of honor on this occasion were members of the Women's Department club of Oak Grove.

The American Legion hut was artistically decorated for this event with early fall flowers placed advantageously throughout the reception suite.

Standing in the receiving line were Mrs. W. C. Hudson and Mrs. E. O. Burnham, presidents of the two clubs, and Mesdames Maydie Everett, W. M. Yates, Donald Fiske, A. C. Monroe, C. H. Neely, W. McG. Dollerhide and W. Byargeon, past presidents of the clubs.

Dr. Fadra Wilson To Address P.-T. A. Here

Member Of State University Faculty To Speak At Sherrouse Meeting September 20

Dr. Fadra Holmes Wilson, associate professor of education in Louisiana State university, will speak to the Sherrouse P.-T. A. during the regular meeting September 20 at 3:15. Dr. Wilson's topic, "The Family Appraises Itself," is one that she is well able to discuss.

On several other occasions, Dr. Wilson has spoken to similar groups in Monroe. The Sherrouse P.-T. A. is looking forward enthusiastically to the meeting and is inviting, through this medium, all those who would like to attend.

The Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. held the initial meeting of the school year in the Barkdull Faulk auditorium Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Otis Cranford, president, called for the report of her executive committee meeting, which was given by the secretary, Mrs. C. E. Murphy. The year's budget was read and explained. The names of members of important committees were read and parents who had not yet made a choice of the group they wanted to work with for the year were asked to report either to the chairman of the committee chosen or to the secretary.

The president called for reports from committees that had already begun to function. Mrs. George Varino of the membership committee, Mrs. F. L. Jones of welfare, and Mrs. G. Stuart, treasurer, gave fine reports of work done.

Mrs. J. E. Bryan, chairman of the budget committee, was asked to outline her plans for the year's work. An explanation was made that at a recent meeting of the Twin City P.-T. A. council, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce had urged that P.-T. A. units confine their activities to the sponsoring of educational projects for children and adults of the community. He had stated that such undertakings would receive the wholehearted support of the business men of the community, he believed. The budget committee asked the entire P.-T. A. to join with them in sponsoring an educational project in line with plans which would receive community approval. The committee has chosen as such an undertaking the Children's Theater in the production of three plays during the winter months, "Rip Van Winkle," "Under the Lilacs," and "Aladdin." The parents were told something of the cast of artists who have dedicated their talents to these plays for children under the tutelage of Clare Tree Major, celebrated English actress. Parents were urged to have their children take advantage of the opportunity to see these plays, which are chosen because of their unconscious demonstration of high ideals. With such persons as William Lyons Phelps, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Jane Cowl, Helen Hayes, and Ernest Truex as patrons, parents could be assured of the excellence and educational value of the performances.

Mrs. H. W. Montgomery, chairman of the program committee, led a short open forum discussion on "Moving Forces in Changing Patterns for Group Living." Mrs. Gudger, Mrs. Cowden, Mrs. Bond, Mrs. Matthews, and others taking part in the discussions. Mrs. Montgomery told the parents that they could expect the year-book for the next meeting.

After the meeting a social hour in the cafeteria where delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Minard and members of her hospitality committee.

American Legion Auxiliary Meets

The L. B. Faulk unit No. 13, American Legion auxiliary, met Thursday evening at the legion home with the president, Mrs. T. C. Mahr, presiding. The meeting was opened with prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. J. T. Bryant. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Miss May Faulk.

This being the first meeting of the year, Mrs. Mahr announced the following appointments which were ratified: Membership, Mrs. H. L. Stamets; music, Mrs. Robert W. Cretney; rehabilitation, Mrs. Wayne Huckaby; hospitality, Mrs. Oscar Johnson; safety, Mrs. Graves Godwin; Americanism, Mrs. Alfred Reid; community service, Mrs. Charles M. Mitchell; poppy, Miss May Faulk.

Mrs. R. W. Cretney, music chairman, in charge of the program for the evening, said in part: "Sometimes I think we underestimate the influence and value of music in our lives. Music is the most primitive of all the arts, yet today it is one of the most highly developed of all the arts, because it is a perfect expression of the emotional epochs of mankind. Every period of history has its own type of music, reflecting the changes that occurred during that period of history. Music not only reflects history but it often makes history.

"Longfellow said, 'Music is the universal language of mankind.' There are comparatively few people who do not respond to some type of music. Van Dyke said of music: 'If we were suddenly to be deprived of this great life of joy, the world would undergo a kind of soul stagnation impossible to describe.'

"In joy or sorrow, love or hate we turn to music, and produce music. Someone has already predicted that swing music will decline, because of the war and the general unrest in the world, and that a more sentimental type of music will become popular. We ourselves can remember what an important part music played during the World war, and it is particularly fitting that the American Legion auxiliary, in its calendar of activities, has chosen the birth month of our national anthem, 'The Star Spangled Banner,' for especial emphasis on the inspirational power of music."

Miss Matthews Weds In Memphis

Friends of Miss Lorraine Matthews, formerly a popular member of Monroe's younger set, will read with affectionate interest the account of her wedding as it appeared in the Memphis Commercial Appeal:

"Pointed flames of tall white tapers in cathedral candelabra, white chrysanthemums against a background of green woodwardia and smilax and the soft rays of a late afternoon sun burnishing the gold and sage green gowns of the feminine attendants, formed a colorful setting for Miss Lorraine Newton Matthews as she walked down the aisle of Linden Avenue Christian church at 6 o'clock on Friday, September 8, to become the bride of Robert Mitchell Metcalf.

"Several hundred friends of the young couple and their families witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. Howard T. Wood.

"The bride, given in marriage by her father, Paul Porter Matthews, of Monroe, La., made an exquisite picture as she pledged her marriage vows. She wore a classic gown of lustrous ivory satin with quilting outlining the sweetheart neck, and fragile clouds of illusion billowing from a cap of Chantilly orange blossoms.

"The bride's attendants were Mrs. Eugene May of Johnson City, Tenn., matron of honor; Miss Doris Reid of Monroe, La., maid of honor; Miss Mary Churchill and Miss Nan Buckner of Monroe, bridesmaids, and Anne Marie Newton and Paula Newton, junior bridesmaids. Their gowns echoed a fall note in the off-green shade of Mrs. May's and Miss Reid's dresses and the rich gold of the others. Complimenting the tones in their costumes were their bouquets of yellow asters and roses, with tiny clusters of the roses caught in the ribbons on the bouquets of the maid and matron of honor.

"For the reception which followed at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. St. Elmo Newton, on Princeton road, the home was decorated with white gladioli and white asters.

"Mrs. Newton, wearing a gown of white lace, was glimpsed receiving guests near Mrs. Robert M. Metcalf, Sr., mother of the bridegroom, who wore orchid chiffon and was talking to Miss Elizabeth May of Birmingham, attired in gray and white tissue cloth.

"Mrs. St. Elmo Newton, Jr., wore a black dinner gown with a hood, trimmed in red, green and yellow plaid ribbon.

Member Of State University Faculty To Speak At Sherrouse Meeting September 20

Dr. Fadra Holmes Wilson, associate professor of education in Louisiana State university, will speak to the Sherrouse P.-T. A. during the regular meeting September 20 at 3:15. Dr. Wilson's topic, "The Family Appraises Itself," is one that she is well able to discuss.

On several other occasions, Dr. Wilson has spoken to similar groups in Monroe. The Sherrouse P.-T. A. is looking forward enthusiastically to the meeting and is inviting, through this medium, all those who would like to attend.

The Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. held the initial meeting of the school year in the Barkdull Faulk auditorium Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Otis Cranford, president, called for the report of her executive committee meeting, which was given by the secretary, Mrs. C. E. Murphy. The year's budget was read and explained. The names of members of important committees were read and parents who had not yet made a choice of the group they wanted to work with for the year were asked to report either to the chairman of the committee chosen or to the secretary.

The president called for reports from committees that had already begun to function. Mrs. George Varino of the membership committee, Mrs. F. L. Jones of welfare, and Mrs. G. Stuart, treasurer, gave fine reports of work done.

Mrs. J. E. Bryan, chairman of the budget committee, was asked to outline her plans for the year's work. An explanation was made that at a recent meeting of the Twin City P.-T. A. council, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce had urged that P.-T. A. units confine their activities to the sponsoring of educational projects for children and adults of the community. He had stated that such undertakings would receive the wholehearted support of the business men of the community, he believed. The budget committee asked the entire P.-T. A. to join with them in sponsoring an educational project in line with plans which would receive community approval. The committee has chosen as such an undertaking the Children's Theater in the production of three plays during the winter months, "Rip Van Winkle," "Under the Lilacs," and "Aladdin." The parents were told something of the cast of artists who have dedicated their talents to these plays for children under the tutelage of Clare Tree Major, celebrated English actress. Parents were urged to have their children take advantage of the opportunity to see these plays, which are chosen because of their unconscious demonstration of high ideals. With such persons as William Lyons Phelps, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Jane Cowl, Helen Hayes, and Ernest Truex as patrons, parents could be assured of the excellence and educational value of the performances.

Mrs. H. W. Montgomery, chairman of the program committee, led a short open forum discussion on "Moving Forces in Changing Patterns for Group Living." Mrs. Gudger, Mrs. Cowden, Mrs. Bond, Mrs. Matthews, and others taking part in the discussions. Mrs. Montgomery told the parents that they could expect the year-book for the next meeting.

A counting of parents resulted in Miss Breard's third grade getting the prize for attendance with 17 mothers present.

After the meeting a social hour in the cafeteria where delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Minard and members of her hospitality committee.

The hundreds of school children returning to classes for this new term give everyone in the community a trust to keep. Dependent on the adults for their food, clothing, health and education—these children actually entrust us with their lives. We realize how precious those little lives are, when a child in our own home is tossing, incoherent, feverishly ill, when an injury received at play threatens to develop complications. # 'Mutiny On The Bounty' Returns To Capitol Theater

Spectacular Film Plays For 2 Days

Clark Gable And Charles Laughton Starred In Epic Tale Of Sea

PROCLAIMED the greatest of all sea dramas, "Mutiny on the Bounty" returns today to the Capitol theater.

Aside from entertainment, it presents an authentic visual document of one of the most notable chapters of maritime history—the mutiny on the H. M. S. Bounty one hundred and fifty years ago.

In the annals of the sea there is no more fascinating story than that told of the Bounty which set sail from England in 1787, bound for Tahiti.

In charge was Lieutenant Bligh, a harsh taskmaster. Storms lengthened the voyage, food ran low and as Bligh's temper increased he raged at his underfed and embittered crew. The golden days that followed the arrival at Tahiti temporarily quieted his men, but shortly after the start of the return voyage Bligh's tyranny brought rebellion to the breaking point and his men rose in mutiny.

Then followed adventures that have never since had their equal in naval history; Bligh and his 18 loyal seamen sailing 4,000 miles in an open boat; escaped mutineers seeking refuge with their native wives; Bligh's return and the capture of several of the mutineers; another shipwreck and Bligh again in an open boat at the mercy of the sea on a 3,500-mile cruise; and the final naval court martial back in England with all its tragedy and faded hopes.

"Mutiny on the Bounty" faithfully follows the original British admiralty records and the sensational story written by Charles Nordhoff and James Norman Hall.

Irving Thalberg, producer of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," was at the producing helm.

Frank Lloyd, who filmed "Cavalcade" and the memorable "Sea Hawk," was the director.

Three of the greatest actors either on stage or screen head the cast of more than 50 featured players. They are Charles Laughton, as Captain Bligh; Clark Gable as Fletcher Christian, leader of the mutineers, and Franchot Tone as Midshipman Byam.

For the spectacular film, the original H. M. S. Bounty was recreated in exact detail from British admiralty plans to sail the Pacific ocean. A fleet of other sailing vessels, typical of the period, also was duplicated for the picture.

Clark Gable and Charles Laughton, in a scene from "Mutiny On the Bounty," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sea classic that is showing today and Monday at the Capitol theater. Franchot Tone and a cast of thousands, including exotic native girls of Tahiti, complete the dynamic cast.

'Goodbye, Mr. Chips' Plays At Paramount

Robert Donat And Greer Garson In Cast Of Film Opening Today

"GOODBYE, MR. CHIPS," picturization of James Hilton's novel, glorifying the school teachers of the world, is the attraction coming today to the Paramount theater. Based on one of the most widely read novels of modern times, the picture, filmed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in England, brings to the screen in the title role Robert Donat, who played in "The Citadel," and Greer Garson, beautiful new British actress, recently signed by the studio. Sam Wood, who filmed "Navy Blue and Gold" and "Lord Jeff," directed.

The story shows, through the eyes of a schoolmaster, the pageant of adolescence in a great school. Mr. Chipping, affectionately known as "Chips," becomes a teacher at an English public school as a young man and remains there the rest of his life. He meets and marries a beautiful girl whose death casts an aura of great kindness toward his fellowman about him. He becomes a tradition. Great men's destinies are shaped by him. Donat plays various ages from the twenties to past eighty in the dramatic story.

Football and cricket in noted English schools provide action. The rescue of the heroine on Tyrolese mountain top, a great ball in Vienna and a sensational air raid during the World war are among the dramatic highlights. A complete replica of an English school, one of the largest sets ever constructed outside of America, was built at the Denham studios for the production.

Two thousand English schoolboys appear in the picture, headed by Terry Kilburn, boy discovery of "Lord Jeff" and "A Christmas Carol." Victor Saville, famous British director-producer, was at the production helm.

BY ELINORE COWAN STONE

CHAPTER XVI

"Mrs. Talbert did not write this, sir," Jaspar declared as soon as he glanced over the letter which the inspector had handed him. "Someone forged it, apparently to throw suspicion on Miss Christine."

"But you are sure that Mrs. Talbert did write the note delivered to you the night of her disappearance?"

"Yes, sir. . . . I told you that for some time Mrs. Talbert had been anticipating an—emergency. If I may say so, sir, she seemed pleasantly excited by the idea. In preparation for it she had worked up a—a kind of code; and she had rehearsed me in it. It—"

"We'll go into the code later. Tell me what that note said."

"It said—on the face of it of course, sir—'Am called away on sudden business. Close house tonight; send servants on month's vacation with pay; have all services discontinued, and deliver keys to bank. Wait in Surf City for further instruction.' You see, sir, the trick was in the way she formed her letters. For instance, if she looped her 't's,' it meant, 'What I expected has happened'; and if—"

"Let's have the note," the inspector interrupted, "or what you understood from it."

"Well, what she wanted me to understand first, sir, was that that note had been dictated by someone else. I also gathered that she was being detained. But Mrs. Talbert must have been hurried or confused. For aside from that I could decode only two words. One was 'Boardwalk,' and the other—"

A motorcycle roared to a stop at the door, and an imperative knock sounded outside. Inspector Parsons said, "I'll attend to this," and went out into the hall.

When he returned he was briskly sorting a sheaf of reports.

"Go on," he prompted without looking up.

"It was the second word, sir, that was responsible for my having spent most of the next two days about the waterfront."

"And that word, of course, was 'boat,'" the inspector anticipated. "But that launch wasn't abandoned as the newspaper story said, Jaspar. The owner, Captain Parks, was aboard. He showed us a letter from Mrs. Talbert, engaging his boat for a deep-sea fishing trip, enclosing a check, signed by her, in partial payment, and instructing him to call at the Twenty-seventh street dock early this morning. . . . But long before that, Mrs. Talbert was dead."

For a moment Jaspar seemed too stunned for words.

"But, sir," he faltered at last, "Mrs. Talbert doesn't fish. She never wrote that letter of her own accord."

"I don't think so either. Yet some hours after the murder, Mrs. Talbert's car was located, empty and locked, at the Twenty-seventh street dock. Now, at the time when Mrs. Talbert's dead body was found, you were picked up on the beach with a key-holder in your hand.

"The key-holder turned out to belong to Mr. Yardley, who two hours before had been seen hiding in a car parked exactly where Mrs. Talbert's was found, waiting, so he said—for Miss Thorenson. Among the keys was the key to Mrs. Talbert's car. . . . And early last evening you rowed out to Captain King's launch and spent some time snooping around, even opening the chests the captain keeps on deck for fish."

"Yes, sir—because I gathered from Mrs. Talbert's note that she either was detained on a boat off the Boardwalk, or expected to be. . . . But I could see both cabins, and there wasn't any place where Mrs. Talbert could have been hidden. There was only one sailor, asleep on a bunk."

"But Captain King woke up in time," Inspector Parsons said, "to follow you to shore in his dinghy. . . . You are right about one thing, however: Mrs. Talbert never was on that boat."

Mr. Wilmet spoke for the first time, his round pink face puckered in bewilderment:

"But how can you be sure that Mrs. Talbert wasn't taken to that boat and murdered after this man was there? I understood from the newspaper that one pair of those footprints was hers."

"Miss Thorenson is evidently one woman who doesn't run to gossip. You had dinner with her, didn't you? . . . Those footprints, as I told her, did fit Mrs. Talberts, shoes. Not the ones she was wearing that night, but another pair, identical in measurements except for one slightly damaged heel."

Did he tell me that because he wanted it repeated? Christine wondered.

But the inspector was going on, each work dropping like the tinkle of ice. "Mrs. Talbert, it happens, was killed in a wheel chair, her body wheeled to the booth and left there. The coast guard found the chair under the edge of the Boardwalk not far away."

After a silence through which his words seemed to echo and re-echo, he went on, "The man who had been pushing that chair has confessed."

"Confessed?"

The voice of Chandra, who until now had remained thoughtfully aloof, rang out, sharply incredulous.

"Confessed," the inspector went on smoothly, "that the night before the murder, he had left his chair to join a dice game, and that when he went back to the place where it should have been, it was gone. When we found it, the number-plates of the company had been removed, so that, in a crowd, it might have passed for any private chair."

"But I should think," Bill said, "that the next tide would have carried the chair from beneath the walk and out to sea."

"That was what the murderer thought when he hoisted it over the railing. . . . Perhaps he was hurried at the last moment, or—" the inspector paused as if to inspect an idea—"perhaps he didn't know that except for a few times a year, with phenomenally high tides, the water doesn't come up under the walk at that particular point."

Christine said in a voice she hardly recognized as her own, "I thought the doctor said she must have been killed before 11:30. Up to that time, the Boardwalk was crowded."

"That's just the point, Miss Thorenson—the Boardwalk was crowded. And who, in a crowd like that, ever looks twice at the man pushing a wheel chair—or at the passenger. Besides, this was an enclosed chair with sunglass windows. The booth into which he wheeled the body to unload it was unlighted, and the point at which the chair was finally discarded is the darkest part of the promenade, where few people walk."

Jaspar asked, his face chalk white, "But how do you know that Mrs. Talbert was murdered in that chair?"

"Because," the inspector said, "in that chair we found fragments of the spectacles she had been wearing, and —various indications of violence. That letter to Captain King and the one to Miss Thorenson we found in Mrs. Talbert's purse—both probably forged as you have not failed to suggest—and those footprints—" Christine wondered why he glanced toward Bill Yardley—"were deliberate attempts to frustrate justice."

"If I'd been doing it," Bill put in, "I'd have looked to make sure the tide ordinarily came in that far, before I heaved the chair over."

Chandra said very softly, "I find it impossible to believe that he did not at least—try to see."

War Risk Policy Now Being Written

In keeping with its policy of providing insurance protection for every new hazard that arises, Gregg and McKenzie, 313 Harrison street, is now authorized to issue a war risk and bombardment policy.

This policy covers loss caused by war, invasion, civil war, insurrection, rebellion, revolution, military or usurped power, bombardment (military or naval), aerial craft (hostile or otherwise), while engaged in active war service during war times, including bombs, shells or missiles thrown or dropped therefrom or discharged thereat and fire and/or explosion directly caused by any of the foregoing.

The policy is non-cancellable for six months.

Gregg and McKenzie, the telephone number of which is 473, writes every form of insurance except life insurance. Having added the war risk and bombardment policy to its line, Gregg and McKenzie, an agency that has been doing business in Monroe since 1892, is now in a position to protect your property against virtually any hazard.

When you want the most effective coverage for the money you have available for insurance, telephone Gregg and McKenzie and a representative who has been fully trained in the insurance business will be sent to see you.

Get Your Tires Recapped Before Cost Advances

Numerous residents of Monroe and vicinity have found that one way to reduce the operating cost of their automobiles is to have their tires recapped by O. K. Rubber Welder, 2404 DeSiard street.

The ratio of difference between the cost of new tires and recapped tires, which give the same mileage as new tires, will remain the same as rubber advances. So now is the time, if your tires need recapping, to have the work done. O. K. Rubber Welder isn't going up on its prices until its present supply of rubber is exhausted.

If your tire carcasses are in good condition, O. K. Rubber Welder, the telephone number of which is 9233, will trade them in on recapped tires it has in stock, thus avoiding delay. However, if you prefer, you can have your own tires recapped.

All recapping work is guaranteed by O. K. Rubber Welder, as is its balanced repairing of damage tires. Every day, more and more people are finding that tires repaired and recapped by O. K. Rubber Welder will give the service the firm says they will.

Besides recapping and repairing tires, O. K. Rubber Welder handles both reconditioned and used tires. Presently, it has a good stock of 7.00-15 used tires for commercial trucks. These tires are described as being far above the average in used tires. Used tires handled by O. K. Rubber Welder may be had for as little as 50 cents each.

School Children Need Plenty Milk

If you want your children to do well during the current school year, give them plenty milk—before school, after school and at their various meals.

Milk, properly handled, is one of nature's most nourishing foods.

Particularly is the high grade milk distributed and sold by Swayze's dairy, located on the Milhaven road, nutritious. It has a heavy butter fat content and will give the most active youngster energy to spare.

The deep cream line on every bottle of milk from Swayze's dairy is an indication of the richness of the milk. The milk is obtained from one of the finest dairy herds you've ever seen and it is handled in a plant that measures up to the highest standards of sanitation.

Besides milk, Swayze's dairy distributes and sells cream, buttermilk and butter. All are of the same high grade as the milk. A trial will convince you.

Swayze's products are handled by your favorite food store. However, if you prefer them left at your home, just call telephone number 2948. The dairy operates route trucks in both Monroe and West Monroe.

Don't just call for milk when you are shopping for or ordering your groceries. Specify Swayze's high grade milk.

Facundus Restores Antique Furniture

Furniture made years ago is more substantial than that turned out today. For one thing, better materials were available.

Therefore, if you have any old pieces stored away in your attic, you should drag them out and have them reconditioned. You'll enjoy them more than your new furniture.

Facundus Furniture works, located at Seventh and Grammont streets, can make old pieces, no matter how badly they have been treated, look as good, if not better, than any new article of furniture you can buy.

Its experienced craftsmen know how to get down under those old stains and varnishes and bring out the natural beauty of the unsurpassed wood used in furniture of years ago. They know how to reproduce broken and lost parts, how to work out scars and disguise cracks—in fact, how to do everything that will make you marvel when a piece of furniture you have intrusted to them for reconditioning has been returned.

Restoration of antiques to their original splendor, altering of massive old pieces to fit modern homes and reproduction of pieces to complete sets are specialties with Facundus Furniture works, the telephone number of which is 124. The firm also engages in general furniture refinishing, furniture repairs and reupholstering.

All work is done with exactitude at Facundus Furniture works. Neither its proprietors nor its workmen are satisfied with anything being approximately right. They are artisans who are proud of their accomplishments and are more critical of their work than the patrons of the establishment.

Furniture reconditioned by Facundus Furniture works can be found in homes all over this area. In fact, it has done work for people living as far away as Canada.

Luther And Reed Does Specialized Brake Repair Work

As winter, with its rains and slippery pavement, approaches, motorists should think of the condition of their brakes. Good brakes are often the margin between life and death, safety and catastrophe.

The place to have your brakes put in top condition is Luther and Reed garage, operating at 236 South Grand street and at Central Service No. 2, on Jefferson, between North Second and North Third streets. Specialized brake work is one of the phases of automotive reconditioning in which the firm engages.

Too, when Luther and Reed garage reconditions the front end of your automobile, it steers easier and drives safer. The reconditioning includes the straightening and alignment of the axle, the overhauling of knee-action, the replacement of bushings and the elimination of slack in steering connections.

A car that steers easy and the wheels of which run true is a safe automobile. It goes where the operator intends that it should go.

That's the business of Luther and Reed garage — making automobiles safer for operation on the highway.

In addition to brake work and front end reconditioning, the establishment, at its two shops, engages in frame straightening and aligning, wheel straightening and aligning, hub straightening and in dynamic wheel balancing.

These operations not only result in easy operation in an automobile, but in economy. A car that runs true places less burden on its various mechanism and on its tires. Shimmying wheels are not only hazardous, they are the greatest enemies tires have. They eat up rubber and place a strain on tires that they were not designed to bear.

It is estimated by the Bureau of Public roads that more than 95 per cent of automobile trips made in the United States extend less than 50 miles from cities.

Royal Handles Full Stock Of Feeds For Hogs

Staf-O-Life 40 Per Cent Hog Supplement is a blend of selected proteins from both animal and vegetable sources. It efficiently supplies the essentials for growth and gain that are lacking in corn or other cereal grains or by-products. It contains the proper minerals for building strong bones into bigger and more rigid frames for better shaped carcasses.

Feed Staf-O-Life 40 Per Cent Hog Supplement as a balancer. It effectively supplements corn, soy beans, peanuts, wheat mill feeds and other grain products. It is a profitable practice to allow hogs free access to Staf-O-Life 40 Per Cent Hog Supplement when hogging down corn or corn and beans. In all these practices, a little goes a long way. It saves both corn and labor.

Staf-O-Life 40 Per Cent Hog Supplement is highly recommended by Royal Feed and Seed store, 812 DeSiard street, and it may be had there at all times, as can Sunrise Hog Ration, which gets hogs to market faster, and Staf-O-Life Pig Meal, which carries pigs quickly and economically through the growing stage.

The cost of maintaining hogs is reduced as the rate of gain is increased. The quicker the gain in hogs, the quicker the profit. Sunrise Hog Ration is a complete feed, containing a scientific blend of proteins from both animal and vegetable sources for uniform, rapid growth and plenty of lean meat and firm fat, well distributed. Its correctly proportioned minerals build strong bones and aid digestion. Fed straight or with corn, it is an economical producer of quality pork.

Murder on the Boardwalk

BY ELINORE COWAN STONE

CHAPTER XVI

"Mrs. Talbert did not write this, sir," Jaspar declared as soon as he glanced over the letter which the inspector had handed him. "Someone forged it, apparently to throw suspicion on Miss Christine."

"But you are sure that Mrs. Talbert did write the note delivered to you the night of her disappearance?"

"Yes, sir. . . . I told you that for some time Mrs. Talbert had been anticipating an—emergency. If I may say so, sir, she seemed pleasantly excited by the idea. In preparation for it she had worked up a—a kind of code; and she had rehearsed me in it. It—"

"We'll go into the code later. Tell me what that note said."

"It said—on the face of it of course, sir—'Am called away on sudden business. Close house tonight; send servants on month's vacation with pay; have all services discontinued; and deliver keys to bank. Wait in Surf City for further instruction.' You see, sir, the trick was in the way she formed her letters. For instance, if she looped her 't's,' it meant, 'What I expected has happened'; and if—"

"Let's have the note," the inspector interrupted, "or what you understood from it."

"Well, what she wanted me to understand first, sir, was that that note had been dictated by someone else. I also gathered that she was being detained. But Mrs. Talbert must have been hurried or confused. For aside from that I could decode only two words. One was 'Boardwalk,' and the other—"

A motorcycle roared to a stop at the door, and an imperative knock sounded outside. Inspector Parsons said, "I'll attend to this," and went out into the hall.

When he returned he was briskly sorting a sheaf of reports.

"Go on," he prompted without looking up.

"It was the second word, sir, that was responsible for my having spent most of the next two days about the waterfront."

"And that word, of course, was 'boat'," the inspector anticipated. "But that launch wasn't abandoned as the newspaper story said, Jaspar. The owner, Captain Parks, was aboard. He showed us a letter from Mrs. Talbert, engaging his boat for a deep-sea fishing trip, enclosing a check, signed by her, in partial payment, and instructing him to call at the Twenty-seventh street dock early this morning. . . . But long before that, Mrs. Talbert was dead."

For a moment Jaspar seemed too stunned for words.

"But, sir," he faltered at last, "Mrs. Talbert doesn't fish. She never wrote that letter of her own accord."

"I don't think so either. Yet some hours after the murder, Mrs. Talbert's car was located, empty and locked, at the Twenty-seventh street dock. Now, about the time when Mrs. Talbert's dead body was found, you were picked up on the beach with a key-holder in your hand.

"The key-holder turned out to belong to Mr. Yardley, who two hours before, had been seen hiding in a car parked exactly where Mrs. Talbert's was found, waiting—so he said—for Miss Thorenson. Among the keys was the key to Mrs. Talbert's car. . . . And early last evening you rowed out to Captain King's launch and spent some time snooping around, even opening the chests the captain keeps on deck for fish."

"Yes, sir—because I gathered from Mrs. Talbert's note that she either was detained on a boat off the Boardwalk, or expected to be. . . . But I could see both cabins, and there wasn't any place where Mrs. Talbert could have been hidden. There was only one sailor, asleep on a bunk."

"But Captain King woke up in time," Inspector Parsons said, "to follow you to shore in his dinghy. . . . You are right about one thing, however: Mrs. Talbert never was on that boat."

Mr. Wilmet spoke for the first time, his round pink face puckered in bewilderment:

"But how can you be sure that Mrs. Talbert wasn't taken to that boat and murdered after this man was there? I understood from the newspaper that one pair of those footprints was hers."

"Miss Thorenson is evidently one woman who doesn't run to gossip. You had dinner with her, didn't you? . . . Those footprints, as I told her, did fit Mrs. Talberts, shoes. Not the ones she was wearing that night, but another pair, identical in measurements except for one slightly damaged heel."

Did he tell me that because he wanted it repeated? Christine wondered.

But the inspector was going on, each work dropping like the tinkle of ice, "Mrs. Talbert, it happens, was killed in a wheel chair, her body wheeled to the booth and left there. The coast guard found the chair under the edge of the Boardwalk not far away."

After a silence through which his words seemed to echo and re-echo, he went on, "The man who had been pushing that chair has confessed."

"Confessed?"

The voice of Chandra, who until now had remained thoughtfully aloof, rang out, sharply incredulous.

"Confessed," the inspector went on smoothly, "that the night before the murder, he had left his chair to join a dice game, and that when he went back to the place where it should have been, it was gone. When we found it, the number-plates of the company had been removed, so that, in a crowd, it might have passed for any private chair."

"But I should think," Bill said, "that the next tide would have carried the chair from beneath the walk and out to sea."

"That was what the murderer thought when he hoisted it over the railing. . . . Perhaps he was hurried at the last moment, or—" the inspector paused as if to inspect an idea—"perhaps he didn't know that except for a few times a year, with phenomenally high tides, the water doesn't come up under the walk at that particular point."

Christine said in a voice she hardly recognized as her own, "I thought the doctor said she must have been killed before 11:30. Up to that time, the Boardwalk was crowded."

"That's just the point, Miss Thorenson—the Boardwalk was crowded. And who, in a crowd like that, ever looks twice at the man pushing a wheel chair—or at the passenger. Besides, this was an enclosed chair with sunglass windows. The booth into which he wheeled the body to unload it was unlighted, and the point at which the chair was finally discarded is the darkest part of the promenade, where few people walk."

Jaspar asked, his face chalk white, "But how do you know that Mrs. Talbert was murdered in that chair?"

"Because," the inspector said, "in that chair we found fragments of the spectacles she had been wearing, and—various indications of violence. That letter to Captain King and the one to Miss Thorenson we found in Mrs. Talbert's purse—both probably forged as you have not failed to suggest—and those footprints—" Christine wondered why he glanced toward Bill Yardley—"were deliberate attempts to frustrate justice."

"If I'd been doing it," Bill put in, "I'd have looked to make sure the tide ordinarily came in that far, before I heaved the chair over."

Chandra said very softly, "I find it impossible to believe that he did not at least—try to see."

In keeping with its policy of providing insurance protection for every new hazard that arises, Gregg and McKenzie, 313 Harrison street, is now authorized to issue a war risk and bombardment policy.

This policy covers loss caused by war, invasion, civil war, insurrection, rebellion, revolution, military or usurped power, bombardment (military or naval), aerial craft (hostile or otherwise), while engaged in active war service during war times, including bombs, shells or missiles thrown or dropped therefrom or discharged thereat and fire and/or explosion directly caused by any of the foregoing.

The policy is non-cancellable for six months.

Gregg and McKenzie, the telephone number of which is 473, writes every form of insurance except life insurance. Having added the war risk and bombardment policy to its line, Gregg and McKenzie, an agency that has been doing business in Monroe since 1892, is now in a position to protect your property against virtually any hazard.

Get Your Tires Recapped Before Cost Advances

The price of rubber is increasing. New tires are advancing in cost. That's another by-product of the European war.

Numerous residents of Monroe and vicinity have found that one way to reduce the operating cost of their automobiles is to have their tires recapped by O. K. Rubber Welder, 2404 DeSiard street.

The ratio of difference between the cost of new tires and recapped tires, which give the same mileage as new tires, will remain the same as rubber advances. So now is the time, if your tires need recapping, to have the work done. O. K. Rubber Welder isn't going up on its prices until its present supply of rubber is exhausted.

If your tire carcasses are in good condition, O. K. Rubber Welder, the telephone number of which is 9233, will trade them in on recapped tires it has in stock, thus avoiding delay. However, if you prefer, you can have your own tires recapped.

All recapping work is guaranteed by O. K. Rubber Welder, as is its balanced repairing of damage tires. Every day, more and more people are finding that tires repaired and recapped by O. K. Rubber Welder will give the service the firm says they will.

The O. K. Rubber Welder's work is superior because the new rubber is welded to the old, not vulcanized.

Besides recapping and repairing tires, O. K. Rubber Welder handles both reconditioned and used tires. Presently, it has a good stock of 7.00-15 used tires for commercial trucks. These tires are described as being far above the average in used tires. Used tires handled by O. K. Rubber Welder may be had for as little as 50 cents each.

Italian Spaghetti Will Whet Appetite

Has your appetite become jaded during the recent spell of hot weather? Then now is the time, with a fall tinge in the air after sundown, to try that delicious Italian spaghetti for which Ladart's Spaghetti garden, 815 Park avenue, is famous.

You can take your choice—either chicken with spaghetti or meat balls with spaghetti. Either is a dish to whet the most sluggish appetite.

Ladart's Spaghetti garden, the telephone number of which is 3852, is prepared to serve 20 orders of Italian spaghetti daily. Quantity orders, on which special prices are offered, can be prepared on short notice.

With Ladart's Italian spaghetti available, you need never worry about unexpected guests. They'll go for either the chicken and spaghetti or meat balls and spaghetti as something distinctly different.

And speaking of something different, have you ever tried the wop salad prepared by Ladart's Spaghetti garden? It supplements the Italian spaghetti like nothing else can.

Both tables and booths are maintained by Ladart's Spaghetti garden for its patrons. Moreover, curb service is available there for motorists who prefer to be served in their cars.

In addition to Italian spaghetti and wop salad, Ladart's Spaghetti garden serves sandwiches of all kinds. Too, beer and soft drinks may be had there.

School Children Need Plenty Milk

If you want your children to do well during the current school year, give them plenty milk—before school, after school and at their various meals.

Milk, properly handled, is one of nature's most nourishing foods.

Particularly is the high grade milk distributed and sold by Swayze's dairy, located on the Milhaven road, nutritious. It has a heavy butter fat content and will give the most active youngster energy to spare.

The deep cream line on every bottle of milk from Swayze's dairy is an indication of the richness of the milk. The milk is obtained from one of the finest dairy herds you've ever seen and it is handled in a plant that measures up to the highest standards of sanitation.

Besides milk, Swayze's dairy distributes and sells cream, buttermilk and butter. All are of the same high grade as the milk. A trial will convince you.

Swayze's products are handled by your favorite food store. However, if you prefer them left at your home, just call telephone number 2948. The dairy operates route trucks in both Monroe and West Monroe.

Don't just call for milk when you are shopping for or ordering your groceries. Specify Swayze's high grade milk.

No better pole trailers, which are particularly adapted to logging purposes, are built than those manufactured in West Monroe by Frost Trailer and Supply company, located at 1214 Cypress street.

Facundus Restores Antique Furniture

Furniture made years ago is more substantial than that turned out today. For one thing, better materials were available.

Therefore, if you have any old pieces stored away in your attic, you should drag them out and have them reconditioned. You'll enjoy them more than your new furniture.

Facundus Furniture works, located at Seventh and Grammont streets, can make old pieces, no matter how badly they have been treated, look as good, if not better, than any new article of furniture you can buy.

Its experienced craftsmen know how to get down under those old stains and varnishes and bring out the natural beauty of the unsurpassed wood used in furniture of years ago. They know how to reproduce broken and lost parts, how to work out scars and disguise cracks—in fact, how to do everything that will make you marvel when a piece of furniture you have intrusted to them for reconditioning has been returned.

Restoration of antiques to their original splendor, altering of massive old pieces to fit modern homes and reproduction of pieces to complete sets are specialties with Facundus Furniture works, the telephone number of which is 124. The firm also engages in general furniture refinishing, furniture repairs and reupholstering.

All work is done with exactitude at Facundus Furniture works. Neither its proprietors nor its workmen are satisfied with anything being approximately right. They are artisans who are proud of their accomplishments and are more critical of their work than the patrons of the establishment.

Furniture reconditioned by Facundus Furniture works can be found in homes all over this area. In fact, it has done work for people living as far away as Canada.

Luther And Reed Does Specialized Brake Repair Work

As winter, with its rains and slippery pavement, approaches, motorists should think of the condition of their brakes. Good brakes are often the margin between life and death, safety and catastrophe.

The place to have your brakes put in top condition is Luther and Reed garage, operating at 236 South Grand street and at Central Service No. 2, on Jefferson, between North Second and North Third streets. Specialized brake work is one of the phases of automotive reconditioning in which the firm engages.

Too, when Luther and Reed garage reconditions the front end of your automobile, it steers easier and drives safer. The reconditioning includes the straightening and alignment of the axle, the overhauling of knee-action, the replacement of bushings and the elimination of slack in steering connections.

A car that steers easy and the wheels of which run true is a safe automobile. It goes where the operator intends that it should go.

That's the business of Luther and Reed garage—making automobiles safer for operation on the highway.

In addition to brake work and front end reconditioning, the establishment, at its two shops, engages in frame straightening and aligning, wheel straightening and aligning, hub straightening and in dynamic wheel balancing.

These operations not only result in easy operation in an automobile, but in economy. A car that runs true places less burden on its various mechanism and on its tires. Shimmying wheels are not only hazardous, they are the greatest enemies tires have. They eat up rubber and place a strain on tires that they were not designed to bear.

It is estimated by the Bureau of Public roads that more than 95 per cent of automobile trips made in the United States extend less than 50 miles from cities.

Royal Handles Full Stock Of Feeds For Hogs

When given free choice in self feeders of a protein concentrate and grain, hogs have a remarkable ability to balance their own rations. Supply them with a scientifically blended protein concentrate that is highly palatable and efficient.

Staf-O-Life 40 Per Cent Hog Supplement is a blend of selected proteins from both animal and vegetable sources. It efficiently supplies the essentials for growth and gain that are lacking in corn or other cereal grains or by-products. It contains the proper minerals for building strong bones into bigger and more rigid frames for better shaped carcasses.

Feed Staf-O-Life 40 Per Cent Hog Supplement as a balancer. It effectively supplements corn, soy beans, peanuts, wheat mill feeds and other grain products. It is a profitable practice to allow hogs free access to Staf-O-Life 40 Per Cent Hog Supplement when hogging down corn or corn and beans. In all these practices, a little goes a long way. It saves both corn and labor.

Staf-O-Life 40 Per Cent Hog Supplement is highly recommended by Royal Feed and Seed store, 812 DeSiard street, and it may be had there at all times, as can Sunrise Hog Ration, which gets hogs to market faster, and Staf-O-Life Pig Meal, which carries pigs quickly and economically through the growing stage.

The cost of maintaining hogs is reduced as the rate of gain is increased. The quicker the gain in hogs, the quicker the profit. Sunrise Hog Ration is a complete feed, containing a scientific blend of proteins from both animal and vegetable sources for uniform, rapid growth and plenty of lean meat and firm fat, well distributed. Its correctly proportioned minerals build strong bones and aid digestion. Fed straight or with corn, it is an economical producer of quality pork.

Staf-O-Life Pig Meal is good for both sows and pigs. Pigs take to it readily at weaning time and continue to gain steadily and thrive on it. It builds sturdy frames and healthy bodies and reduces disease hazards by keeping pigs in top condition.

"Matter" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 17, 1939. The golden text is: "My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart and my portion for ever" (Psalms 73:26). Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "All nations before him are as nothing; and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity" (Isa. 40:17). The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "As God Himself is good and is Spirit, goodness and spirituality must be immortal. Their opposites, evil and matter, are mortal error, and error has no creator" (p. 277).

PUBLIC FORUM

To the Editor:

In commenting on your editorial of August 2[illegible], 1939, "Why Investment Lags," I believe it is well to stress the facts which are evident to all, viz: that our economic situation is far from functioning normally, together with suggestions as to cause and remedy of trouble.

It has long been the belief of the majority of the people that our economic ills are due to an inadequate currency. My first recollection concerning such belief was when William Jennings Bryan ran for president on platform of free silver—16 to 1—as a cure for lack of currency. Out of this agitation was born the federal reserve bank which, in spite of predictions of dire calamity by leading bankers, has cured the lack of currency.

So we now turn our attention to another phase which is very evident, viz: bank deposits increasing without a corresponding increase in loans, causing a piling up of money and now being called idle money. Banks claim, and truly so, that they care for all loans that are good banking loans. We turn our attention to the man who has money to invest and does not do so, but lets it remain in banks.

As you stated in your editorial, "Sound situations are not now seeking capital," and I might add, according to Babson's statement, a good business expands by using its own earnings; and other statistics, statements, etc., available to all, including Brookings institute, together with common observation piles up a preponderance of evidence to an open mind, that it is a lack of any need for this surplus by those who are entitled to borrow. A further study will lead to the conclusion that the only reason investments lag is because, believe it or not, there is no place for new investments sufficient to care for the increasing savings, and when this fact becomes generally recognized—that we are taking more out of income for savings and investments than we can use—then and not until then can a remedy be found and applied.

JUDGE UPHOLDS AAA VALIDITY

Marketing Quotas Opinion Of Interest To Many In This Section

Of interest to cotton farmers in this section is the recent opinion of Judge James V. Allred of the United States district court for the southern district of Texas in upholding the validity of the cotton marketing quota provisions of the agricultural adjustment act of 1938, a summary of which has been received here by I. E. Lucas, Ouachita parish administrative assistant of the AAA.

The validity of the cotton marketing quota provisions was challenged by J. A. Troppy, a cotton farmer of Willacy county, Texas, in a suit brought against gin companies to recover money collected from him by the companies as a penalty upon cotton sold by him to the gin companies in excess of his farm marketing quotas.

The quotas validity was challenged upon the grounds that the quotas did not constitute a regulation of marketing but were a regulation of production, and that the sales of Troppy's cotton to the ginners were not interstate transactions but purely local, and as such were not subject to regulation by congress. No question of the fairness of the quotas was raised.

The United States intervened as a defendant in the suit for the purpose of defending the constitutional validity of the marketing quota provisions of the act.

The court took an opposing view to that of Troppy that the marketing quota provisions sought to control production. The opinion of Judge Allred held that the act purported to be solely a regulation of interstate commerce and [illegible] not be construed to be an effort by congress to control production.

The court also overruled the plaintiff's contention that the sales involved in this case were purely local, and did not [illegible] interstate commerce necessary for a regulation of them by congress. The decision recognized the fact that in many instances two or more sales occur before the cotton enters upon the technical stream of commerce, but held that the delivery is so great that the finding of congress that American cotton is [illegible] market and moves from the place of production almost entirely in interstate and foreign commerce was justified.

Judge Allred concluded his opinion with the statement that "there being no clear showing of unconstitutionality this court has no right to substitute its judgment for that of the congress. The challenged provisions of the act are constitutional."

MATERNITY CLINIC IS HELP TO MANY

Care Has Been Provided 95 Expectant Mothers Up To Present Time

The records of the Monroe Maternity Welfare clinic, sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America with the cooperation of the Louisiana state board of health, show that, through the aid of the Twin City Community Chest, a large number of expectant mothers have been enabled to share in the services offered by the institution.

Besides obtaining new and comfortable quarters, the clinic has, up to the present time this year, cared for 95 expectant mothers. It has provided for 44 deliveries in homes and 14 at a hospital. All abnormal patients and those whose home facilities are inadequate are sent to St. Francis sanitarium for delivery.

In some instances where patients have been unable to obtain proper food and necessary medication, the clinic has been able to supply them. It has supplied expectant and new mothers with layettes, grocery orders, milk, baby food and other things.

"The care and instruction given expectant mothers is far-reaching in its results," according to an official of the clinic. "It awakens in them a great interest and knowledge, not only in their own physical and mental welfare but in the lives of the future citizens of the community and in the importance of protecting and improving those lives. Better community health results from medical care for expectant mothers."

One of the important activities of the clinic is its Mothers' club classes. Instruction in maternal and child health are not confined to the clinic proper, however, but is available to any expectant mother in Monroe, West Monroe and Ouachita parish who is referred to the clinic by her physician or midwife.

The instructions of Mothers' club classes are conducted by the supervisor of maternal and child health and are extended into rural areas through the cooperation of the Red Cross in its hygiene program. A total of 141 persons have been reached in this manner.

The instructions are offered for the purpose of bettering humanity in general and the future generation in particular. With this in mind, the clinic extended its instructions to 40 NYA girls during the summer. If the need is felt, the classes will be made available in local high schools and the college here.

The clinic was recently visited by Dr. Virginia Webb, state director of maternal and child health. Her favorable comment on its work was a source of encouragement to its sponsors.

PREPARING FOR OUACHITA FAIR

Grounds Being Put In Shape For Annual Event Starting October 2

The fair grounds in West Monroe are rapidly being put in shape for the Ouachita Valley fair, which opens there October 2.

The old board fence along the front of the grounds has been replaced with a six-foot cyclone wire fence and the livestock and cattle barn has been lengthened 120 feet. It was formerly 65 feet long. Pens have been added for hogs and more room will be available for poultry.

The main exhibition hall, with its 9,000 feet of floor space, now has a concrete floor and modern rest rooms have been added.

Better eating facilities are being planned and one of the best carnival companies operating in this area has been obtained for the duration of the fair.

The rodeo to be presented in connection with the fair will give the first of its five performances October 4. A horse show in which Monroe and West Monroe horsewomen will compete is an added attraction of the rodeo this year.

October 5 has been designated Farmers' day at the fair and Harry D. Wilson, state commissioner of agriculture, will be on hand to deliver an address.

The boys and girls of the Louisiana Baptist Children's home and the boys of Louisiana Training institute will be the guests of the fair October 6.

Officials of the fair are exerting every effort to make the fair this year bigger and better than ever. It will continue until October 8.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Matter" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 17, 1939. The golden text is: "My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever" (Psalms 73:26). Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "All nations before him are as nothing; and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity" (Isa. 40:17). The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "As God Himself is good and is Spirit, goodness and spirituality must be immortal. Their opposites, evil and matter, are mortal error, and error has no creator" (p. 277).

Meditation: A House to Let! Your life and mine that day we decide to make a right-about-face. I will break from debasing companions, shady thoughts, bad old habits. A clean sweep! Good! But what now? Well, the operation has been strenuous. Why not rest awhile? I feel clean, and have time to look around. Perhaps I can take up a few innocent hobbies. There are interesting clubs and societies a person can join. True, they are sub-Christian but they are "moral" and well approved. They reform something or prehaps they oppose certain reforms. I might put my time studying the heresies of the church. Or there is a party inviting me to prove that all brands of Christians are mistaken and must be rooted out. If I threw my whole soul into it, that would be religious work, wouldn't it! Jesus says: "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in—." The public is cordially invited to attend services in Grace church. The church is open daily from 7:30 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Jackson At Wood Street
'The Church With The Lighted Steeple'
Walter C. Scott, Minister

"A Christian owes it to the community to move through the streets on Sunday morning toward the house of God. Every face turned churchward on Sunday morning leaves an impression on the life of the town. If no one went to church and every one glued his ear to the radio, public worship would vanish and spiritual Christianity would gradually fade away. Religion is a social thing, and in its Christian form it is impossible for it to survive if men hold aloof from one another. "Forsake not the assembling of yourselves together' is an old exhortation which all generations would do well to heed."—Dr. Charles E. Jefferson. You are cordially invited to worship with us at all services. At the 11 o'clock hour the minister will speak on the subject, "The Great Church." Evening services are held at 7:30. The Women's Missionary society will meet at the church Tuesday evening at 7:30 for the monthly program meeting presented by the Julia Reid circle.

PUBLIC FORUM

To the Editor:

In commenting on your editorial of August 28, 1939, "Why Investment Lags," I believe it is well to stress the facts which are evident to all, viz.: that our economic situation is far from functioning normally, together with suggestions as to cause and remedy of trouble.

It has long been the belief of the majority of the people that our economic ills are due to an inadequate currency. My first recollection concerning such belief was when William Jennings Bryan ran for president on platform of free silver—16 to 1—as a cure for lack of currency. Out of this agitation was born the federal reserve bank which, in spite of predictions of dire calamity by leading bankers, has cured the lack of currency.

So we now turn our attention to another phase which is very evident, viz.: bank deposits increasing without a corresponding increase in loans, causing a piling up of money and now being called idle money. Banks claim, and truly so, that they care for all loans that are good banking loans. We turn our attention to the man who has money to invest and does not do so, but lets it remain in banks.

As you stated in your editorial, "Sound situations are not now seeking capital," and I might add, according to Babson's statement, a good business expands by using its own earnings; and other statistics, statements, etc., available to all, including Brookings institute, together with common observation piles up a preponderance of evidence to an open mind, that it is a lack of any need for this surplus by those who are entitled to borrow. A further study will lead to the conclusion that the only reason investments lag is because, believe it or not, there is no place for new investments sufficient to care for the increasing savings, and when this fact becomes generally recognized—that we are taking more out of income for savings and investments than we can use—then and not until then can a remedy be found and applied.

JUDGE UPHOLDS AAA VALIDITY

Marketing Quotas Opinion Of Interest To Many In This Section

Of interest to cotton farmers in this section is the recent opinion of Judge James V. Allred of the United States district court for the southern district of Texas in upholding the validity of the cotton marketing quota provisions of the agricultural adjustment act of 1938, a summary of which has been received here by I. E. Lucas, Ouachita parish administrative assistant of the AAA.

The validity of the cotton marketing quota provisions was challenged by J. A. Troppy a cotton farmer of Willacy county, Texas, in a suit brought against gin companies to recover money collected from him by the companies as a penalty upon cotton sold by him to the gin companies in excess of his farm marketing quotas.

The quotas validity was challenged upon the grounds that the quotas did not constitute a regulation of marketing but were a regulation of production and that the sales of Troppy's cotton to the ginners were not interstate transactions but purely local and as such were not subject to regulation by congress. No question of the fairness of the quotas was raised.

The United States intervened as a defendant in the suit for the purpose of defending the constitutional validity of the marketing quota provisions of the act.

The court took an opposing view to that of Troppy that the marketing quota provisions sought to control production. The opinion of Judge Allred held that the act purported to be solely a regulation of interstate commerce and could not be construed to be an effort by congress to control production.

The court also overruled the plaintiff's contention that the sales involved in this case were purely local and did not the relation to interstate commerce necessary for a regulation of them by congress. The decision recognized the fact that, in many instances, two or more sales occur before the cotton enters "upon the technical stream of commerce" but held that the delay was so slight that the finding of congress that American cotton is "sold on a world-wide market and moves from the place of production almost entirely in interstate and foreign commerce" was justified.

Judge Allred concluded his opinion with the statement that "there being no clear showing of unconstitutionality, this court has no right to substitute its judgment for that of the congress. The challenged provisions of the act are constitutional."

Care Has Been Provided 95 Expectant Mothers Up To Present Time

The records of the Monroe Maternity Welfare clinic, sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America with the cooperation of the Louisiana state board of health, show that, through the aid of the Twin City Community Chest, a large number of expectant mothers have been enabled to share in the services offered by the institution.

Besides obtaining new and comfortable quarters, the clinic has, up to the present time this year, cared for 95 expectant mothers. It has provided for 44 deliveries in homes and 14 at a hospital. All abnormal patients and those whose home facilities are inadequate are sent to St. Francis sanitarium for delivery.

In some instances where patients have been unable to obtain proper food and necessary medication, the clinic has been able to supply them. It has supplied expectant and new mothers with layettes, grocery orders, milk, baby food and other things.

"The care and instruction given expectant mothers is far-reaching in its results," according to an official of the clinic. "It awakens in them a great interest and knowledge, not only in their own physical and mental welfare, but in the lives of the future citizens of the community and in the importance of protecting and improving those lives. Better communty health results from medical care for expectant mothers."

One of the important activities of the clinic is its Mothers' club classes. Instruction in maternal and child health are not confined to the clinic proper, however, but is available to any expectant mother in Monroe, West Monroe and Ouachita parish who is referred to the clinic by her physician or midwife.

The instructions of Mothers' club classes are conducted by the supervisor of maternal and child health and are extended into rural areas through the cooperation of the Red Cross in its hygiene program. A total of 141 persons have been reached in this manner.

The instructions are offered for the purpose of bettering humanity in general and the future generation in particular. With this in mind, the clinic extended its instructions to 40 NYA girls during the summer. If the need is felt, the classes will be made available in local high schools and the college here.

A number of patients receiving care at the clinic are young women assuming for the first time the obligations of motherhood.

The clinic was recently visited by Dr. Virginia Webb, state director of maternal and child health. Her favorable comment on its work was a source of encouragement to its sponsors.

TO START SEPTEMBER 18

The winter session of the Southern university extension school here will start Monday at the colored High school, according to an announcement received by its principal, M. J. Foster, from L. R. Posey, manager of the extension division of the university. The classes will be conducted by Professor Pertee.
